JUNE, 1970

Dear Friends:

As we have learned in recent years, each 12 months of music industry activitity is a period of marked change and evolution. Obviously, the industry has attached particular significance to the past year, since it came on the eve of a new decade. And, fittingly, we enter the 1970's with innovations on the horizon, almost ready to be presented to the consumer. One of these, of course, is the development of the audio/visual cartridge for home use, a system that will add a new dimension to home entertainment utilizing TV sets presently in use. One of the challenges facing the industry -- and it should be met right now -- is how to employ effectively the creative talents that flow from an aural entertainment into a audio/visual package that will excite the recording fan. And, too, we must not forget the business of the music business -- the means, from record company to wholesaler to retailer, through which the consumer finally gets his hands on today's great entertainment buy, the disk or tape.

Cash Box Magazine, completing its 28th year as a trade publication dedicated to the healthy progress of the music industry, is entering the 1970's with its own program for growth to enhance its ability to accurately reflect the business on all levels. As the business evolves, so must we adapt to an industry that requires and demands greater sophistication and reliability of reporting.

We believe we will continue to be deserving of your support. The staff of Cash Box and I are ever grateful for your past support and kind words about Cash Box' own evolution.

® "COLUMBIA," MARCAS REG. PRINTED IN U.S.A.

The rock heard round the world.

olumbia Records is in the business of aking records. But we believe that ecordings alone aren't enough. Artists and udience belong together.

That's why Columbia Records and CBS nternational recently embarked on a two-day ock fest in London's prestigious Albert Hall, resenting five outstanding groups who had ever before appeared in Europe.

A measure of the success of Columbia's enture is this comment from England's ecord Retailer:

"The Sounds of the 70's concerts were ighly successful. It's a venture that could well be followed by other companies and serves to emphasize once more that CBS has one of the strongest contemporary catalogues in the industry."

And remarks like these from leading British music magazines about the Albert Hall performances:

"Winter, the albino Texas blues singer of amazing instrumental facility and a voice injected with raw power."

"Flock started brilliantly with 'Introduction,' a number from their album."

"Taj Mahal has a big reputation and his fans include Eric Clapton, Peter Frampton and Mick Jagger."

"Santana managed to excite a presumably heavy rock audience . . . a superb rhythm section."

"Exciting arrangements, sharp professionalism and musicianship made It's A Beautiful Day a beautiful band."

But the Sounds of the 70's is only part. Columbia artists like Simon & Garfunkel, Janis Joplin, Chicago and Leonard Cohen have toured Europe to tumultuous audiences and press. For his first concert appearance in two years, Bob Dylan chose the Isle of Wight Festival. Blood, Sweat & Tears will appear at Albert Hall in July. And the list goes on.

No doubt, where Columbia leads, others will follow. But we're proud of that leadership. And we'll continue to use it to add to the excitement and development of contemporary music.

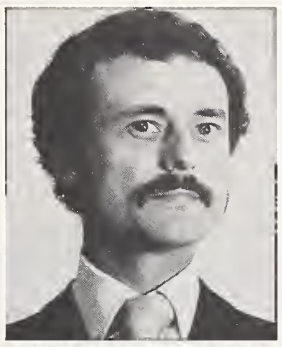
5 Years, and some changes at Warner/Reprise

Mo Ostin Once a conservative CPA-type specializing in recordings by Sinatra-Martin-& Co., he's now Warner/Reprise's president. He also is rumored secretly to have burned his once extensive collection of Nehru shirts.

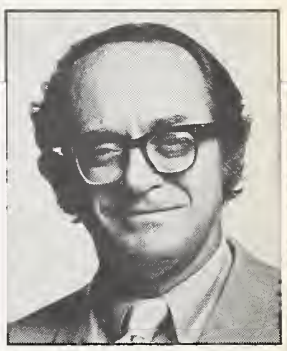


Ian Ralfini A slender English lad who discarded the once-seemingly-inevitable bowler hat for fetching sideburns and the spectacularly successful (and only a year old) Warner Bros. Records of England, Ltd.

Joe Smith In a former incarnation, Joe was Boston's top-forty DJ king slamming it to the kids over WBZ. He's come along, and now rates as Exec. VP for the company. A just reward for co-existing five years with The Grateful Dead.

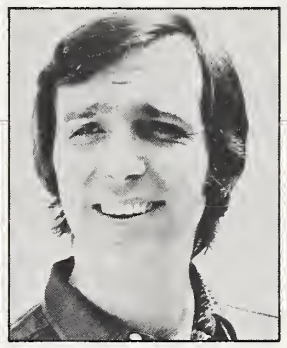
Clyde Bakkemo Earlier, Clyde was an L.A. promo man in a shiny sharkskin, touting our Connie Stevens singles. Since, he's become Assistant General Manager for the Warner Bros. label. And more relaxed.

Hal Halverstadt Once a cherubic opera fanatic and editor of a New York magazine aimed at pot throwers, Hal now heads our merchandising forces, and has forsaken Callas for Miss Mercy of The GTO's.



Joel Friedman Marketing VP for Warners now, and handsomely ruffled o'er his collar, Friedman in earlier days lived in a modest tract home in the San Fernando Valley. Now he refers to Phil Ochs as something of a right-winger.

Ed Thrasher Years back, Ed was doing all those smiling Jackie Gleason-Al Martino covers for Capitol. Since the revolution, our shaggy Art Director seems more at home with Arlo Guthrie and Neil Young. He's even beginning to resemble them.



Don Schmitzerle A while back, Don was our on-the-streets promo guy in Detroit, swilling rum-and-cokes with the Motor City's influenceable DJs. Well, Don just came back from vacation with a face full of hair, the better to resemble his job as Assistant General Manager for Reprise.

Ed West When sideburns started lengthening in the office of our erstwhile Treasurer, the Harry Fox auditors started looking a little more nervous. No matter. He'll always be Honest Ed to us.

Ron Saul In high school, our National Promo Man had stylishly crew cut locks, and danced a lot to Chubby Checker records. Lately, his hair has blossomed into handsome loops under the stimulus of such shaggies as Norman Greenbaum and The Fugs.

Phil Rose Our international veep, Rose came to Burbank from Canada, where his super-straight reputation had once made him matinee idol of his college drama society. He currently is active explaining Frank Zappa to our South America licensees.

Stan Cornyn Often referred to in the past as "Prof" by the teenage girls he assaulted, Creative Services veep sprouted shaggy after an early trip to Golden Gate Park, where he learned that academics is not everything. He then took up writing saucy ads and wearing breath-takingly tight pants.

Keeping up with the times is not all hair. Totally hairless, the men at Warner/Reprise would still be ahead of the game. It is for that reason that their record labels are in many circles referred to as THE GOLD DUST TWINS.

The Millard Agency presents:

SANTANA
"SANTANA played to an almost continuous standing ovation..."—Village Voice. (Columbia)

Have Your Own Dave Mason Hangup

Dave Mason Alone Together on Blue Thumb Records. A great new album — a great new packaging concept. The Kangaroopac, a fold-out package which becomes a die-cut poster and in-store display piece features a colored vinyl record. Exciting musically and visually. See it — hear it — hang it. Alone Together on Blue Thumb Records and Tapes.

Kangaroopac Patent Pending.

When people go around saying "we're number one"... consider the source.

We go around saying it all the time. When you consider the source (or the sources) that we go to for Ampex music . . . it figures we'd be Number One.

In less than 4 years Ampex has become one of the largest complexes in the entertainment field. We're in stereo tape, in records, in independent musical production, and we're on the Broadway stage. Ampex produces music, reproduces it, bankrolls it, distributes it, promotes it, advertises it, and does more than anyone else to guarantee that artists, producers, distributors, dealers . . . and the public . . . get more of the best than anyone else can deliver.

Consider our sources: Ampex Stereo Tapes features over 70 different recording company labels. That's why more than 7000 selections by over 650 artists are sold on Ampex Stereo Tapes . . . rock, soul, pop, jazz, folk, classical and the spoken word on 4-track cartridge, 8-track cartridge, open reel, cassette and micro-cassette.

And Ampex Stereo Tapes has its own line-up of producers . . . talented giants of the music business . . . still another source providing a wealth of solid, in-demand albums that sell week after week, month after month.

Our sources include the Broadway stage. When they decided to produce "Purlie" Ampex was one of the original backers. Now the Number One name in home entertainment owns part of the award-winning Number One musical on Broadway. . . and the music rights to the original cast recording. "Purlie" is a box office winner . . ."Purlie" LP and stereo tape albums are winners in stores from coast to coast.

Our sources include the vast pool of new talent on its way up and established stars who recognize the potential that a new, aggressive, wholly contemporary entertainment complex offers.

Ampex goes to more sources than anyone in the entertainment field to make Ampex music the most profitable you can sell. That's why we can go around saying "We're Number One". If you're not selling Ampex music, contact your Ampex Stereo Tapes distributor and your Ampex Records distributor. CONSIDER THE SOURCE!!

An important happening.... YOU'RE INVITED TO JOIN THE GREATEST CAST EVER ASSEMBLED IN SHOW BUSINESS HISTORY

Star or star-to-be, singer, musician, songwriter, actor, record producer, arranger, variety artist, etc.—if you're in show business (performing or creative talent, that is) there's a special place reserved for you in the forthcoming edition of WHO'S WHO IN SHOW BUSINESS!

Here's the book that leads to better bookings and more of them. Photographic-listing in WHO'S WHO IN SHOW BUSINESS puts (and keeps) you "where the action is" before a special audience of casting, booking, recording and advertising executives . . . across the country and around the world—and tells these important decision-makers . . .

WHO are you (Your name)

WHAT you look like (Your photograph)

WHAT you have done (Your credits)

WHERE you can be contacted (Your representative's name, address and phone number in a special Contact Representatives section)

Unique in its concept of embracing all talents in all fields, WHO'S WHO IN SHOW BUSINESS is the long-needed link between talent and talent seeker. In fact, it's the only hard-cover, long-life directory reaching key executives in TV, radio, motion pictures, recordings, commercials, theatre, concert and opera, night clubs, circus and carnivals, etc.—in every major entertainment capital of the world—plus bonus distribution to libraries, advertising agencies, newspapers and magazines.

Here's another exclusive! In WHO'S WHO IN SHOW BUSINESS all photographic-listings are of equal size and prominence—and you get the same dramatic presentation as Frank Sinatra, Dionne Warwick, Petula Clark, Louis Armstrong, Ed Sullivan, etc.

For all the world of entertainment, WHO'S WHO IN SHOW BUSINESS is fast becoming the standard talent reference. This is an important happening. Don't let it happen without you!

Join the great cast now assembling for the new 1970 edition. Your photographic-listing costs just $50 for year-long representation—the best career investment you could make. To assure you are "among those present", use the registration form to register now!

YOUR PHOTOGRAPHIC-LISTING HERE MAKES DRAMATIC IMPACT TO KEY EXECUTIVES IN EVERY MEDIUM OF ENTERTAINMENT

Ray Stevens has just two words for the Columbia record distributors who helped his first Barnaby single make #1: Thank you.

Because it's you, the unheralded, behind-the-scenes people who make hits possible. And you really outdid yourselves with "Everything Is Beautiful." Number 1 with a bullet after just 9 weeks. And thank you, too, for the same effort behind Ray's first Barnaby album, "Everything Is Beautiful." If the past is any indication, we'll probably have to take another ad in a few weeks to say it all over again for the album. But then, it's such a nice feeling.

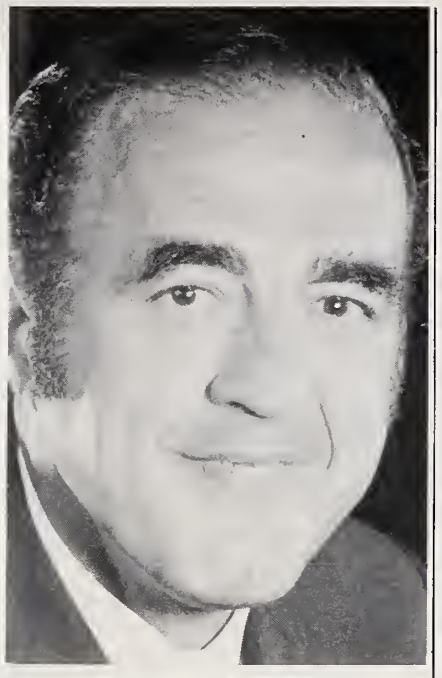
Owen Bradley: The Biggest of The Country Giants



By TONY MARTELL,
Vice President Marketing and Creative Services

To create a "Land of Country Giants" such as Decca Records has, requires a giant working behind the scenes. Decca Records has that "back-stage giant" in the person of Owen Bradley, Vice President and Director of A & R for Country Product.

A giant, according to one Webster definition, is: A person of extraordinary ability, courage, strength, etc. Regardless of who defines the term, Owen Bradley eminently qualifies. A man of average height (at least two of his artists tower high above him), he stands head and shoulders above the average in terms of talent and humanity.

As a producer of hit recordings, he has an uncanny ability to recognize the potential of a song and to match it with just the right artist at just the right time. The national trade listings of Country singles and albums testify to his phenomenal success. In an industry where the only constant is constant change, Owen Bradley-produced singles and albums are continually represented among the national best sellers and at the top of the Country charts.

While keeping a roster of successful artists in sales contention, he has managed to nourish and build a new group of superstars. Realizing that all artists eventually reach a plateau in sales, Owen has insured the future success of our Country artists by constantly grooming promising young talent. The very number of artists with which he is involved and whose careers he is helping to build is staggering. Yet each of them gets his full share of attention and effort. A lesser man would have stumbled under the load years ago, but with Owen the challenge of this millstone is the excitement and stimulation of his life.

A wise man once said, "If you have something that must be done, give it to a busy man". Owen Bradley is proof of the truth in this philosophy. In addition to his duties to Decca and the artists he records, he manages to find time to devote to various civic organizations, fund-raising projects and industry organizations. A gifted businessman, he always has time to give novices in the industry the benefit of his experience and knowledge. Many musicians and artists and executives are where they are today in the industry because of advice they received from Owen.

One of the innovators of the fabled "Nashville sound," Owen is a fascinating personality in the recording studio. His personal creativity and knowledge of music, along with his acute understanding and ability to work with people, have earned him the respect of his artists, the studio technicians and the musicians who create the sound and atmosphere for which Nashville has become famous. He inspires everyone involved to be happy with nothing less than the best they can give.

In the opinion of friends (and this includes every artist on his roster, and artists on other labels as well), associates and students of Nashville recording, there is no question that, as the plaque awarded him by Decca during the recent Country sales meeting attests, Owen Bradley is the "Biggest Country Giant Of Them All".

THE MAN

THE FACTORY

UP FROM ROCK 'N ROLL

By Conway Twitty

In this day and time when many country artists are looking for that big record that will "go pop", I guess I'm unusual. I started out in rock and roll and worked my way up to Country.

All the time I was singing rock and roll, I wanted to record Country. I even asked the label I was recording for at the time to let me do Country under my real name (Harold Jenkins). But it took the courage of Owen Bradley to let me do my first real Country recording sessions.

Once during the R & R days, I stopped by WSM Radio to visit with Ralph Emery on his all-night show. I was thrilled over a Ray Price recording of one of my songs, WALK ME TO THE DOOR. I told Ralph of my desire to sing Country, and he really didn't believe I could, although IT'S ONLY MAKE BELIEVE was and still is a favorite with the Country audience. He handed me a guitar and said, "Okay, Conway, show me you can sing Country." So I did. I sang every Hank Williams song I could think of. He still talks about it every time I go to see him. I had a ball that night!

And I still enjoy singing Country songs and performing for Country fans. I can't really say I ever enjoyed working on a rock and roll show. The music was too loud. The audience was too loud. I don't think they every heard a word I sang. On Country shows, I feel that I'm really communicating with the audience. It's a two-way street and that's the way I like it.

At any rate, I feel quite at home in Country music. It's where my roots are. And I'm grateful to Owen Bradley and Decca Records for giving me this chance to do what I've always wanted to do. I appreciate, too, the acceptance by the fans and the industry.

In case anyone wonders, as far as I'm concerned I'm home to stay.

The Country Is Growing By Leaps And Bounds

THE PROMOTION

The reason for the success of Country music is attributed to the fact that it's perhaps the easiest way to communicate feelings and the facts of life to "the people". Country music is native to America. All other music has evolved from Country roots.

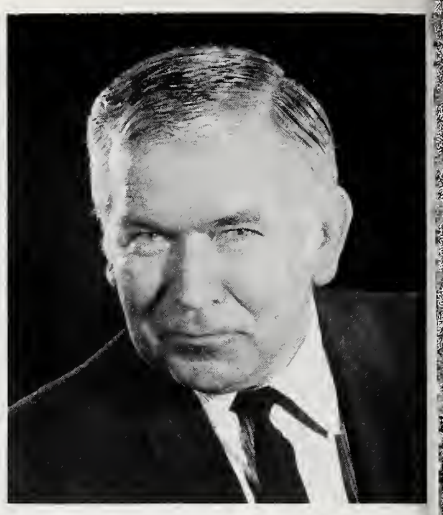
The most outstanding quality about Country music is it's utter simplicity in telling a story. It can be understood by the masses and is the most easily understood the world over—as evidenced by the great acceptance of the Nashville sound in Japan, Ireland, Germany, Finland—even England.

In the United States, Country began to establish national and metropolitan roots during World War II when Southerners migrated to the Eastern and Northeastern industrial centers.

The trend we have experienced in the last 15 years can only be accelerated as changes occur in listening audiences and geography. The more exposure Country gets, the more fans it draws into its following. This is in no small way due to the inroads such Country greats as Johnny Cash, Eddy Arnold, Loretta Lynn, Conway Twitty, and Jimmy Dean—and even more recently Glenn Campbell—have made into Pop-oriented audiences via television and radio exposure.

Major Country acts are no longer limited to bowling alleys and county fairs—they no longer have to work only rural areas. Thanks to the showcasing and popularizing of Country product by Cash and Campbell, a program of Country music can fill even Madison Square Garden to SRO

During my 12-year membership in the Country Music Association, I have watched Country music progress to unbelieveable heights. We have witnessed Country music attain a position



by JACK LOETZ

Decca Records
Executive Vice-President

in American and international music that we never thought possible eight years ago.

Nashville has truly become Music City, U.S.A. It has gotten to be such a mecca for Pop artists that it is tough for Nashville's Country natives to get studio time booked. The Grand Ole Opry has become a landmark. The Country Music Museum and Hall of Fame, financed and constructed by the CMA, is one of the most popular tourist attractions in the South—in the nation, as a matter of fact. It has become so popular that the Hall of Fame grounds and building are being expanded to accommodate the annual deluge of vistors.

The CMA has also helped to broaden the appeal of Country product and is responsible for many Pop stations turning their operation in profit-making centers through the full or part-time programming of Country music.

One of the leading developers of Nashville into Music City, U.S.A, and Country music into the epic proportion it has reached today is Owen Bradley. And this brings me to Decca and its "Land of the Country Giants". As the mass appeal of Country grows and grows at faster rates, Decca will continue to expand and expand its promotion and merchandising. We will continue to seek new talent for our roster and to implement new ideas in our recordings

I am positive that Country music will grow by even more fantastic leaps and bounds. And I can tell you that Decca will continue its policy of being a forerunner in this all important and exciting facet of our industry.

BEING FIRST WAS FUN (or, WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO BABY FATS?)

by Jimmy Davis

Some 35 years ago when I was in Shreveport, Louisiana, a man by the name of Jack Kapp called me from New York. He said he heard me on radio and wanted to know if I would like to audition for a recording contract. I found out later he was President of Decca Records.

I asked him where I would go audition. He said, "Chicago, the next week . . ."

I didn't own an automobile because I owed everybody while I was trying to finish Louisiana State University. So, I rented an old car (that burned 34 quarts of oil the first 300 miles) and was on my way to Chicago.

I walked into the recording studio (a hotel room) without knocking, where Jack and Dave Kapp were trying to revive a big fat woman (with the cutest baby face I had ever seen) who had fainted while trying to hit a high note. I said to the two boys who were with me, "Let's stick with the low ones."

I recorded four songs—one of them was "Nobody's Darlin'", which happened to hit. Nobody, not even Decca or me, remembers what the other three were.

Decca didn't look like they were too well heeled, so I told them if it would help them in their venture, they could just pay me when times got better, for I'd never had anything anyway. Well, it seemed that everybody who tried out for Decca hit the jackpot, and my check came in and they've been coming in ever since. And, Decca soon had a pile of money that a show dog couldn't jump over—and business at Decca has consistently grown bigger and bigger.

I took the money from "Nobody's Darlin'" and bought a farm that now connects two municipalities—Shreveport and Bossier City.

I was lucky later with the recording of such songs as: "Columbus Stockade Blues", "Worried Mind", "It Makes No Difference Now", "Where The Old Red River Flows", "You Are My Sunshine" and scores of others.

I had always wanted to record gospel songs and hymns, so Decca was kind enough to bear with me. And, my first one, "Someone To Care", was far better than I ever hoped for. So was "Suppertime", "One More Valley", "How Great Thou Art", and enough more to fill twenty albums.

I have a lifetime contract with Decca Records and when this is over they have promised to give me another one. They must like the fact that I've always come in "in the black". But it's the public I must truly thank. They always stood behind me—even in the lean years. Without them, I couldn't have ever made it as a record star—or as a politician!

Let's Talk Country Promotion

by Gene Kennedy

National Country Promotion Manager
Decca Records

Since I've been in the Land of the Country Giants for only a few short weeks, I consider it a distinct honor to be already considered an authority on Country promotion. Decca Records has long been recognized as a leader in the Country record industry; and I'm especially excited about the opportunity they have given me.

The promotion man's job just starts when he calls on a radio station. In order for him to do the complete job, he has to know his market, know the program directors, music directors, and disc jockeys at all stations in his territory. Additionally, he must know the sales potential of each type of record, whether Country, MOR, rock, R & B or classical. He has to stay in constant touch with all record outlets. In order to build an image for the label he is representing, the promotion man must first build a rapport for himself with the people he calls on. No matter how great the company he is representing, the service he gives, the follow-through (and this is so vital) will determine the reputation of the label in his area. The company is only as good as the people who represent it. All available information he has about the product he is representing and what is happening in other markets should be passed on to the radio stations and record outlets in his market so they are completely informed about what is happening.

It has been said that Country promotion is easier than pop promotion. Maybe this is true and maybe it isn't. The one thing a promotion man, who is working all types of product, should keep in mind is that Country stations need and must have the same type of service and respect as any other type of station.

Country music is happening today bigger and better than ever before because of a lot of hard work by a lot of devoted people. As these same people keep working harder, and we add new people with the same kind of enthusiasm, it can only get bigger.

With the promotion of Chic Doherty to National Country Sales Manager and my appointment as National Country Promotion Manager and our not being involved in any other areas, Decca Records has once again proven its leadership in the Country field. If there is a trend in music today, it is toward more and more appreciation for and acceptance of Country music.

Decca has a field force dedicated to the success of Country product, and we intend to stay ahead of the trend and to help everyone involved in the marketing of recorded product take full advantage of the ever-increasing market for Country records and tapes.

Let's Talk Country Sales

by Chic Doherty

National Country Sales Manager,
Decca Records

The combination of good product, enthusiasm and hard work spell plus sales of Country records and tapes just as it does in other areas of our business. We, at Decca, are fortunate enough to have an abundance of good product; and I consider it a privilege and a golden opportunity to be in the position to do all I can to help generate the enthusiasm and encourage the necessary effort to take advantage of the sales potential of that product.

The Country music market has moved to town. It is no longer confined to the rural areas of the world. The buyng public, like the Country performing artists, is now drawn from all levels of society. They have more money for leisure activities and they spend it at personal appearances and for records and tapes. It's our business to see that those records and tapes are available to them when they want to buy.

Decca records has long been a major factor in the production, promotion and sale of Country product; and the steps the label is taking to strengthen the total organization are very timely. They are expressly designed to take advantage of an ever-changing, growing market for the excellent product which we represent. It is only natural that Decca should be in the forefront of the movement to gain new inroads into the Country record market.

With the extensive popular growth of Country radio and the increasing exposure of Country artists and music on national television, this is one of the most exciting sales eras I have known in my many years of selling Country product. In the relatively new area of cartridge and cassette tapes, Country recordings have already experienced great success. As a result of this industry innovation, the Decca catalog is experiencing a rebirth. We must apply all that we know and all that we can learn toward taking advantage of this young and growing outlet for our product. In view of all this excitement, I am tackling my new assignment with Decca with all the pleasure of a child with a new toy.

As I see it, the industry is at the dawning of a new day for Country record and tape sales. There are numerous opportunities to break through and build new artists. Decca has established solid ground in that area in the person of the remarkable Owen Bradley. These new opportunities require some calculated risks and a coordinated direction to insure that promotion and sales work together.

Gene Kennedy, in his new position, and I intend to work very closely together to coordinate promotion with Country radio stations and sales wherever records and tapes are sold. It is our intention also to encourage the growing trend for retail outlets to work closely with Country radio and to help these outlets profitably stock and merchandise product on an ever-increasing scale.

The market and demand are there and if we promote and merchandise to reach them, it can only mean more business. And Decca plans to do just that!

COUNTRY MUSIC ON THE CONTINENTS — IN A BIG WAY

by Dick Broderick
Vice President, MCA Records International and International Director, Country Music Association

The importance of Country music in the international markets is a fact of the business. MCA Records International, drawing on the many talents from Nashville (and on Nashville's multi-talented Owen Bradley), has been accentuating the positive with an expanding program of Country album releases in all overseas markets.

Highlighting this campaign was the recent appearance of Loretta Lynn at Wimbley Stadium in London and the more recent concert tour of England, Ireland, Sweden, Holland, Norway and Germany by the "MCA All-stars," a show featuring Loretta, Conway Twitty, Bill Anderson and Jan Howard, Peggy Sue and the Wilburn Brothers. The tour sparked marked sales increases of all the MCA Country product throughout Europe. And there was even the added honor of Loretta being voted "best Country female vocalist of the year" by the British Country Music Association. It was a family affair in a way: Peggy Sue, Loretta's younger sister, was voted "most promising new female singer."

Throughout 1970, MCA Records International will stress Country product with their affiliates around the world. One of my main goals for the year will be the development of the Nashville Sound on the international scene. The program we now have in the planning stages calls for a Country tour of the Far East with dates in both Japan and Australia—two of the popularity strongholds for Country.

Country has established itself in Europe and in the Far East already and now it is beginning to take hold in South America—where we are expecting big things to happen. And England's little ball of fire Leapy Lee has been a sensation in his own country and also in the States with his exciting Country releases.

At MCA Records International our byword for success has become: "Country—Owen Bradley style"!

You Can Take Western Out Of The Country . .

By Bill Levy
Director of Creative Services

Boots and saddles are back in the Universal prop department, fringed jackets have gone to rock and spurs to Hell's Angels. It was inevitable. "Country" and "Western" have parted. Amiably, nevertheless, parted. Country music has simply become too big for C & W type casting. Especially when casting type. No longer must a country ad or album cover look country. I don't necessarily mean overly contemporary designs—but now that Country music has sort of "gone uptown", the graphics must, too.

We're all basically in the business of sales. And if what we do visually can enhance the saleability of a package, then we've done our job. After selling $1,500,000.00 worth of product during Loretta Lynn's January promotion, we could have let Loretta rest on her laurels in preparing her June LP. Instead, we flew her to New York for a "new look" photography session. We even called in one of the top theatrical cosmeticians and stylists for the occasion.

We flew Bill Anderson to Los Angeles for photography at Universal City studios, then followed Conway Twitty, Peggy Sue, and Ernest Tubb to Houston to be photographed at the "world's largest country dance". We also travelled in Jack Greene's bus, gathering shots for his unprecedented full-color gate-fold "Greatest Hits" album. Jerry Smith made it big with his first Decca release, the non-country sounding, "Drivin' Home". We followed up with non-country looking full page ads.

And so it goes. Supporting artists every day in many ways. Different strokes for different folks. Make that different strokes for different Country folks. And it's a big Country!

THE COUNTRY AUDIENCE—THE SAME ONLY DIFFERENT

By LORETTA LYNN

I have just come back from a concert tour of Europe with Conway, Bill and Jan, Doyle and Teddy Wilburn and sister Peggy Sue. I found out one thing—the same thing I've been finding out everywhere I go: People are pretty much the same everywhere you go.

They may not understand what the heck you're up there singing about, but they sure must be able to feel it—you can see that much in the expressions on their faces and in the way they shout and applaud. People all over the world have the same desires, needs and disappointments—the folks in Oslo, Norway, are very similiar to the folks in Louisville, Kentucky. They enjoy music that tells them how they feel in London just as much as they do in Charlotte.

There are many secrets to successful communication with your audience—and I am not about to tell you all of mine. I think the key to this communication is to be honest with them—tell it like it is. Let them know you understand what they feel and how they feel it. I guess the big secret is to make them believe—to convince them—that you're not just singing about it, you've been there, too. (It's not hard to do when you really have been there and they know it.) But, above all, tell your audience about it simply and without pulling any punches.

If you're going to sing about a barroom, make them see it, feel it, even smell it. Transport them mentally to a bar. The same holds true for any other subject. Never take a real situation and make it into a fairy tale—they'll know you're putting them on and tear you up in a minute!

Country music if my life. I guess I love to sing more than anything else in life (next to my family, that is!). There is nothing greater than the communication, feeling, love and warmth I establish with my audiences. When I sing a sad number and I start to cry, I know I have reached the hearts of the folks out front when I see them dab their eyes with a hanky or rub their noses with a hand (and those men are the worst: they always try to hide the fact that you got through to them!).

Country singing is love when you get right down to the nitty gritty of it all. And emotion. And feeling. I always try to be just myself in the songs I write and in the way I sing them. I love people and I love performing for them.

Living on a bus can be mighty close quarters and some of the rules we have to follow seem quite stupid. But in the long run they work and we learn to stay out of each other's way—you get to know when the company wants company and when they want to be alone to think and write. The nicest thing is that we are all one big happy family on The Loretta Lynn Show. That's an important thing, too. Yes, we work hard, tough grinds, but it is satisfying. That makes it all worth while.

When we do a show, we have lots of fun, too—and we want everybody in the audience to have fun with us. They usually do—even when they cry!

YOUR LOVE IS THE WAY

HELLO, NEIGHBORS: HITTING THE ROAD AGAIN

By KITTY WELLS (MRS. JOHNNY WRIGHT)

Sometimes you arrive in a town and you see a banner hanging across the main street or a large poster saying, "Welcome Kitty Wells — the Queen of Country Music" — and you look around you at all the tired faces as you bump along and peek out the window at all the folks wondering "Who's the stranger?" and let me tell you: YOU DON'T REALLY FEEL LIKE A QUEEN.

There are many times when I don't feel like royalty. One of the few times that I do is after a song in some faraway place when the audience gets to their feet and applaud and shout their approval. This embrace from people I don't even know, but people I love so dearly, is all the royalty I'll ever want. There is nothing like a satisfied audience — nothing in the world.

Satisfaction has become a big part of my musical life with Johnny. We try to give it — and we sure do love to get it from them when we do. We have been working the road for over 25 years. These have been very wonderful and rewarding years for us. The only really bad part was that we had to leave the children at home. The summer months, however, are great because then they could travel with us. Oh yes, they were always a part of the show. All three — Ruby, Bobby and Carol Sue — have always enjoyed getting their feet wet out there on the stage. They are happy when they entertain. Happiness is important, no matter what you do in life. I guess Country artists can appreciate this most for there is nothing better than working before a grand bunch of people — and that's what Country audiences are.

Ruby and Carol Sue were recorded as a duet when they were barely in their teens. Bobby also recorded as a single when he was in his late teens. After high school Ruby and Bobby began traveling as regulars with the show, then Bobby moved out to California where he played the part of "Little Willie" for four years in the popular television series "McHale's Navy."

All three of the "kids" are married now and have families of their own. Ruby still works the road with us and all the children — and grandchildren — appear with us from time to time on our syndicated television show.

I must admit that the road gets hectic at times, especially when you travel 200 days out of a year and on some of those days you have to cover seven to eight hundred miles to the next concert. But the applause and appreciation we get from our fans makes the sleepless hours and driving — worthwhile. We have never been able to get over how we are treated when we arrive. The Decca promotion men take us to visit the DJ's who have helped make us what we are today. And, let me tell you, there is nothing like a Country DJ to really make you feel at home. It's nice to know they remember — that they still care.

ARE COUNTRY SONGS REALLY THAT DIFFERENT?

By BILL ANDERSON

When people ask me what I believe to be the greatest attribute a Country music songwriter can have, I usually surprise them by answering, "empathy".

I say this because a Country song is by and large a song about people . . . about their feelings, their emotions, their dreams, and their failures. A Country song is primarily based on lyrical content rather than on a beat or a sound. Its purpose is to "communicate" . . . to say something that its listener can identify with . . . to establish a "people to people" relationship. And for a Country writer to write this type of song he'd either have to have done an awful lot of "livin" (which he may have!!!) or know and understand the innermost feelings of those who have.

Skeptics have been heard to say that Country songs only have three themes: booze, love triangles and the impoverished conditions into which one was born. Country themes, in reality, are as wide and varied as the scope of life itself. Truck driving songs, novelty songs, the ever-present songs with religious or moral overtones, and on a lesser scale perhaps than in the other field of music, Country music also has its "message" songs.

The difference here is that Country songs don't usually carry the same message as their pop field cousins. While others are protesting wars, glorifying drugs, and bidding with adults to understand the younger generation, the hard-core Country fan prefers to identify with Merle Haggard and his pro-establishment "Okie from Muskogee", "The Fightin' Side of Me", and more recently "Jesus Take a Hold". Country songstress Jan Howard recently dedicated an entire Decca album to "God and Country". Autry Inman had a country monster with the "Ballad of Two Brothers", the story of a younger boy whose anti-establishment views were altered by his older brother's death in Vietnam.

Country people and Country music have "come to town" all over America, but the farmer or the store-keeper or the lumberjack who came to his new urban environment from rural surroundings not only brought his music to the city but his set of basic values as well . . . his sense of good and bad, right and wrong, and his understanding of and his love for the simple things in life.

One of the primary reasons for the resounding upsurge in Country music popularity over the past few years must surely be that here amidst the confusion and chaos of our age, filtering down through the smog and the polluted air of our advanced civilization, can come a song that has something inside it that feels as refreshing as a good deep breath of the clean country air from which it came.

We have always considered our shows a family affair — and a family show. And the public still loves this type of entertainment!

COUNTRY MUSIC IS THE REAL THING

By JACK GREENE and JEANNIE SEELY

We are living in an age of reality. It's only natural, then, that the popularity of Country music should be at its all time peak. This generation's love affair with reality is affecting all areas of life -- even history is being re-written in a less mythical vein. But perhaps, this demand for honesty has had its greatest impact in the area of entertainment.

To be successful today, we are told by producers, directors, writers and performers, movies must reflect life as it is and people as they are. The same conditions seem to be decisive in the success of songs and performances on record and on personal appearances. And that's what Country music has always been about — real people singing honestly about real things!

There are many indicators some obvious and others more obscure, of the increasing acceptance and popularity of Country music and Country artists. At the top of the list, of course, are record sales. Many sales come from the juke box market but more and more record stores and department store record departments are stocking and selling Country product. At one time, only two or three record shops specializing in Country product stocked singles in Nashville. In recent months, a number of Country singles have begun to show up in chain stores' singles racks. In Cincinnati, Louisville, Dayton, and Columbus, one distributor has gone into a Country single racking operation in a big way. And it's paid off in increased sales.

Decca Records, which has been a giant in the Country record business for more than 35 years and is perhaps the only major label that has been successful with a Country-dominated artist roster, has recently promoted Chic Doherty to the position of National Country Sales Manager and named Gene Kennedy, National Country Promotion Manager. We, personally, believe this to be the beginning of a really concentrated effort to take advantage of the growing market for recorded Country product. We are particularly pleased that our label recognizes the potential of their Country department and with the respect it has for Owen Bradley, the genius behind Decca's Country success.

In another area, it really hasn't been too long ago that advertising agencies thought the only products Country artists could sell were snuff, chewing tabacco and patent medicines. Major agencies are now utilizing the talents of Country performers to sell such widely diversified products as chain saws, soft drinks, beer, heating and air conditioning units, various food items and dozens of other products.

The success of Country-programmed radio stations in major metropolitan areas is public knowledge. Many of these stations were nearly out of business before changing to a Country format as a last resort. As a result, they moved from nowhere to high in ratings in their areas -- often to Number One in adult listeners and, in some instances, to Number One across the board. Likewise, the success of Country music and Country performers on television is no longer open to debate. It's the real thing!

Just as radio and television soap operas, which deal in real situations, have survived all the critics, so Country music has survived and will continue to gain popularity because it is in touch with reality . . . it is now, more than ever, the music of the people.

The prime contributing factor in all of these success stories is reality. As more and more of the audience is exposed to Country product, the fact that Country music represents life as it is (love, marriage, divorce, drinking, death, prison are all part of life and the "stuff" from which Country songs are made), will make more and more converts and, consequently, more and more record buyers. And that means just one thing for all of us . . . more dollars, more profits, a more successful business.

In order to take advantage of the potential from the beginning of this small revolution, you must be willing to take a chance just as the Cincinnati distributor did. He had dj ⅜uy of knowing whether he could sell Country singles, but he took the chance and it paid off. There's an untapped gold mine in the real music and it's up to you to dig and find it and bank it.

So come on over to the real think! Country music is, to use a phrase popular in that "other" area of music, where it's at! It's a now happening because it's the real thing!

THE PERFECTIONISTS . . . Kitty Wells at a recording session in Bradley's Barns with Owen Bradley, Director of Country A&R for Decca.

A Mac Davis song is just that way. Lyrics become images. Songs become paintings. Like his new single, "I'll Paint You A Song."

The single Bill Gavin said "has to rank as one of the finest love songs ever. Beautifully sung by the composer."

It's a follow-up to "Whoever Finds This, I Love You."

He's written lots of hit singles: "In The Ghetto," "Don't Cry Daddy," "Friend, Lover, Woman, Wife," "Daddy's Little Man" and "Somethin's Burnin'."

So when Mac writes a single, it's easy to get the picture.

R&B: The 'Catalog' Sound

Human nature, being what it is, tends to relegate to indifference long-running success. Nowhere is this more true in the recording business than in the area of R&B sounds. Somehow, new sound fancies seem to cast a shadow over the day-to-day sales momentum of the R&B sound. R&B music is, in a sense, a catalog sound, affording labels involved in this field steady success, not just in one section of the marketplace, but in the broad spectrum of pop music buyers as well. Each week, the Top 100 lists a number of more or less "pure-styled" R&B sounds that, obviously, are winning over a wide cross-section of the record/tape buyer.

Interesting at this stage, the very soul of R&B music, the sound of gospel music, is adding an even stronger dimension to the continued appeal of this often understated music. Since gospel music itself has often stressed, with great beauty and poignancy, the burdens of a people and their faith in a better future, a gospel feel pervades a number of recent and current hits that, like gospel, state without rancor or remorse a message of timeliness. There's "Bridge Over Troubled Water" by Simon & Garfunkel, "Let It Be" by the Beatles, "Lay Down" by Melanie & the Edwin Hawkins Singers, "Are You Ready" by Pacific Gas & Electric, "United We Stand" by Brotherhood of Man, "Everything Is Beautiful" by Ray Stevens, whose gospel approach is accented by a church choir-like chorus.

Thus, R&B music, making social commentary or not (though lately there's been an abundance of the former), and the gospel feel are combining to indicate the timelessness of their own appeal. Perhaps the present gospel touch which some years ago made a vain try at a "new" trend in music, is not the wave of the pop future, it still serves to highlight the R&B-gospel approach as one that offers the industry tried-and-true acceptance, that acceptance of which we sometimes take too much for granted.

As we noted at the start of this piece, human nature sends out to pasture, so to speak, some of the good things in life. Like Broadcast Music, Inc. (BMI), once pointed out with great drama in an ad series called "The Day Music Stopped," the world of music would certainly be shocked to find the sound of R&B no longer available. That would bring a lot of music to a grinding halt.

Stax/Volt Ends G&W Ties; Exec Lineup Retained

NEW YORK — Stax/Volt Records will become an indie setup again on June 30, Cash Box has learned. This will end the label's association with Gulf & Western Industries, which purchased the company several years ago. It's understood that in the buyback Jim Stewart, president, and Al Bell, exec vp, plus other key execs, will continue to operate the company. The label started internal billing as of June 25.

Columbia's Blood, Sweat & Tears, winners of three of this year's Grammy Awards, including that for Best Album of the Year, are breaking through some geographical and political boundaries as well. The nine-man group is currently engaged in an 11-concert, 26-day tour of Yugoslavia, Rumania and Poland and is the first contemporary American musical group to be sent under the auspices of the State Department's cultural program to Iron Curtain countries. Expressing the feelings of the group, lead singer David Clayton-Thomas has said: "I don't believe we are representing the State Department. We are representing young Americans who feel and behave the way we do."

Columbia is now releasing the band's third album, "Blood, Sweat & Tears 3." The group has been awarded RIAA/gold records for their first two albums, "Blood, Sweat & Tears" and "Child Is Father To The Man" and for their singles "You've Made Me So Very Happy," "And When I Die" and "Spinning Wheel". In addition to recording and touring, the group has composed and will perform the score for Barbra Streisand's new film, "The Owl and The Pussycat."

Elektra's 'Age Of Maturity' Stresses 'Image' and Coping With Growth Plans

NEW YORK — Entering its own "Age of Maturity," Elektra Records is in the process of learning how to retain image values of the past while growing for the future. The label will celebrate its 21st birthday next year.

The day-to-day process of reaching this goal is now in the hands of Bill Harvey, general manager of the label, a function he's inherited from Jac Holzman, owner of the label who is now involved mainly in "visionary" aspects of the company.

Harvey feels he's charged with a "constant concern of maintaining Elektra's image," both as a label with strong ties to its acts and one with a responsibility to make statements regarding social conditions in the country (e.g. its recent trade ads on the theme of "Violence Ruins Us All").

"We have reached, however, a physical and mental plateau where we know where we want to go and how to get there," Harvey explains. One project is to enlarge the exposure of its product to include more AM radio coverage of its wares, in addition to long-standing FM exposure. To meet this increased exposure, the label has just enlarged its promo dept., under Gil Bateman, with the addition of five "handpicked" field men.

Harvey Decentralizes

Harvey also concedes that the growth or "maturing" of the label sort of "ivory towered" the company in the area of its artist relations. Elektra had always provided its acts with a "second home," Harvey notes, but growth factors, including a separation of functions on the east coast (administration) and west coast (recording) has necessitated a need to get to better "relate and have physical contact with our acts beyond the A&R staff." This will be accomplished through frequent visits by home office staffers to the label's west coast offices, headed by Russ Miller.

Harvey

Similarly, Elektra hopes to provide more "guidance and expertise" for the many "unproven groups" it's planning on bringing on to its talent roster. Harvey emphasizes that this doesn't mean the company's venture into management, but a greater involvement in the acts it presents on recordings.

Decentralization

A major part of Elektra's growth plans is a decentralization of function, a move mirrored in Harvey's recent appointment. The re-organization now under way ("to keep us as lean and strong as possible") is designed to strengthen each depart-

Alexenburg: Col Promo Is 'Communication & Credibility'

NEW YORK — "One of the comforts in working promotion at Columbia," Ron Alexenburg confides, "is never having to worry about where your next hit will come from." As national promotion director, though, Alexenburg is amply aware that having hit product at a label doesn't always mean having hit sales.

During his two years as the cornerstone of the promo force, he has had to build a vehicle for sampling reactions to new material, establishing credibility for the company's information and spreading exposure based on this data. Columbia's standing with a weekly showing of at least a half dozen singles on the Top 100 and 20+ LP's on the national chart attest to his effectiveness with this program.

Communication, Alexenburg says, is one of the chief success factors. Gathering details from the local men and keeping each informed about the entire national picture has enabled Columbia's branch men to gain leverage with the product that seems most promising. "While every single released is treated as a national prospect," Alexenburg notes, "we watch the branch responses first. If the servicing shows national acceptance we work the material for immediate sales; and if a side doesn't break immediately, we'll watch for regional hit play and then see if this can bring about second-listens."

This practice has aided in getting the jump on a powerful single, but it has also given Columbia fuel for the longer work records. Among the recent breakouts are Ronnie Dyson's "If You Let Me Make Love To You" that has been built into a national hit after almost four months because of

Cash Box Disk Jockey Poll On 'Most Programmed & Promising'

NEW YORK — Poll results that determine leading disks and record acts in the pop and country music field among the nation's deejays are in. The comprehensive survey is available in this week's publication of the 28th annual Cash Box International Directory.

They include "most programmed" and "most promising" over the past 12 months among records, albums, male vocalists, female vocalists, bands, vocal groups, instrumentalists (solo).

Atlantic Sues On Bootleg CSN&Y LP

NEW YORK — Atlantic Records has sued a brace of retailers both in New York and California and manufacturer Canyon Records — no relation to Wally Roker's Canyon Records — over sales of the bootleg recording by Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young called "Wooden Nickel". The firm has charged the stores and the manufacturer with copyright infringement and unfair competition. The record is a 'live' recording of the group's performance at a concert in California. Atlantic is also applying for a preliminary injunction to stop the stores from selling the disk.

The stores sued in New York are The Gramaphone, St. Marks Place and Discophile, Inc. (West 8th Street).

The C,S,N&Y bootleg recording of "Wooden Nickel" contains some songs that have not as yet been released commercially. It is being manufacfactured and sold without license or permission from Atlantic, or the artists or the publishing firm. Atlantic intends to vigorously prosecute any other retailers of the bootleg disc. The attorneys for Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young have already notified radio stations warning them about playing the disk.

Top 100 Adds Dist. Feature

Beginning with this week's Top 100 singles chart, the record company distributing a label with a Top 100 disk will also be listed. This added feature of the chart reflects the increasing number of artist and/or producer labels that have associated themselves for distribution with other manufacturers.

Capitol Industries' NY Building To House Its Eastern Operations

HOLLYWOOD — Capitol Industries, Inc. will centralize its various New York facilities and functions with a move into new offices at 1370 Avenue of the Americas when that building is completed late this year. The New York structure will be named the Capitol Industries Building to complement the firm's Capitol Tower corporate headquarters in Hollywood. The announcement was made by Stan Gortikov, Capitol Industries President.

"Continuing Expansion"

"This action," said Gortikov, "emphasizes the continuing expansion of our New York activities. We chose this location after a careful search lasting almost two years. In our new facilities we will have more than doubled the space we currently utilize throughout the city."

Capitol Industries has entered into a longterm lease for 91,500 sq. ft. covering ten complete floors of the 33-story building. The company plans to use a major portion of the space and sublet the balance.

Oppenheimer Realty, Inc., New York, represented by Vice Presidents E. William Judson and Arthur Rosenbloom, were the exclusive leasing agents for Capitol and will also be in charge of the subleasing.

Executives and employees of various Capitol Industries divisions will be housed in the new East Coast center with the majority of the space occupied by Capitol Records. Commenting on the move, CRI President Salvatore J. Iannucci stated:

"We expect to reap numerous benefits from this fine new facility in the very heart of New York's entertainment industry area. In particular, the new location will facilitate dealings with top recording talent, agents, the television networks, and other vital aspects of artist management and development. A major factor will be Capitol's new, highly-advanced recording studios, utilizing the latest in 16-track recording equipment, to be installed in the Capitol Industries Building as a replacement for our present recording facilities on West 46th Street. We expect to offer East Coast talent the finest recording facilities available in the entire industry."

Chief administrative officer of the new center will be Dick Asher, Capitol vice president of easter operations. In addition to the expanded A&R functions, offices will be provided for sales, promotion, merchandising, legal, business affairs and administrative personnel of Capitol Records, Inc., Merco Enterprises, Inc., Audio Devices, Inc., and Beechwood/Capitol Music Publishing.

The building is owned by St. Andrews Associates, New York, and Emery Roth & Sons is the owner's architect. The building is being constructed by HRH Construction. The firm of Welton Becket & Associates, Los Angeles and New York, has been retained by Capitol Industries to design its New York office interiors.

Gortikov Predicts Strong Fiscal Yr. For Capitol Ind.

SAN FRANCISCO — For the fiscal year ending June 30, Capitol Industries expects to show significant profit and sales increases over the past year, Stan. Gortikov, CI president reported last week (23) in an address delivered before the San Francisco Society of Security Analysts. "In fiscal 1969, Capitol had sales of $153 million, net income of $6.6 million, or $1.52 per share, adjusted for the acquisition of Merco Enterprises, Inc. In the nine month period ended March 31, 1970, sales were reported at $140 million and per share earnings amounted to $1.66.

"We are confident that results for the full fiscal year 1970 will show continued improvement in sales and earnings," Gortikov declared. "We plan and prepare for continued growth in sales and profit for fiscal 1971. A most significant consideration is the economy and its effect on industry gains, and, therefore, our share of such gains. However, it is far too early for me to voice specific predictions with any adequate degree of credibility." The company president forecast a continuing growth in the sales of both cassettes and 8-track tape cartridges, which currently comprise about one-third of the company's long-playing product line.

On Beatles

In commenting on recent activities concerning the Beatles, Gortikov said he is hopeful they will resume a creative relationship, will continue to make records as a group, as well as individually, and he noted that all such records must be released domestically through Capitol.

Record Companies Draw Underground Fire At Alternative Media Project Gathering

PLAINFIELD, VT. — The Alternate Media Project laying the groundwork for a more aware and communicative media community held its first gathering on the campus of Goddard College here June 17-21. The meeting attracted and estimated 1,000 media people—both under and overground—and hundreds of young people from the New York and New England area, who were drawn to the conclave by rumors of a festival type atmosphere and the expected appearance there of several superstar rock groups.

The aim of the project was to work for ways "to facilitate direct communication among innovative broadcasting and record industry people." At Goddard, the aim was only partly realized. Lack of organization—it bordered on the impossible to obtain a program of events—resulted in an air of confusion. Another factor was the nature of the meeting place. The 600 acre Goddard campus was a pastoral enough setting but proved too sprawling for continued close-knit comminication.

A general meeting, held during the latter part of the gathering, was addressed by Realist editor Paul Krassner. He spoke out against major record companies, accusing them of exploiting the youth market. This charge had also been made at a number of the project's workshops.

Several dozen of these informal workshop sessions were held at the four day convention. Topics included "The Recording Artist And The Community," "Radio Stations And Their Relationship With Record Companies," "Jazz, Blues And Classical Programming," "Record Production," "Selling Progressive Radio," "Rock Publications, Their Validity And Role" and "The Underground Press And The Record Companies."

On the last named subject, there was considerable discussion, both at the workshop session and in other informal gatherings. Since underground newspapers traditionally depend, to a large extent, on record company advertising, the editors of those publications face something of a dilemma, when they feel compelled to attack those companies for "youth exploitation."

Nevertheless, there were suggestions that the newspapers discontinue national ads in favor of those which relate directly to their own community. Record companies were also asked to kick back money into community projects as a penalty for their "exploitation" practices.

The convention was unique in that it drew the most important members of the underground media in the country. A special charter flight from San Francisco brought a West Coast delegation, and there was a good turn-out on the part of Chicago and Midwest based media-ites, in addition of course to a representative group from New York.

Despite the disorganization, and a persistent rain which fell during the early part of the conference, the Alternate Media Project did set the stage for what, in years to come, may become a truly effective means of communication among the entire media community.

Scepter 'Sesame Street' Album Features 'Susan'., Map Campaign

NEW YORK — With more than 100,000 advance orders already under its belt, Scepter Records is marketing this week its album titled "Susan Sings Songs From Sesame Street". The LP features selections from the nationally acclaimed educational TV series as sung by Loretta Long, who is featured about 60% of the air time of the smash TV series.

The disk was rush released in a deluxe, fold-open Unipak with 4 color art and will sell for $4.98 suggested list, and will be backed by a massive merchandising and in-store promotional campaign as well as a co-op ad campaign. A cassette and 8 track cartridge will also be made available immediately.

Major Promo Tour

As part of the major promotion, Miss Long (Susan) will begin making appearances in 18 major markets on July 1st. Cities include New York, Newark, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, Chicago, Detroit, Baltimore, Washington DC, Atlanta, Houston, Dallas, St. Louis, Los Angeles, Seattle, San Francisco, and possibly Denver, Cleveland, and Cincinnati. Personal appearances at each store will be supported by cooperative advertising, LP display pre-paks, counter cards, mobiles, giant full color posters, and streamers. A full color die-cut figure of 'Susan' is also available as an aisle-end display. Strong emphasis will be put on placement of in-store promotional material and use of co-op ad mats.

"Sesame Street," shown on more than 220 TV stations across the country, has an audience estimated in excess of 12 million pre-schoolers.

The LP was created and packaged by Leisure Sciences, Inc. of New York. Leisure Sciences' president is Murray Ross, who in addition to co-ordinating merchandising and marketing on the LP for Scepter, is the executive producer of the album.

"Susan Sings Songs From Sesame Street" will also be available on 8-track and cassette and shipped in colorful display pre-paks (22). Jerry Geller, general manager of Scepter's tape division, is co-ordinating all tape sales. Sam Goff, exec vice-president added, "Though we believe this 'Sesame Street' LP is a natural, we spared no expense to produce a truly beautiful and exciting recording. 'Susan' (Loretta Long) has a dynamic voice and is destined to be a superstar." The record produced and arranged by 1970 Emmy Award winner Joe Raposo.

Scepter's Stanley Greenberg worked closely with Raposo and "Sesame Street" writer Jeffrey Moss in cutting this album in Scepter studios. Supporting Raposo was the NBC orchestra and the Lois Winter child singers. Columbia has the Original Cast LP, which is also being issued this week.

London Sets A 'Full Scale' NY Sales Convention In September

NEW YORK — London Records is planning a major convention of all its distribs and regional and district sales and promo personnel in Sept. The full-scale, three-day conclave will take the place of the company's usual July regional distrib meetings, according to national sales and distribution manager, Herb Goldfarb, who is blueprinting the sessions.

Goldfarb feels the affair will be the first full-scale distrib convention the company has held in New York. "These meetings are being given class A priority all the way," Goldfarb asserted, adding that a number of dramatic new departures in both product and packaging are to be unveiled at that time. The sessions will be held at the Summit Hotel, commencing Monday evening, Sept. 14 and continuing all day Tuesday the 15th, and culminating in a final luncheon on Wednesday the 16th.

July Product Approach

The normal July release, which usually is the subject of annual distrib sessions, will be sold this year, Goldfarb indicated, by personal, market-by-market visits by the company's regional sales execs. The release, as in the past, will represent all segments of the firm's activity, including London, Deram, phase 4 stereo, Hi, Sire, classical and the first LP product for the Nashville-based Ashley label.

The July grouping is next on the firm's release list except for current rush-release LP's by the Brotherhood of Man and White Plains, the company's big singles hitmakers.

Carlton Leaving Command/Probe

NEW YORK — Joe Carlton is leaving his post as vp and general manager of Command/Probe Records, the ABC Records division, effective this week (30). Carlton said he had reached an "amicable negotiation" of his contract with Sam Clark, group vp of ABC, and would pursue other opportunities. Carlton, who had operated Command/Probe for the past two years, exits the label following the shift of most of ABC's operations to the west coast. At Command/Probe, Carlton directed a program of developing contemporary acts on Probe, including the Zephyr, Rare Bird and Soft Machine. He also added a modern-sound touch to the Commond label, one of biggest of the "sound" labels.

The vet music man's past associations include vp and A&R director for Mercury, a similar post at RCA, the formation of his own label, Carlton Records, and director of A&R administration for CBS Records. He joined Command/Probe in 1968.

Prophesy Portends German Wave Next In Euro-Invasion

NEW YORK — While virtually all European acts to flourish in the United States thus far have been from Britain, Prophesy Records is now banking on Germany to provide the next wave of U.S. rock imports. With accent being given to on-continent rock by the Dutch acts that have scored here, Mickey Shapiro, Prophesy president, commented that "too many American record companies have simply looked upon Europe as a 'dumping ground' for excess U. S. product. But those labels that haven't, those that have viewed Europe as a creative market with something to contribute to American rock have been highly successful with product they've brought over.

Spotlighting the German work in contemporary rock, Prophesy is shortly to release two albums from a pair of German groups that have caught the attention of their homeland audience. Shapiro noted that this accomplishment is something of a surprise in itself since the Germans are generally skeptical of native talent performing blues or underground material.

In fact, he pointed out, in the case of one of the first two groups signed to Prophesy from Germany, the team would speak in its best English on stage before performances to overcome the indigent prejudice. On one occasion, a viewer asked members of the act where they were from, and on being told they were Berliners he replied, "well, I like your sound anyway."

First product in the drive by Prophesy will be LP's featuring Birth Control and Amon Duul. Birth Control has stirred interest in Germany with its first single and will shortly have its first LP release overseas as well as in America. Amon Duul is already represented by a strong selling LP in Germany.

Prophesy's product in the United States is distributed through agreement with Bell Records.

He'll continue producing Kapp's number one artists, Roger Williams, on an independent basis. After a short vacation, Grill will plane to the coast for Williams' next recording sessions in early July. Upon his return, Grill will announce additional plans in his new role of independent producer.

Featured with Moore are Brenda Jo Harris and a 16-piece orchestra. It'll be showcased for a week.

Capitol Granted New Prelim Injunction In Tape Piracy Case

HOLLYWOOD — Capitol Records obtained another preliminary injunction last week, following a similar piracy action against a firm called Carrol. The second case, Capitol vs McGettigan, doing business as Car Stereo Center, resulted in another injunction granted by Oregon Circuit Court for the County of Multnomah. Actions are a part of the label's constant eye on the tape pirating of its product.

Molten, New Canada Label, To Receive US Dist. Through MCA

NEW YORK — Molten Records, a newly formed independent record label from Canada, will have its first singles product distributed in the United States on both the Decca and the Uni labels, according to Jack Loetz, vp of MCA Records.

Molten is headed up by Wes Dakus and Randy Bachman. Bachman is featured singer with Canada's hit act The Guess Who. As a writer he was responsible for their hits "American Woman" and "These Eyes." Bachman is the composer and co-producer with Dakus of the first two single releases from Molten, namely "Wednesday In Your Garden" by Barry Allen which will be released here on the Uni label, and "Second Thoughts" by a new group called Cheyenne Winter which will be released on Decca Records.

Both singles have been recently issued in Canada on the Molten label and are getting very strong initial reaction. Molten Records is distributed in Canada by the Compo Company, a division of MCA, whose Lee Armstrong brought the releases to the attentiim of MCA Records International executive Dick Broderick in New York.

Molten is the first foreign label to be distributed in the U.S. under the newly created MCA manufacturing, marketing and distribution entity announced last week by Mike Maitland, president of MCA Records. Under the new marketing system, headed by Jack Loetz, all MCA record labels will be consolidated through the same channels of distribution with each label granted autonomy from a creative and planning standpoint.

Fields Partnership Set w/ Sid Bernstein

NEW YORK — Sid Bernstein-Billy Fields Enterprises will be formed this Sept. as a result of a partnership arrangement between the two talent managers.

Fields, who joined Sid Bernstein Enterprises a year ago, was previously involved with Fred Weintraub in the management of such acts as the Four Seasons and Neil Diamond.

A key act nurtured by Fields within the Bernstein setup is 10 Wheel Drive. The Polydor group is regarded by Fields as unique in the jazz-rock band field in that its organization was not the result of individuals who had made a previous track record. Fields was met with a good deal of industry skepticism in keeping the act intact because of its 10-man makeup plus two road managers and the assorted equipment, including a sound system, that travels with the group.

But, Fields' faith in the team, particularly the writing talents (also arrangers) of members Eram Schefrin and Mike Zager and lead singer Genya Ravan, plus general support, financially and otherwise, from such people as Jerry Schoenbaum, president of Polydor, Hal Ray of William Morris and the firms Hill & Range, a co-publisher of the group's material, and BMI, helped keep the 10 Wheel Drive in motion.

Now, following their first LP, "Construction #1," a 75,000 seller, the group has just marketed its second LP, "Brief Replies," along with a single, "Morning Much Better." Fields says the second LP has sold 34,000 copies in the first week on release. The group is slated to make its first appearances in Europe, following the finalization of booking deals.

Fields is also high on two other Bernstein-Fields acts. One is singer Warren Marley, a native of Hawaii, who is debuting on the A&R label with "Los Angeles." Also, Fields is presently negotiating a record deal for an English act called Hands, Heads and Feet, represented by Danny Secunda, a nephew of Yiddish musical theatre composer, Sholom Secunda. Group, seen in the U.S. on the Tonight Show, among other video showcasing, features Tony Colton, guitarist, singer, writer. Colton is the writer of theme from the film, "A Man Called Horse."

Besides these acts, the Bernstein firm also manages the Rascals, discovered by Bernstein, and Rhinoceros.

An additional $75,000 has been invested in refurbishing the studio, adding an Ampex MM 1000 16 track Master Recorder and equipment designed by Katz. He is planning several non-profit industry services including a series of producer aids.

Laura Nyro/Miles Davis

FILLMORE EAST, NYC — Two of Columbia's most creative and dynamic artists shared an unusual bill at the Fillmore East. And while the youthful audience obviously belonged to singer-composer Laura Nyro, it was the Prince of Darkness, Miles Davis, who provided many of the evening's most memorable moments.

Miss Nyro has written some of contemporary music's finer songs, a number of which have become top ten items. She has a commanding stage presence which gives considerable impact to her renditions. Accompanying herself ably on piano, sans other backing, she performed fully up to the expectations of her fans. Chalk up the Fillmore as another triumph for the multi-faceted Laura.

Something may be in the process of getting born these days out of the turbulent musical explorations of the current Miles Davis group. Though his sound was presented in very uneven offerings at the Fillmore, Miles himself played truly exciting and moving jazz figures, soaring to startling achievements amid energetic rhythmic patterns offered by his drummer, Jack DeJohnette, and bassist David Holland. The latter by the way is a fine musician, whether playing guitar or stringed bass.

Tenor and soprano saxophonist Steve Grossman's finest moments came from his efforts on the latter instrument. Grossman has heard much of John Coltrane, but this young musician has learned and not been overwhelmed by Coltrane's genius. Look for increasing excellence from Grossman and Holland. And, of course, from Mr. Davis, who is still the most interesting jazz musician extant.

'Hee Haw'

GARDEN STATE ARTS CENTER, HOLMDEL, N.J. — Radio Station WJRZ in Hackensack, New Garden State Arts Center, a striking semi-outdoor theater, and on Friday, June 19 we witnessed the "Hee Haw" night of the festival, which starred performers from the popular network C&W TV show.

Grandpa Jones led off the evening with his singing, banjo playing and humor. Grandpa hails from an age when country and folk music amounted to about the same thing, and though he is too much the entertainer to be accepted by present day folk audiences, his act, without the jokes and with a little less polish, might go over at the Newport Folk Festival. He's at his best as a foot-stomping, down home belter of old time country songs.

Singer and comedienne Mary Taylor was next on the bill. Miss Taylor is sort of the Carol Burnette of country music, and though her humor is at times a bit labored, she gets her laughs. Her singing is good, if not extraordinary.

Comedian Archie Campbell, seated upon a stool, delivered the sort of routines which have gained him fame on "Hee Haw." The most memorable was a re-telling of "Cinderella" in a special language akin to pig Latin.

Like Grandpa Jones, Hank Thompson hails from an earlier age in country music. But he's younger than Grandpa, and his style was developed after commercial country music had already gained a strong foothold. His act is straightforward and uncomplicated and somewhat out of date.

Roy Clark was the star of the show, and even if he had not been billed as such, a person who had never heard of him would have admitted his superiority. He generated the kind of excitement that only a star can. Probably one of the top two or three guitarists in country music, Clark has fingers as educated as the feet of a super-fast tap dancer. His voice is serviceable, and his sense of humor honest and unaffected. He's an effective showman and represents present day country music at its best.

Mention should be given to Hank Thompson's Brazos Valley Boys, who provided back-up chores throughout the evening.

Ten Years After
Catfish/Illinois Speed Press

FILLMORE EAST, NYC — Alvin Lee is truly a man possessed with the desire for complete perfection. It is unfortunate that he or anybody else for that matter cannot attain that level of achievement. But one thing is certain; that there is no stopping him in his drive for some unimaginable peak. There are those who feel he is on one of those Eric Burdon type ego-trips, and that is really too bad. A man possessed cannot be understood and should not be scrutinized from all angles. Rather just listen to him and what he says with his guitar and some of that understanding might come to the surface.

He repeatedly puts down his albums for the lack of what he feels are his and the groups capabilities. His or rather the groups latest offering is Cricklewood Green on Deram records, and for the first time the band seems to be a bit more satisfied. This might be attributed to the close contact with Leo Lyons his bass player and close friend for the past ten years. It can easily remind you of the relationship between Jimmy Page and Robert Plant of Led Zeppelin, though the latter is more into electronics. It wouldn't be very surprising if Lee started heading in that direction as a soloist or with Lyons, as he has already past through jazz, blues, commercial rock and if I could use the term acid rock.

Anyway, as usual, he had the crowd standing on their seats as he went through his latest LP, with the addition of the always present "Good Morning Little School Girl." He finished with the now famous "I'm Going Home," and encored with some Chuck Berry style "good old rock & roll." It seems that whatever he plays always get better with age and his offerings never become vintage, as some groups have the capability of ruining a song when performing it live. Thats the ONLY way to really get into the foursome.

Other group members are the somewhat played down Chick Churchill who does the organ and piano work, and Ric Lee on drums, also one of the finest around, but playing in the shadow of Lee.

Preceeding Ten Years After, was Catfish, a wanting imitation of Mountain, and The Illinois Speed Press. All that could be said about them is that it was a disappointing way to spend two hours waiting for the featured group. I would go on, but some things are better left unsaid . . .

Melanie/Brewer & Shipley

CARNEGIE HALL, NYC — A capacity crowd joined Melanie at Carnegie Hall for an evening of song. The artist offered a score of her most haunting, heart and mind-rending compositions. Sharing her visions and experiences in a way unlike that of any other performer, Melanie was spellbinding.

Playing her guitar with characteristic spirit, she gave some of her early material, "Close To It All," "Animal Crackers," "Uptown Down," the defiant "Tuning My Guitar," and the much-requested "Beautiful People." Items from her current hit album on Buddah included James Taylor's "Carolina On My Mind," the elusive beauty of which was captured, then gently freed by Melanie; "Citiest People," the endearing "Alexander Beetle" and, quite rightly, the exciting and anthem-like "Lay Down (Candles In The Rain)." Surrounded by several hundred fans who leaped to the stage, Melanie encored with "Leftover Wine" and "Take Me Home."

Preceding her on the program were Brewer And Shipley, two young men from the midwest, with an exceptional talent for harmonizing and fine flair for a delicate brand of acoustic guitar accompaniment. From their debut Kama Sutra album came "Indian Summer," "Lady Like You" and "Witchi-tai-to" (which made us all feel like Indians, if only for a little while).

Ian & Sylvia

TROUBADOUR, L. A. — Anyone who had been expecting a 'new' Ian & Sylvia was probably let down when the husband and wife country/folk duo opened a week's stand at the Troubadour last week, but anyone who came to hear the old sound was richly rewarded. For some unexplained reason, the duo's first album for Ampex made it look like they have merged their identity with several other musicians to become the Great Speckled Bird, but, in truth, no such merging occurred.

Sure, Ian & Sylvia have the help of four talented musicians, but that's been going on for well over a year now. Sure, Sylvia was wearing an orange jumpsuit instead of her 'cutesy' short skirts, but that didn't turn her into Grace Slick. What really went down was what has been going down for a long time: a good helping of down home (in this case, Canada) music.

Though several new songs were introduced, it was the older material, such as Tim Hardin's "Reason To Believe," or their own almost hit, "Lovin' Sound," or Ian's "Someday Soon" (a recent hit for Judy Collins) which went over best. The two encore numbers, Johnny Cash's "Big River," with a vocal assist from bassist Jim Colgrove, and "Smiling Wine," were also strong. All in all, it was a nice set, but methinks they saved their good material for the next set.

Grand Funk Railroad
Mott The Hoople/Kinks

CAPITOL THEATRE, PORTCHESTER, N.Y. — Mott The Hoople, another English offering, unfortunately are not the same group in person as they are on album. Not to many people are familiar with them as yet. First of all, they are a very talented group, but much too loud on stage. It is true that their material is a bit better then they are, and that could effect them in a number of ways. It might be that I am spoiled by the number of good groups around, but I really wasn't very impressed by them.

Following them were the very surprising Kinks. They also ran through their new album, "Arthur," and quite the contrary to Mott The Hoople, do their LP material much better in person. They highlighted their segment with some of their early, and much superior material. These included songs like, "You Really Got Me," and "I Need You."

The main attraction was The Grand Funk Railroad, and they played their last LP, Grand Funk, in their usual, crashing style. Some performers can constantly get away with showing off one member of the group, but when the bass player Mel Schacher leans against his amplifier throughout the entire performance and drummer Don Brewer cannot be seen at all, well something is missing. They entirely show-off lead guitarist and lead vocalist Mark Farner.

I did see them a few months ago when the album was riding the charts very honorably and liked them. Saturday night, my only thought was — when is it all going to end? They did their heavy songs like, "Paranoid," and "Inside Looking Out," and some other overly-used material. Their brand new album, "Closer To Home," has received great reviews, and I can't understand why they failed to into it.

Robin McNamara

FACTORY, L. A. — "Hair" has already contributed more than its share of goodies to the music business, but it's far from dried out. Newest contribution is in the form of artists, namely one Robin McNamara, who looms to be one of the most important entertainment finds of the year.

It should be noted, in all honesty, that McNamara's hastily arranged showcase at the Factory, backed by the house band, was not the music event of the year, and yet, despite all the drawbacks, he came thru with flying colors, leaving one to hope that he will follow the Joe Cocker formula and assemble a group of really talented and creative musicians to work with him.

Robin already has a head start over fellow "Hair" performers Bert Sommer and Allan Nichols (who are also headed for bigger things) due to his current Jeff Barry-produced hit, "Lay A Little Lovin' On Me" (Steed). In addition, he is pure entertainment, movin' and grovin', pouring on the steam to get his audience swinging with him.

Having only twenty minutes to rehearse with your group limits your choice of material somewhat, so we'll dismiss the overdone "Feeling Alright" and praise an old Van Trevor ballad, "I Want To Cry," that McNamara dug up somewhere and turned into one of the most moving experiences we've heard lately. His own composition, "Beer Drinking Man," was also a winner.

But, as we've been saying, far more important than what Robin McNamara did at the Factory last week is what he's going to do in a lot of other places in the weeks to come.

Dick Gregory
Esther Marrow

VILLAGE GATE, NYC — It's understandable that regular television viewers of evening newscasts can't find much in current political events to laugh about. For those sensitive to society's problems but weary from the depression that frequently accompanies such concern, Dick Gregory's comic routines are perfect therapy.

As both a political activist and comedian, Gregory is able to penetrate issues deeper than most comics, who dwell on such superficial items as the looks of a president's daughter or a vice president's tendency to misdirect golf balls.

The Poppy recording artist delivered predictable digs at vice president Agnew and the Cambodian invasion, but it was during his ad libbing with audience members and his relating of ghetto experiences that his comic genius was outstanding.

Particularly hilarious were Gregory's constant references to his cousin "Cuz," through which he related events in an earthy, simplified perspective of a slick ghetto dweller, and Gregory's business venture during high school when he and a friend sold imitation reefers cut with horse manure.

Gregory's material is largely political, but appeals to the intellect and funny bone rather than to fears or prejudices. To laugh uproariously with Dick Gregory is by no means to patronize Gregory, who is unquestionably one of the nation's sharpest comic minds.

Preceding Gregory was high-powered songstress, Esther Marrow, who performs with the emotion and vocal expression of a traditional blues singer. Her deep, full, piercing voice produced stirring treatments of "Rainy Night in Georgia," "When I Die" and a moving "Trade Winds," a soulful ballad of societal corruption.

Elektra Host Of ARD Dinner

NEW YORK — Elektra Records hosted a dinner for the Association of Record Dealers, an organization made up of retailers and one-stops in the New York area, at Al and Dick's Restaurant on Tuesday night, June 16.

In addition to Elektra President Jac Holzman and general manER Bill Harvey, other record company execs attending the occasion were Buck Rheingold and Ed Charles of Buddah Records and Cy Spiegeman of Ranwood. Also present were Dave Seidman of Futura Tone Distributors, Jerry Winston of Wendy Distributors, and ARD President Mickey Genzler.

Following a discussion of upcoming Elektra product, Elektra President Holzman spoke about ARD's membership's ability to help record manufacturers to promote new artists. "ARD can become an essential force," said Holzman, "in keeping the life's blood of the industry flowing with new talent."

Harvey offered Elektra's services in making ARD a more effective organization.

Filmation Sets 'Goolies'; New TV Musicomedy

HOLLYWOOD — Music continues to be the thing on Saturday mornings, and Filmation, who started the trend rolling with the Archies two years ago and followed with the Hardy Boys last year, have another new musicomedy show ready to roll in the fall. Titled "The Groovie Goolies," the show will be a monster laugh-in starring Dracula, Frankenstein and the Wolfman as three lovable characters who double as a rock and roll group.

Dick Delvy, who was West Coast administrator for MGM/Verve before the Mike Curb takeover, was selected to produce the songs for the new show and all 36 sides are already in the can. A label deal is currently bing worked out.

Norm Prescott, Filmation exec, noted that the Archie series, which has only been using 17 songs a year, will introduce 51 songs next season. A new feature, "Archie's Giant Juke Box," will be used to showcase the tunes. Songs for the Archie show will continue to be produced by Jeff Barry under the supervision of Don Dirshner. The Archie Comedy Hour, going into its third year, has been guarenteed a five year run.

Bootleg Archies

Although recent 'bootleg' Archie groups have been touring the backwoods sections of the country and raking in heavy money, Prescott does not regret keeping the Archies as a studio group only. "Every generation for the last 30 years has grown up with the Archie comics and we felt that if we created a group that did not look exactly like the kids that they were used to seeing, a psychological negative would set in and there would be a tremendous disappointment that might hurt the property in the long run, even though it might bring in a lot of quick money in the beginning. To us, the basic property was more important than trying to pick up some fast money on a bunch of kids who would go to see the Archies once. But to disappoint them and take away the illusion of these cartoon characters wasn't worth it to us if we want to perpetuate the value of the television show. We probably threw away a half-million dollars in bookings."

The Hardy Boys are a live group, and appear live on the song segments of the show, even though the remainder is cartoon. The Goolies will be live all the way, and in addition to the original group making personal singing appearances, there will be 'touring' companies of Goolies making non-singing appearances at promotional functions.

For the 1970-71 season, Filmation will have 2½ hours of Saturday morning shows, including one non-musical show. "Will The Real Jerry Lewis Please Sit Down." Co-starring with the Goolies in their show will be Sabrina, the Teenage Witch, who vacates her portion of the Archie Comedy Hour. The Goolies show will also feature 'visiting' groups such as the Rolling Grave Stones and the Mummies and Puppies. All in all, it'll be a great year for music on TV.

Danny Kaye Stars In Rodgers Show

NEW YORK — Danny Kaye, who left Broadway 29 years ago to become a Hollywood star, is returning to the main stem this fall as the lead in Richard Rodgers' new musical, "Two By Two." Kaye will play the role of Noah in the adaptation of Clifford Odets' last play (1954), "The Flowering Peach." The musical will have a score by Rodgers, with words by Martin Charnin, and a book by Peter Stone. Rodgers is producing, Joe Layton is directing. Capitol Exec Tops Summer Music Shop

HOLLYWOOD — A Capitol Records exec will be the conductor for a special summer music workshop for young musicians in the Los Angeles area.

Donald E. Stevens, a graduate of the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, New York, and director of accounting at Capitol, emphasizes that the program will provide young musicians with an opportunity to develop their talents over the summer months as well as fulfill a need for a lack of such instruction in the area.

The program, to be held as part of the Saturday College of East Los Angeles, is open to all intermediate and advanced young musicians of high school age and above. It will culminate with the recording of a 12 inch album tentatively titled, "Music of the Americas," exemplifying the richness of music cultures in the Western Hemisphere. The course will cover practice and experimentation in recording techniques, broad exposure to a wide variety of repertoire, and useful exercises for the improvement of intonation, technique, and tonal quality.

Those interested should call the college at 263-7261, Extension 224. Registration is June 27. The program runs July 11 - Aug. 22.

KEX-Portland, Ore. 'We Stress Entertainment'

Programming which involves extensive community action and an airtime accent on entertainment has proved to be a winning combination for KEX-Portland. The 50,000 kw. station has developed a "hip MOR" format which, by drawing from both the young and the old audience, has also played an important part in its success story.

On the public involvement front, KEX maintains a good and continued relationship with the citizenry. The station broadcasts editorials daily and calls attention to many local activities through spots, specials and active participation of airtime personalities.

Recently KEX co-sponsored a Project Thank You, which raised more than $18,000 for gift packs to be sent to servicemen in Vietnam. A benefit softball game featuring the KEX staff raised a total of $2500 for a young Portland man who had been seriously hurt during a school wrestling match.

When a large naval fleet sailed into Portland harbor, it was met by a KEX press boat. A "Dirty Picture" promotion called attention to the pollution problem by asking listeners to send in photos of particularly high refuse pileups in the city. Morning man Barney Keep, a veteran of 25 years at KEX, was responsible for lighting up nearby Mt. Hood for the benefit of the Apollo astronauts.

On the lighter side, jock Bob Swanson ran a "Radio Romance," personally matching up singles with similar interests. Response to this was excellent since computer dating services are illegal in the state of Oregon. Swanson brought his couples together at a KEX sponsored dance held in a Portland theatre. To date, four marriages have taken place as a result of his playing Cupid.

KEX-Portland, Oregon. 50,000 kw. Fulton Wilkins, v.p. and general mgr; Vic Ives, program dir; Richard Kale, sales mgr.; Larry Anderson, promotion mgr.; Jim Hollister, music dir.; Jim Howe, news dir.

Format: Contemporary MOR; Playlist: approximately 40 singles, 10-15 albums, some oldies.

On-Air-Personalities: Barney Keep, 6-10 a.m.; Ric Thomas, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.; Bob Swanson, 1-4 p.m.; Hal Raymond, 4-7 p.m.; Art Smart, 7 p.m. to midnight; Russ Conrad, midnight to 6 a.m.

"Lattitude within certain frameworks," is music director Jim Hollister's phrase for the station's policy regarding on-the-air personalities. "We encourage the guys to be themselves. Our jocks are not all in one age group and each one brings a different approach to his time slot." The deejays work from a playlist which, although it is relatively tight, is changed often.

KEX has moved to the forefront among listeners in the 25-49 age group. The playlist ranges from MOR type numbers such as "Close To You" to the rocking "Mississippi" deck by John Phillips. Each Saturday night, the accent is place firmly on oldies with these decks comprising 50% of the disks heard.

The station also relies on a great deal of pre-produced comedy material. These brief bits feature the KEX air staff and are easily programmed in with the recorded music. Other offbeat features crop up from time to time, and the station boasts of having the only lady helicopter traffic reporter in the U.S. Known as Sheila, Queen Of The Sky, she is heard twice daily.

"Music is an important part of our programming," says program director Vic Ives, "but we also stress entertainment for its own sake. We aim at being bright, entertaining and fun."

PRIDE is very often an elusive commodity in the record business.

At Lizard, we have a new artist of whom we are very proud. His new album is called "No Apologies." We commend it to your attention. His name is

NOLAN

WHAT THE CRITICS ARE SAYING:

"Nolan Porter is the most exciting male singer I've heard since the world first discovered Mick Jagger."

"There is magic in this debut album. It's the kind of record you can't help but respond to on both a physical and emotional level."

". . . Certain to be one of the most important new singers in the wide field of popular music."

"The most compelling feature of Nolan's vocal performances is his astounding versatility. On different cuts you can detect some of the flamboyance of James Brown, the soul of Otis Redding, the poetics of Donovan, and the clean joyous economy of John Sabastian. But for overall feeling, I have to say that Nolan evokes the same kind of raw response that I first got from Ray Charles before he made the switch to country and western."

$50,000 Ad Budget Will Support Okun's 'Great Songs Of 60's'

Book Of 80 Songs From N.Y. Times

NEW YORK — Milt Okun's "The Great Songs . . . of the Sixties" will be the first book published by the New York Times without a publishing association with another book publisher. However, the newspaper's publishing division, Quadrangle Books, has made a sales and distribution agreement with Random House on the book, according to Herbert Nagourney, associate director of the Times' book division, which will support the book with a $50,000 ad campaign, considered a hefty figure in the book field.

The book, arranged for voice, piano and guitar, will contain 80 songs covering the rock, soul, jazz, the movies, protest, folk and Broadway. Okun, the vet arranger, musical director, disk producer and folk musicologist, noted, however, that "those whose absence would absolutely preclude the book being called the great songs of the sixties are: Lennon & McCartney, Bob Dylan, Paul Simon and Bacharach & David."

The book, 9" by 12" with a special spiral binding to allow it to be placed easily on a piano or for guitar, will be available in the fall with a first printing of 30,000 copies. It'll be priced at $14.95 until Christmas, $17.50 thereafter. Tom Wicker, associate editor of the Times, has written an introduction.

Okun, producer-arranger-musical director for Peter, Paul & Mary, Harry Belafonte, the Chad Mitchell Trio, among others, has also edited a best-selling book, "Something to Sing About," later tied-in with a 3-LP set of the same name.

TIC May Offer Shares Of TMC

NEW YORK — Bob Lifton, chairman of the board of Transcontinental Investing Corp., told stockholders at the company's annual meeting held here last week (25) that the individual parts that make up Transcontinental "are considerably more valuable than the current market price our company indicates."

The make-up of the company consists of The American Bank of Commerce, North American Acceptance Corporation and the Security Mortgage Investors' stock it owns, and Transcontinental Music Corp. The balance of the company's holdings consists of real estate and other investments.

"Therefore," he said, "we are reviewing ways of enabling our shareholders to participate directly in the component companies through a spin-off or other distributions of shares. For example, we are currently exploring ways to permit the distribution of TMC stock to our stockholders. Based on the current direction TMC is taking, the shares distributed could prove highly valuable.

"As part of such a program we also have in mind the sale of the American Bank of Commerce at a price which will allow us to repay the relatively small long-term debt we carry," he added.

"These steps," Lifton said, "would leave Transcontinental debt-free. Its net worth would be over $65 million in addition to its holdings in Security Mortgage Investors which has a current market value of approximately $16 million. It would also be in an excellent cash position to concentrate on its finance and land development activities.

"The combination of TIC and TMC stock, which our shareholders would have as part of such a program, could have a much greater worth than today's market value," he said.

In discussing 1970 Mr. Lifton said that it would be inappropriate to compare the company's earnings flow on a quarter-by-quarter basis with 1969. "This year we expect the earnings of TMC to follow a different pattern with lower earnings in the first three quarters and a sharp upswing in the final quarter. Also in 1969, the company profitably sold some of its holdings in the first two quarters. This year the counterpart of that activity, namely the extension of our real estate operations into land development will probably reflect mostly in the company's third and fourth periods.

"In view of these facts and the general economic situation, including the prevailing money market," Lifton said, "it was impossible to predict the level of the company's earnings for the year."

He pointed out that since the company was formed in 1961, net worth has increased six times, gross income has multiplied over nine times and earnings have quadrupled. "I think the decade ahead will see greater growth whether as a single entity or as a combination of component companies spun off to our shareholders.

Chevry To Host 1st VIDCA Seminar On International Videorecordings

NEUILLY, FRANCE — Bernard Chevry, creator of the MIDEM and MIP TV is planning the first international symposium for videorecording specialists to be held at Cannes in next April. According to Chevry, the gathering is being arranged as a result of "consciousness of the needs implicit in the videorecording field for exchange and contact between social and professional circles." He added that he believes "an annual international meeting ground, geared to facilitating this contact, be instituted now."

The April meeting is set for the 17th to the 23rd in Cannes to coincide with the MIP TV gathering and aims to develop a symposium for specialists in all fields to voice their opinion on the future of the videocassette and videorecording as an informational, educational and pleasure tool. It will mark the creation of the VIDCA, International Market for Videocassette and Videorecord Programmes and Equipment.

Chevry, whose international meetings through MIDEM for music publishers and MIP TV regarding television programs, expressed three aims for the VIDCA: to provide a market for the sales and acquisition of software through the meetings of indie producers, suppliers and executives; to become a showcase for the latest developments in hardware systems for professionals to compare performance and acquaint themselves with the advantages and costs of the systems best suited to their uses; and to provide a platform for open discussion of problems and applications of the videorecording materials.

N.A. Philips Expects 4-Channel Cassette Product By Year's End

NEW YORK — Matthew Dorenbosch, executive vice president of North American Philips, has stated that his firm is mounting a push for incorporation of four-channel stereo sound into the compact cassette system; and that N.A. Philips is already working on technology to make the 4-channel tapes fully compatible with existing stereo and mono equipment.

Dorenbosch indicated last week that product to support the new technology is scheduled to be ready before the end of the year.

"Since introducing the cassette system into the U.S. nearly six years ago," he said, "the company has continued to introduce improvements for the system without obsoleting recorders and playback equipment presently in use. N.A. Philips has long sought a method for incorporating 4-channel sound without compromising commitments to consumers and to the trade. Technology has developed to a point where the objective of two-way compatibility can be achieved."

According to Dorenbosch, his firm plans to encourage industry-wide cooperation in establishing standards for such a system.

Norelco Reveals Three Players With Dual-Motor Tape Transport

An innovative dual-motor tape transport system, integrated circuitry, fuller sound reproduction and styling departures are featured in new Norelco cassette tape recorders announced last week by North American Philips Corp.

The four new recorder/players (to be unveiled at the Consumer Electronics Show) include models 1570, 1530 and 1320 — with the advanced new two-motor tape transport that results in fewer moving parts providing greater reliability and durability — plus Model 1440, a miniature recorder and the first Norelco cassette machine to use integrated circuits.

Additionally, the three new recorders with the dual-motor system feature larger speakers for better mid-range reproduction and incorporate design and color innovations as well. Model 1570 also includes an FM-AM radio.

"The two-motor transport," according to home entertainment products up Paul Nelson, "provides the fastest and most dependable wind and rewind action so far available in cassette machines."

In the new engineering design, one motor is assigned to the recording/playback function and another furnishes the fast forward and rewind action. Eliminated are many of the complex step-up pulleys, belt arrangements and linkages required in single motor models to accomplish the three tape transport motions.

"The results," Nelson said, "are less wear and tear, hence greater reliability and longer life for the machine."

He noted that the three cassette recorders with the new tape transport design also have larger speakers, permitting better reproduction of the important middle frequencies for fuller enjoyment of the wide assortment of pre-recorded cassettes now available to the public.

The four new Norelco models all are equipped with dynamic microphones which feature remote start-stop switches. Each can play back through its own speaker or through an external speaker, has a lock that safeguards against accidental erasure of pre-recorded cassettes, handy push-button controls and is completely solid-state. Each is completely portable and operates vertically or horizontally.

Herr Is Gen Mgr With 3M Minicom

ST. PAUL, MINN. — Robert Herr, one of a team of 3M researchers who pioneered in the development of magnetic recording tape and equipment nearly a quarter of a century ago, has been appointed general manager of the company's Mincom division which markets a broad range of recording products.

Herr succeeds R. J. Gavin as general manager. Gavin, division vice president, will continue in that capacity, the company said, devoting his efforts to long range planning.

Herr joined 3M in 1946, after serving several years as a physicist with the Naval Ordnance Laboratories during World War II. As a member of the physics section of 3M's Central Research laboratories, he first concentrated on the development of magnetic recording tape. Subsequently, his research concentrated on electrical insulating materials, including tapes and resins. He also directed marketing research on a still wider range of efforts.

Mincom's product line includes the Wollensak family of audio visual and home entertainment tape recorders, 3M brand professional recorders electron beam recorders for transferring video signals to photographic film, precision instrumentation recorders and other instrumentation and video recording equipment and accessories.

NEW YORK — Audio Magnetics Corp. is introducing a line of 8-track blank tape cartridges at the Consumer Electronics Show this week.

The company will manufacture 36-minute and 72-minute blank tapes for marketing through regular distribution channels.

Audio also introduces two other new products at the New York show: including a Philips-style hard plastic box for 5-inch and 7-inch open reel tapes and a tent-carded package that allows blank cassettes to be rack merchandised.

Le-Bo Cuts Prices As Gov't Support

NEW YORK — Leslie Bokor and Les Dame have informed Cash Box that they will announce drastic price reductions on many of the items in Le-Bo's accessories line effective July 1. Both men made a point of stating that the price cuts are being instituted in line with the Government's desires for self-restraint in the areas of prices and wages.

In addition, Le-Bo Products will be introducing three additions to their line in the coming month. These will be specially designed cassette and tape home storage units with stylish furniture finishing to enhance the decor in which they are placed.

DETROIT — Lear Jet Stereo, Inc., has introduced its third stereo 8-track cartridge recorder. The newest model, H-350, is a deluxe deck with fast forward indexing, automatic stop at track end in the record mode, single and double track erase, and the capacity to record in either full stereo or monaural on all 8 individual tracks.

Product manager Robert Kilchenman stated that, "we refer to the model H-350 unofficially as the deluxe deck because of the advanced deluxe features incorporated, though it will carry a competitive suggested retail price of $189.95. We will also be introducing a more conventional 8-track recorder deck in the near future at lower price."

Lear Jet's H-350 is finished in a walnut cabinet and comes with twin dynamic microphones.

Picks of the Week

DIONNE WARWICK (Scepter 12285)
Paper Mache (2:56) (Blue Seas/Jac, ASCAP — Bacharach, David)
One of the rare Bacharach/David comments on the world (the last was "Windows of the World") brings a refreshing change from love and loss to both the team and Miss Warwick. Scintillating arrangements, as usual, and the sparkle of performance and production assure across the board exposure. No flip info.

THE WHO (Decca 32708)
Summertime Blues (3:22) (Rumbalero/Elvis Presley/Viva, BMI — Cochran
Twice a hit, the "Summertime Blues" comes coasting back in yet another explosive time round. Latest is the Who's from their "Live At Leads" LP with a ready-made reaction tailored by their early airplay and on stage presentations. Cochran and Cheer, move over. Flip: "Heaven & Hell" (3:31) (Track, BMI — Entwhistle)

NEIL DIAMOND (Bang 578)
Solitary Man (2:28) (Tallyrand, BMI — Diamond)
There's no gem like an old Diamond polished up for new viewing as is the case with this revived side. Attractive arrangements, teen and young adult oriented lyrics and the vocal performance fuse into a shining top forty jewel. Flip: "The Time is Now" (3:10) (Same credits.)

JR. WALKER & THE ALL STARS (Soul 35073)
Do You See My Love (for You Growing) (3:14) (Jobete, BMI — Beavers, Bristol)
Tension is built into the opening of this new vocal side from Jr. Walker, and the listener magnetism is maintained by a straining sax wail and feverish solo/chorus track. Sensational blues and teen-forty workout. Flip: "Groove & Move" (2:53) (Jobete, BMI — Bristol, DeWalt, Hollis)

ISLEY BROTHERS (T-Neck 921)
Girls Will Be Girls, Boys Will Be Boys (2:30) (Triple 3, BMI — R,O & R Isley)
An astonishing changeabout from the Isleys shakes them out of the rhythmic carbon copying rut and sets them on a fresh new track. Team relies move heavily on vocal fireworks to cook up the excitement that will break this side R&B. Flip: No info.

EDDIE FLOYD (Stax 0072)
My Girl (3:19) (Jobete, BMI — Robinson, White)
Jobete's major standard, "My Girl" takes kindly to a readjustment for Memphis sound in this new Eddie Floyd single. The outstanding material and Floyd's woman's-man reputation should start the action folling from R&B to top forty fronts. Flip: No info.

ANDY KIM (Steed 727)
It's Your Life (2:45) (Unart/Joachim, BMI — Barry, Kim)
Two of the major forces behind the Archies' scenes, Jeff Barry and Andy Kim turn some of their teeny-sould material into a likely hit outing for Kim himself. Fine rhythmic force and a power-packed production should excite top forty showings. Flip: "To Be Continued" (3:17) (Same credits)

BILL DEAL & THE RHONDELS (Heritage 824)
Hey Bulldog (2:27) (Maclen, BMI — Lennon, McCartney)
Bill Deal and companions cast off their rough-hewn style with their last single; now they enter a new phase with a cleaner production sound that adds new dimension to the team's sound. Working with a lesser Lennon-McCartney song, the Rhondels come up with a winning teen entry. Flip: No info.

MAC DAVIS (Columbia 45192)
I'll Paint You A Song (3:24) (Ensign, BMI — Davis)
An outstanding Mac Davis composition for the score of "Norwood," this ballad presents the artist in a dramatic light bound to please fans won by his "Whoever Finds This." Extremely fine side for all formats, teen and country to easy listening. Flip: "Closest I Ever Came" (2:54) (Metric/Low-Twi, BMI — Davis)

BOBBY GOLDSBORO (United Artists 50696)
It's Gonna Change (2:40) (Detail, BMI — Goldsboro)
Lyrics with the personal touch that made "Honey" a million-seller for this artist, and addition of a more rhythmic undercurrent give B.G. another strong side for total exposure. Expect the rhythm track to catch top forty ears and the lyric to appeal to older listening audiences. Flip: "Down on the Bayou" (2:55) (Same credits)

THE GENTRYS (Sun 1118)
He'll Never Love You (1:59) (no credits available)
"Cinnamon Girl" having just about wended its course, the Gentrys come back with a softer ballad entry to reenter the chart running. Enticing work with young teen listeners the target group should maintain the group's sales drive. Flip: "I Hate to See You Go" (1:15)

THE BEACH BOYS (Brother 0929)
Slip On Through (2:14) (Daywin/Brother, BMI — D. Wilson)
Radical Shift in style leaves one wondering about the Beach Boys' name tag on this new side. Group's power is channeled into a more contemporary and less distinctively BB mannerism that should ignite sales even more brightly than their first Reprise venture. Flip: "This Whole World" (2:00) (Brother, BMI — B. Wilson) More of a transitional piece, this side deserves extra consideration as the plug track.

ESTHER PHILLIPS (Atlantic 19388)
Set Me Free (3:32) (Tree, BMI — Putman, Jr.)
Familiar ballad is refashioned by Esther Phillips to become the side that should earn her the recognition she has long deserved. Her delivery carries just an extra bit of electrical charge to sear listener interest on blues and top forty fronts. Flip: "Brand New Day" (4:15) (Van-Jan, ASCAP — Morrison)

BURL IVES (Cyclone 75014)
One More Time Billy Brown (2:59) (Martin Cooper, ASCAP — Cooper)
Ever since the surprise ending of "Honey," there is a characteristic interest-locking quality in certain ballads. This Burl Ives performance also telegraphs its closing twist, but follows through one step further in an intriguing across-the-board offering. Flip: "Tied Down Here at Home" (2:20) (J.L.S., ASCAP — Robertson)

Newcomer Picks

BERT SOMMER (Eleuthera 470)
We're All Playing in the Same Band (3:17) (Luvlin/Magdalena, BMI — Sommer)
A noisemaker with Capitol, live appearances and his "Hair" reputation have laid solid groundwork in front for Bert Sommer's new single. Side is an intriguing steel-band touched rock ballad that carries sound magnetism for top forty consideration and even MOR thought as a pace-changer. Flip: "It's A Beautiful Day" (3:00) (Same credits)

Choice Programming

Choice Programming selections are singles which, in the opinion of our reviewing staff, are deserving of special programmer consideration.

LOU RAWLS (Capitol 2856)
Bring It On Home To Me (2:59) (Kags, BMI — Cooke) Though this Sam Cooke song has been done countless times, Lou Rawls brings an originality and freshness to "Bring It On Home" that could relight its chart activity yet again. Flip: "Can You Dig It/Take Me For What I Am" (3:14) (Lou Rawls/Kags, BMI — Rawls, Cooke)

THE SOULFUL DYNAMICS (Buddah 173)
Mademoiselle Ninette (2:28) (Multitone, ASCAP — Hildebrandt, Winhauer) European variant on the bubblegum technique has earned a gold record in Germany and now could win top forty favor in the U.S. Flip: "Monkey" (3:29) (Multiton, ASCAP — Arr: Baierle)

THE J.B.'s (King 6317)
The Grunt (Pt. 1) (2:47) (Golo, BMI — Brown, J.B.'s) Searing instrumental powered by a sax spotlight and rhythmic fueld for R&B and possible top forty breakouts. Flip: "Pt. 2" (2:10) (Same credits)

STRAWBERRY ALARM CLOCK (Uni 55241)
Girl From The City (2:30) (Fitzpatrick, ASCAP — Marshall) From the "Beyond The Valley Of The Dolls" track comes this CSN&Y-like pop ballad side. Top forty fare. Flip: "Three" (2:30) (Fitzpatrick, ASCAP — King, Freeman)

AL KOOPER (Columbia 45179)
Brand New Day (3:14) (Unart, BMI — Kooper) Strange outing has the ready-made familiarity afforded by use in "The Landlord." Pretty on its own, the song could score AM & FM play. Flip: "Love Theme From 'The Landlord'" (3:13) (Unart, BMI — Kooper)

SAVAGE GRACE (Reprise 0924)
Come On Down (3:30) (Cannibal/WB-Tamerlane, BMI — Koss) Powerhouse instrumental work and a good vocal performance could ignite this from-the-LP selection for Savage Grace. Flip: Longer (4:19) version.

JAMES STEWART & HENRY FONDA (NGC 007)
Rolling Stone (3:00) (Montage, ASCAP — Scharf, Kasha, Hirschhorn) Totally off-the-wall ballad in the "Wandrin' Star" vein, but with spoken comments that just could spark enough play to prod hit sales. Flip: "Theme From 'The Cheyenne Social Club'" (2:20) (Montage, ASCAP — Scharf)

THE SPECTRAS (Project Three 1384)
And You Love Her (2:59) (Record/Lisa Sue; ASCAP — Hest) Attractively styled ballad which has both teen and adult power on this new side from the Spectras. Flip: "Happy Life Together" (2:53) (Record/Music, Music, Music, ASCAP — Jordan)

TEN WHEEL DRIVE (Polydor 14037)
Morning Much Better (2:38) (Schefrin-Zager/Noma, BMI—Zager, Schefrin) Track has been spotted as an FM showpiece from the latest Ten Wheel Drive LP. Could pick up added top forty interest. Flip: "Stay With Me" (3:35) (Ragmar/Crenshaw, BMI—Ragovoy, Weiss)

DEEP PURPLE (Warner Bros. 7405)
Black Night (2:58) (HEC, ??—Blackmore, Gillan, Glover, Lord, Paice) Thundering side with a powerhouse rhythm track to inspire pop-forty as well as FM coverage on the new Deep Purple outing. Flip: "Into The Fire" (3:35) (Same credits)

NEW COLONY SIX (Mercury 73093)
Close Your Eyes Little Girl (2:49) (New Colony, BMI—Rice, McBride) Yet another satiny ballad from the New Colony Six presents their soft-sell material with a luster that could capture across the board notice. Flip: No info.

THE JERRY HAHN BROTHERHOOD (Columbia 45195)
Captain Bobby Stout (2:59) (Sharp—Gannon, ASCAP—Tietgen) Work gang blues with an amplified instrumental support could make this unusual side a powerful FM entry with top forty prospects. Flip: No info.

MAVIS STAPLES (Volt 4044)
I Have Learned To Do Without You (4:09) (Groovesville, BMI—Barnes, Jordon, Davis) That voice, that voice and a standout ballad could make this the track that brings in R&B hit showings. Flip: "Since I Fell For You" (3:34) (Warner Bros., ASCAP—Johnson)

MAN & WIFE (Epic 10633)
Who Shot The Piper Man (2:52) (Blackwood, BMI—Ford) English import with a teasing sound that could just make this a long-shot that comes home on the top forty track. Novel teen offering. Flip: "you Got Soul" (3:24) (Blackwood, BMI—Ford)

ZENDICK (Pslhrtz 100)
Is There No Peace (3:06) (Into Now, BMI—Kossy) Instrumental charged rock side with the power to captivate top forty and FM audience. Flip: "Aesop" (2:50) (Into Now, BMI—Brower)

GENTLEHOOD (Zabad 2525)
Gazebo (2:44) (Zodian, BMI — Feigel) Impressive new act debuts with a softened rock ballad that could attract consideration on both FM and top forty-AM levels. Flip: No info. Zabad is distributed by Musicor.

RICK McCLELLAN (Quad 105)
Redheaded Woman (3:06) (Stellar, BMI — McClellan) Medium paced side that makes up in power what it lacks in speed. Could see enough teen discotheque interest to spur top forty action. Flip: "2:30 In The Morning" (Same credits)

MEL WYNN TREND (Mercury 73073)
That's When The World Really Began (2:28) (Three Bridges/Cypher, ASCAP —Wynn) Brass intro promises attractive teen material that follows. Fulfilling, this the Mel Wynn Trend could crack top forty playlists. Flip: "Hit Record" (2:29) (Same credits)

Artist Haven At TEMPI Studios

NEW YORK — Producer Rachel Elkind and performer Walter Carlos, responsible for the smash "Switched-On-Bach" LP on Columbia and their current hit, "The Well-Tempered Synthesizer," will be recording new artists under a unique policy.

They are building a 16-track Dolby State of The Art studio called TEMPI in their 4-story, West 87th Street, brownstone that will allow the artist to perform under "ideal conditions." And that means mentally as well as physically" said Rachel Elind.

"The performer will not be pushed to end a session because of time," she said. "Nor will he be deprived of having an important say in what material is to be released. Nor will we hang onto an artist's contract if we feel we're not helping him".

"The philosophy of TEMPI" she added "will be to create an atmosphere of family. Performers signed to TEMPI can share our home and our dinner table anytime they please."

"Frankly," said Rachel, "Walter and I intend to make TEMPI as famous for the conditions we offer an artist as the product we put out".

'New' Barnaby Makes Good

HOLLYWOOD — Managers are never really happy with the treatment they get from most disk companies, but Barnaby Records is out to change all that. Alan Bernard, after years of fighting with disk firms to get the best possible care for his artists, now finds himself on the other side of the fence as head of Andy Williams' Barnaby Records operation, and his philosophy is "I'd like to run this company as if I had an act on the label."

Bernard, who's been Williams' manager for the last ten years, was not involved with Barnaby when it first started over a year ago, but was called in recently to give the Columbia-distributed label some new direction. First single from Barnaby under the new management was "Everything Is Beautiful," which gave the label its first hit and Ray Stevens his first #1 disk since "Ahab The Arab." Stevens, a former management client of Bernard, was also set as summer replacement for the Andy Williams TV'er, and preliminary indications show that the series will be a heavy success.

"We can't guarentee every artists we sign will get the same kind of TV exposure," said Bernard, "but we are capable of making efficient use of TV to help an artist bring home a "happening' record and then help build his career." Bernard, who guided Lloyd Thaxton from a local show to the first important sydicated music show, and has also helped the careers of Roger Miller, Jack Jones, Bob Newheart and many others, seems to know whereof he speaks.

"We don't want to manage the acts we sign, but we feel that our experience in the business helps us advise on important career decisions," Bernard added.

Cadence Reissues

Under Bernard, Barnaby has been busy signing new acts and production deals. Several new artists will be introduced at the upcoming Columbia convention, including Jimmy Buffett, whose "Down To Earth" album was produced by Bobby Russell and Buzz Cason; and Mayberry R.F.D.'s Ken Berry. Also recording for the label are Peyton Hoag, being produced by Ray Stevens; and the Crickets.

The label has already started reissuing material from the old Cadence catalog, with a two-record specially priced set of "The Everly Brothers Greatest Hits" being the first LP. In addition, a flock of singles by such artists as the Chordettes, Julius LaRosa, Johnny Ray, Archie Bleyer and others are being issued as part of the Epic "Memory Lane" series. Bernard is currently contemplating release of some of the jazz album in the Candid catalog.

Uni 'Care Packages' Serve To Introduce Label's Key Talent

LOS ANGELES — Close on the heels of MCA's newly created Manufacturing, Marketing and Distribution organization, the Uni Records division, under vp general manager Russ Regan, has instituted a plan designed primarily to familiarize MCA's sales force with the label's wares.

A number of "care" packages comprised of existing and new materials from Uni's promotion, advertising and press information departments is now shipping to MCA distribution centers. "They contain," said Rick Frio, Uni's national sales manager, "a potpourri of merchandising aids on current targets like Daybreak ("Good Morning Freedom"), England's Elton John, Dewey Martin and consistent sellers like Bill Cosby, Fever Tree and Neil Diamond."

The varied assortment includes four-color consumer tabloids on Neil Diamond and Fever Tree, European press reprints pertaining to Elton John, merchandisers for use in conjunction with Dick Glasser's "Artistry in Sound" LP, including a radio spot transcription and a primer on Uni Records executive staff. Additionally, a weekly wrap-up, The Uni Form, from Pat Pipolo, Uni's national promotion director, is in the works.

Frio said, "product can derive a large amount of 'built-in' exposure if presented properly: then, of course, the 'in the groove' requisite takes over. A good example is our forthcoming album, "Dewey Martin and Medicine Ball." By itself, it is merely a name and a title, however, a well informed representative would know that Martin is the last member of the legendary Buffalo Springfield, and the title is also the name of the artist's new group. Certainly worth noting in lieu of other Buffalo alumni who have gone on the stardom, i.e. Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young, Poco etc."

Further attesting to Uni's logic in providing a consistent flow of information to the field, is the momentary debut of "Badfoot Brown and the Bunions Bradford Funeral and Marching Band." The LP actually spotlights a new facet to the talent of Bill Cosby. A serious endeavor, it was composed by the actor-comedian and also showcases his prowess on a number of instruments. The full orchestra, with Cosby at the helm, will auspiciously launch the LP at the Newport Jazz Festival July 12.

Set for release are LP's by new English group Freedom, Greatest Hits anthology by various ABC/Dunhill artists, the first LP by Bush, another new English group, and the new Roy Head LP, his first for label.

RCA Signs Osmosis: New 7 Man Group

NEW YORK — RCA Records has signed a group called, Osmosis, whose debut album, titled "Osmosis" will be released in July. Independently produced by Dave Blume for Red River Productions, the seven piece group is spearheaded by veteran jazz musician Charlie Mariano.

Besides Mariano on flute, alto sax, soprano sax and nathaswaram, (an Oriental reed instrument), and Bobby Knox as vocalist, Osmosis is Danny Comfort, bass; Lou Peterson, drums; Bobby Clark, percussion, drums; Andy Steinhorn, guitar (background vocals) and Charlie Bechler, keyboards, melodicas, tympani and chimes).

The group is scheduled to play the Boston workshop in August with a free concert tour being planned for the fall for colleges, high schools and junior high schools in the New England area. The group will be playing in Japan later this year, with Mariano taking a solo engagement in Finland for three weeks starting July 1.

Pop Picks

BLOOD, SWEAT & TEARS 3 — Blood, Sweat & Tears — Columbia KS 30090

After a year and a quarter comes the new BS&T set. In that time, it seems, they haven't lost the ultra commercial formula that has launched them to stardom. The extended "Lucretia MacEvil" bears a marked resemblance to "Spinning Wheel" and the instrumental passages in their version of the Stones' "Sympathy For The Devil" seem to have been spun out of the "Blues" cut from the last LP. Aesthetically, the most successful cuts are the low-keyed ones such as "The Battle," on which Steve Katz sings an interesting change of pace lead. "Fire And Rain," and "He's A Runner." Any way you look at it, this one will be high on the charts in no time flat.

THE ASSOCIATION "LIVE" — Warner Bros. 2WS 1868

This polished seven man group which has had an enviable string of hits is heard in a two record set, recorded live during their recent college tour. Many of their singles successes are featured, among them "Along Comes Mary," "Never My Love," "Windy" and, of course, "Cherish." But there is more, much more — the funky "Dubuque Blues," a full scale production of "Requiem For The Masses," a gently rocking "Babe, I'm Gonna Leave You" — all enhanced by the sounds of crowd response as well as the Association's on-stage banter between songs. Should be a big charter.

ECOLOGY — Rare Earth — Rare Earth RS 514

Rare Earth, most successful of the new Motown groups on the Rare Earth label, here comes up with their second LP. Most interesting cut on the album is the group's version of the Temptation's smash "(I Know) I'm Losing You," which runs almost eleven minutes. Track was produced by Motown stalwart Norman Whitfield, who has used stereo and echo studio effects with fine results. Set also includes an extended re-working of "Eleanor Rigby." Group has improved musically from the first LP; the long instrumental passages on the set are more together. Should please their many fans.

HOME — Procol Harum — A&M SP 4261

Hard not to go overboard in praising "Home," the fourth Procol Harum album. While the set is striking on first hearing the album has that extremely rare quality of getting better with further listening. Most noticeable is that there is more of Robin Trower's fine guitar on the cuts, especially "Whiskey Train" and the Mountainesque "Still There'll Be More." Gary Brooker and Keith Reid's writing has improved beyond measure and "Piggy Pig Pig," "The Dead Man's Dream," and the monumental, moody "Whaling Stories" are among the finest work they've yet turned out. Like their last LP, "Salty Dog," this one has a total, cyclical feel to it that increases the classical atmosphere of the album. Sure to be huge as the set is already on the charts.

THE HAWAIIANS — Original Soundtrack — United Artists UAS 5210

Veteran composer Henry Mancini can always be counted on to come up with consistently original tracks for films and the "Hawaiians" score is no exception. Mancini, whose credits include scores from "Peter Gunn," "Charade," and "Breakfast At Tiffany's," among a host of others, is a stickler for authenticity. Accordingly, he has employed koto, Chinese zither and a number of Oriental woodwinds as solo instruments (film deals with the Chinese emigration to Hawaii). All the cuts are good. "Pineapple Pirates" is most like his old style, evoking images of Mancini's "Mr. Lucky" score. This will do well.

PERFORMANCE — Original Motion Picture Sound Track — Warner Bros. 2554

A super-charged grab bag of musical sound, this is the track from the upcoming film which stars Mick Jagger. While the Stone is only heard on one cut, the powerful and raunchy "Memo From Turner," there are some stirring numbers by Merry Clayton and Randy Newman. Buffy Sainte-Marie contributes a couple of vocals and a fine mouth bow solo; the Last Poets shake up the premises with "Wake Up, Niggers." A major portion of the music was composed by Jack Nitzsche. This could develop into a sizeable item.

THE SESAME STREET BOOK & RECORD — Original Cast — Columbia CS 1069

Here is the original cast album of the critically praised and highly successful children's educational television show, "Sesame Street." The album, which showcases the program's regulars in performances of songs from the show, comes with a 24 page color book and a full color poster. Children will be begging their parents for the set, and it could well become a huge seller.

SUSAN SINGS SONGS FROM SESAME STREET — Scepter SPS 584

Thousands of children will want to own this record, and if enough of their parents buy it for them, it will be a hit. Susan (Loretta Long), one of the stars of "Sesame Street, probably the most acclaimed children's television program of all time, sings, with children's chorus, twelve songs from the show in a bright, cheerful manner. Album was produced by "Sesame Street" musical director Joe Rapose, whose work on the show earned him a 1970 Emmy Award.

Pop Best Bets

CALIFORNIA GIRL — Eddie Floyd — Stax STS 2029

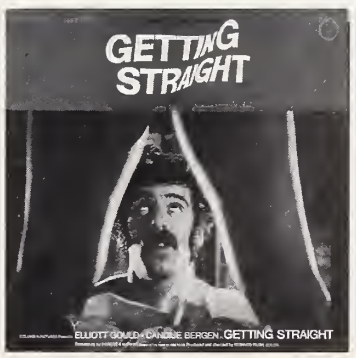
Eddie Floyd did nicely with his single of the title tune of this album, and he should do nicely with the set itself. In addition to "California Girl," the popular R&B chanter offers "Rainy Night In Georgia," "People, Get It Together," "Hey There Lonely Girl" and seven others. Eddie's fans should want to save a spot on their record shelves for this one, so have some copies in stock.

THE ME NOBODY KNOWS — Original Cast — Atlantic SD 1566

"The Me Nobody Knows," represents, as Clive Barnes wrote, "the victory of the human spirit over circumstances." The show is based on the writings of ghetto children between the ages of 7-18 from the New York City school system and the music is by Gary William Friedman and Will Holt. The score is superb; a powerful statement about the New York people tend to ignore. Particular standouts from the set are "How I Feel," spotlighting Jose Fernandez and Beverly Ann Bremers in a memorable duet, and "Light Sings," a rousing show-stopping number. An important show to see and hear.

DOC SEVERINSEN'S CLOSET — Doc Severinsen and the Now Generation Brass — Command RSSD-950-S

This LP certainly seems to be a turning point in the career of trumpeter Doc Severinsen. For one thing the music is much more serious than any he has recorded before. Doc's version of King Crimson's epic, "In The Court Of The Crimson King," is seven and a half minutes of musical brilliance. Not the usual middle of the road rendition, the cut takes on new dimensions led by Doc's soaring Spanish-tinged trumpet. Other cuts include "Footprints Of The Giant," based on Bela Bartok melodies and an "Abbey Road" medley. All in all, a surprising and exciting album that could see chart action.



GETTING STRAIGHT — Original Soundtrack Recording — Colgems COSO-5010

The film score for "Getting Straight" features selections by P.K. Limited and the New Establishment. Composer Ronald Stein conducts several numbers and there are excerpts of dialogue as spoken by the movie's principals, Elliott Gould and Candice Bergen. Title theme was composed by David Gates of the Bread group. Entire package is an attractive one which should get impetus from the popularity of the film.

Buddy Miles/Chariot

WHISKEY A GO GO, L. A. — I've been sitting here for the last hour trying to think of a really clever way to begin this Buddy Miles review, and I guess this is it. It would have been simple to pull all the old phrases out of the review hat and remix them for the 1000th time, but Buddy Miles, finally, deserves something better, much better.

I've seen the old Buddy Miles Express over a dozen times, in small clubs, concerts, dances, and though Buddy always showed some talent, and the Express was always somewhat compentent, they were easily dismissable as 'having potential.' The new Buddy Miles Band, after an almost disasterous debut at a recent Jimi Hendrix concert, has turned into a first rate rock & soul band, perhaps the only one of its kind, mixing progressive riffs, contemporary lyrics and moving, soulful, driving rhythm into a supercharged show that had the Whiskey overflowing with excitement.

Buddy, who at one time was afraid to come out from behind his drums, now spends more than half the show center stage, leaving the drumming to someone else. It would be nice to say that Buddy moves with the grace of an antelope, but that's too much to expect from one his size. Yet, Buddy has started to develop a sense of inner motion that lets him appear at ease as he moves across the stage.

The new band, 10 pieces with Buddy, is super-tight, and while not as progressive as the Family Stone (and they're not trying to be), they are an evolutionary step above the usual soul band. Tunes ranged from Neil Young's "Down By The River" thru Otis' "Cigarettes & Coffee" (an old Miles favorite) to "Them Changes," the title tune of his latest Mercury LP.

Chariot is an enjoyable hard-rock trio who lack the material to make their musical knowledge leave a lasting impression on an audience.

Traffic
Bloomsbury People/SRS

ARAGON BALLROOM, CHICAGO — Several thousand fans packed the Aragon Ballroom for the Friday night concert presented by Michael Butler's American Tribal Productions, which successfully took over the room a couple of months back. Traffic, featuring Stevie Winwood, was the headliner and the obvious draw of the evening. Group's first couple of numbers received mediocre response from the audience, but by the time the complete set was over—1 hour 45 minutes and 2 encores later, the crowd was on its feet. The turning point occurred following Stevie Winwood and company's performance of the title tune and excerpts from their newest UA album "John Barleycorn Must Die". From here on the crowd was their's.

A new group, Bloomsbury People, made their debut on the Traffic bill. Together less than a year, they possess an unlimited catalog of original material, some of which was recently incorporated into their current album on MGM. Group's performance this evening, after a rather slow start and some mike difficulties, went over well with the crowd; their outstanding contribution being a number called "Virginia" which showcased their very accomplished individual musicianship. Just prior to the end of the number group members abandoned their instruments and continued the beat with wooden boards on the floor of the stage. Needless to say, the crowd went wild. Members of Bloomsbury People are: Sigmund Snopek III, keyboards; Greg Janick, organ and saxophone; Dennis Lanting, lead guitar; Ding Lorenz, drums; Paul Du Jardin, bass and Jon Wyderka lead singer.

Unfortunately, we only caught the last few minutes of SRS who were also on the bill, but judging from the condition of the crowd at that time we can assure their reception closely equaled that of Traffic. Sorry we missed them.

Producer's Profile

Where does it all begin for a person like Ted Cooper who has, as a producer, chalked up twenty-three chart records in the last four years? Perhaps it was when he began studying violin at age four. Perhaps it was during his studies at Julliard School of Music, where he was the youngest student to ever be enrolled there. Perhaps it was. . .

In 1965 he joined Shapiro-Bernstein as general professional manager and it was there that he created Alice In Wonderful Productions. During his year at S.B. he produced such artists as the Flamingos, the Drifters, Dobie Gray and Leslie Uggams. The firm, that year, turned out over fifty chart records, including six which reached number 1 in England.

He went on to Epic Records where he was pop A&R head for three years. The first record be produced for the label was "Up Hill Climb To The Bottom" by Walter Jackson, which hit the charts. Eight other records by Jackson, also produced by Cooper, all hit the R&B and/or pop charts. They include "Corner In The Sun," "After You" written by Cooper, "Speak Her Name," "Tear For Tear" (also written by Cooper), and "Deep In The Heart Of Harlem." He produced Damita Jo's famous chart version of "If You Go Away," the song which was to become Rod McKuen's best known. He produced Vivian Reed's chart success, "Yours Until Tomorrow," which helped earn her a NATRA Award as Most Promising Female Artist. He produced The Third Rail's chart record, "Run, Run, Run." Other artists he produced for Epic include the Staple Singers, Major Lance, Maxine Brown and an LP with Godfrey Cambridge.

TED COOPER

He joined Mills Music in March, 1969 as vp. He created Double M Productions. He worked out a deal at Atlantic Records for Walter Jackson and recorded "Any Way That You Want Me" as Walter's first chart record for Cotillion. He also made a deal with Mercury to produce the Magnificent Men.

He left Mills in October, 1969 and formed a new association with Wes Farrell. He produced the Flamingos' single "Buffalo Soldier" on Polydor which went Top 10 R&B and Top 50's on pop. His latest production is "Mongoose" by The Elephant's Memory. Also, he's just finished the Flamingos' album and is working on the completion of the Elephant's Memory LP as well.

Perhaps that is where it all begins for a person like Ted Cooper.

Pop Best Bets

APPEARING NIGHTLY AT THE PIANO — Merv Griffin — Metromedia MD 1023

Merv Griffin, the noted TV personality, is a fine pianist and has put together a deck of top-notch material that is just right for easy listening. Backed by a full orchestra conducted by Frank Hunter (who also arranged the selections), Merv pours forth lots of good things including "Love Theme From Romeo And Juliet/Tschaikowsky's Romeo And Juliet," "Love's Been Good To Me," "Jean," "Delilah" and "Why Can't I Walk Away." Could do nicely.

GENE VINCENT — Gene Vincent — Kama Sutra KSBS 2019

Old-time rock'n'roller Gene Vincent surfaces with his second Kama Sutra LP, which showcases his new sound and plenty of new material. In other words, this is today's Vincent, with his rocker days just a pleasant memory. Vincent's into some fine relaxed music that rather defies classification. Certainly "I Need Woman's Love" and "A Million Shades Of Blue" are country-flavored tunes but "Danse Colinda" is bayou music and the extended "Slow Times Comin," while having C&W lyrics, is arranged in an exciting pure rock manner. Well, whatever you wish to call it, Vincent's singing is deft and sure. And his voice is perfectly suited to each number. Good set that may go places.

FRANK POURCEL PLAYS MIDNIGHT COWBOY — Paramount PAS 5015

Frank Pourcel conducts his own arrangements of a variety of tunes on this album, and the results add up to a very pleasant and tasteful good music package that should please MOR devotees. Among the numbers to which Pourcel lends his talents are "Midnight Cowboy," "The Impossible Dream," "Un Homme Qui Plait" ("My Kind Of Man"), "I'll Never Fall In Love Again" and "Je T'Aime, Moi Non Plus." Easy on the ear without inducing sleep, this is one of the best LP's of its kind that we've heard in a long while.

PETE HAMILL'S MURDER AT KENT STATE UNIVERSITY — Narrated By Rosko — Flying Dutchman FDS-127

New York Post columnist Pete Hamill was among the first and most eloquent journalists to speak out against the action of the National Guard at Kent State as well as the demonstrations conducted by construction workers in New York City. A half dozen of his columns, as spoken by WNEW-FM's Rosko, with the musical backing of James Spaulding (alto sax, flute) and Ron Carter (bass) adds up to an album which effectively captures the uncompromising stance of Hamill and is, in itself, a remarkable experience. LP deserves attention.

3 SHADES OF BLUE — Johnny Hodges With Leon Thomas And Oliver Nelson — Flying Dutchman FDS-120

Veteran jazz saxophonist Hodges recorded this session several weeks before his death. Accompanied by a roster of excellent musicians — Marvin Stamm, Jerome Richardson, Earl Hines, Grady Tate (to name only a few) — and fusing his talents with those of Leon Thomas and band leader and arranger Oliver Nelson, Hodges laid down a superb set. To compliment standards such as "Rockin' In Rhythm" and "Echoes Of Harlem," there's Thomas singing his wryly amusing and constantly swinging "Welcome To New York" and the Nelson piece "Yearning," on which Hodges offers a memorable solo. Outstanding entry.

HENRY PURCELL: AYRES — Deller Consort — RCA Victrola VICS 1506

The Deller Consort, directed by Alfred Deller, whose incomparable counter-tenor voice is the highlight of the ensemble, has done much to promote the music of English composer Henry Purcell (c. 1659-1695), and that worthy task is continued with this record, which is primarily devoted to examples of Purcell's vocal music for the theater. The album will not be to everyone's taste but lovers of Purcell will want to hear it.

the action in one market, Detroit. Mark Lindsay's "Arizona," Billy Joe Royal's "Cherry Hill Park" and Pacific Gas & Electric's "Are You Ready" are other examples; and the label is now reservicing Johnny Mathis' "The Wherefore & The Why" because of a similar reception.

"The reservicing policy is another of our tools," Alexenburg points out. "We make a practice of sending out a reservice copy marked with a special label to avoid confusion, but these are kept to a minimum for particular impact. The field men are provided a telegram explanation of the reason for reservice: areas that have the single showing, chart action, radio listings and the like. By holding down the number and calling special attention only to proven singles, the label has built a respect into its reservices."

If a record is strongly geared for one audience the promotion may be based on starting the song there, but Columbia's eye is always on moving a hit single into top forty. Consequently a Dyson, Chambers Brothers or O. C. Smith will gain exposure in as many radio formats as possible.

Two-Way Information

On the initial relase, Alexenburg will supply information about the direction in which a single is expected to be pushed. Decisions for the directive are arrived at by discussions with home office and field personnel. Based on reactions, he will then send regular directives about stations to contact and areas or outlets that have begun to move the single into other formats. This gives MOR singles the power to go top forty, R&B records a shot at teen sales and country product a chance to sell adult or top forty. "While it's comforting to have success with major acts, a tremendous amount of satisfaction is still in bringing about something with new artists. A first hit for a new act is excellent, but getting a million-seller for performers who are not teen attractions is the greatest feeling."

Supplementing the directives, Alexexburg is supplied with copies of correspondence between national, regional and branch representatives to stay on top of the situation developing for a record.

Each week is wrapped up by running down the radio status of the product and compiling a "master sheet" of all stations playing product, where the song is charted and how frequently he record is played. Separate tallies are compiled for top forty, R&B and country stations and these are on the desks of all field people Monday morning.

On the other side, Alexenburg is kept supplied with computer rundowns of sales figures with totals and regional breakdowns to reflect growth by area for various periods up to the present. These include LP's from which singles can be pulled using added information from radio playlist samplings.

"This gives us the power to follow through with sales by assuring that stock is supplied to cities where the material is played." It also allows Alexenburg and his associates to keep the trades and tip sheets aware of the course of a single or album on the sales level. Handling disbursement of this data are Steve Popovich, assistant director of national promotion; Jim Brown, manager of album promo; Sheila Chlanda, supervisor of promo administration; and Nashville based Gene Ferguson handling promotion of country product.

Sam Goody Ups Sales Earnings

MASPETH, NEW YORK — Sam Goody, Inc. has the results of operations for the first quarter and twelve months ended March 31, 1970: Earnings for the initial 1970 period amounted to $57,900, or $.08 per share, calculated on 683,000 shares, as compared with $55,084, or $.08 per share on 650,000 shares, for the comparable interval in 1969. Sales of the company for the 1970 first quarter amounted to an initial period high of $5,024,556, as compared with $3,584,507 reported in the same 1969 period.

For the trailing twelve months ended March 31, 1970, sales amounted to $17,670,832, as compared with $14,579,813 recorded in the comparable twelve months through March 31, 1969. Earnings rose to $623,072, or $.94 per share, as compared with $383,703, or $.67 per share for the respective twelve months periods. The twelve months ended March 31, 1970 included extraordinary credits of $.11 per share, while the preceding twelve months included a $.03 per share extraordinary charge.

Per share results for the 1969 periods have been adjusted for the 2-for-1 stock split in December, 1969.

Sam Goody, president, noted that start-up costs in connection with establishment of the new wholesale division, as well as interest expenses incurred in financing the acquisition, prevented first quarter earnings from expanding further.

Goody indicated that the company's ninth retail store is scheduled for opening in Sept. 1970, in the regional King's Plaza Shopping Center in Brooklyn, New York, and that the company's tenth unit would be located in a large shopping center being constructed in Woodbridge, New Jersey, which is scheduled for completion in October, 1970.

Sam Goody, Inc., traded over-the-counter, presently operates a chain of eight retail audio and record stores. Through a wholly-owned subsidiary, Brun-International Recotape Corporation, the company is also engaged in the wholesale distribution of records, tapes and accessories.

The label assigned George Steel to the company's New York office to assist national sales manager Mel Posner, who move into such areas as international sales. NEW YORK — COFFEE, TEA OR INFLATION

Last week Bill Graham wrote an open letter to agents and managers in the trade saying that the very existence of his Fillmore rock theaters is being threatened by the high prices of acts. His letter cited that no new acts have come along, that there is no longer any place for them to gain exposure, and that the big acts are making all the big money. In order for small acts to be exposed to the public a bigger act would necessarily have to be the drawing attraction, in any concert in which one of these smaller acts would appear. He says none of the big acts are letting themselves in to that. He also says that his places can't afford the asking prices of these bands, citing the large amounts of cash an act can take home by doing just one performance at a festival. Where will the next acts come from and how will they get the exposure necessary to gain them the success due them?

One of the places some of them will come from is the Bitter End Coffeehouse Circuit. Started three years ago by Fred Weintraub of the Bitter End Cafe, who has since gone on to a job at Warner Brothers, and Mike Brovsky, now president of the whole company called "Campus Directions", the organization has incorporated the whole company called Campus Directions, the organization has incorporated two hundred colleges from coast to coast into its talent circuit. Some thirty-five one week stints from one college's coffeehouse to another. All but 10% of their transportation is paid for by the colleges and they're put up at the expense of the colleges.

The acts play in the college coffeehouses. A coffeehouse consists of a room usually in the student union but always on campus. It's a university approved and sponsored function. Each college has total autonomy over its set-up, and therefore each coffeehouse is flexible to the needs of the campus. The students are charged around 50¢ or $1.00 and in some cases it is free, sponsored entirely by the college. When a college agrees to get into the circuit, someone from the organization goes and sets up the light system, the sound system, and makes the room a total environment conducive to the artist as well as the student. Most of them have facilities for serving coffee, soda, snacks and a few of them offer alcoholic beverages.

At most of the colleges, coffeehouse week is a special event which takes place only one week out of each month, and during the preceeding three weeks the college enters full scale into publicity by their own radio stations and newspapers. The whole campus gets involved with the act that is coming in.

Mike Brovsky calls the network "a workshop of entertainment. The act becomes something like the artist in residence of the classical period whereby he lives on campus in private housing — guest houses or motel: whatever the college has for them — and becomes part of the campus life." Some of the entertainers have been known to give lectures and attend classes. According to Brovsky, "For the artist the coffeehouse circuit becomes an outlet for an appreciative audience. It's a place for talent development. For the school the coffeehouse network provides the students a chance to have an entertainment workshop on campus, gives them a chance to know entertainers as people as opposed to stars, and its low budget is something that the school simply can afford."

What can the entertainer make on this circuit? Actually there's not that much money involved: a starting act can get anywhere from $150 to $200 and someone who has a record or has played the circuit for some time or has gained a lot of fame can get up to $500 for a week.

HOLLYWOOD — ROCK PHOTOGRAPHY: A GROWING ART

"Rock photography," said Columbia's Michael Ochs recently, "is a rather undeveloped field." Pun aside, the art of capturing musical artists in a way that conveys some of the same aura as their music is only in its infant stages. There are several good rock photographers around these days, most of them connected in some way with Rolling Stone. They include Baron Wolman (who's now publishing "Rags," a contemporary culture fashion magazine), Ed Careff (who's so busy shooting album covers that he doesn't make the L.A. scene too often of late), Jim Marshall and, in N.Y., the super album cover champ, Joel Brodsky.

Our favorite photographers, who can be found anywhere there is rock music of merit, are Sam Emerson and Tony Loew, currently working together as "Emerson-Loew." We admire them as much for their persistence in freedom of movement at big rock concerts (no easy task) as for their pictures (which manage to capture the mood of the artist and the mood of the audience.

Sam, who worked at a taco stand and a car wash to get enough bread to subsidize his yen for photography, is a native Mississippian who majored in such subjects as accounting, business law, journalism and business management, before deciding to move to L.A. His pictures of the Rolling Stones' Altamont disaster, sold to Rock Magazine, brought him his first major success.

Tony, on the other hand, is a veteran of the record business, having served as West Coast regional promotion man for Kapp Records and local promoter for Record Merchandising and organized and ran a division of J.B.L. for four years before dropping out to become a photographer.

Sam and Tony, in their quest for pictures, kept running into each other at concerts. In their quest for sales, they kept running into each other at record company and P.R. offices. Also, everyone got them confused because of their hair. In March, they decided to try the first rock photographers merger on a limited basis. Their first job together was the Led Zeppelin concert, and it was their first big sale. Bill Yaryan, Atlantic's West Coast publicist, gave the boys a boost, and they now do most of Atlantic's picture work on the Coast. They've also become the

In the fall, the company plans to start an intermediate priced concert program which works on the same idea as the coffeehouse but in a concert format. The deal would be for one or two nights packaging one or two performers for each concert. Act might get from $200 to $1,500 for a concert. Again, it's something that the schools could afford, concerts that big agencies wouldn't bother to handle because of the money involved and it also gives the performer someplace to go after the coffeehouse circuit.

The Bitter End network is the only circuit of this nature in the country. Thirteen circuit coordinators handle the colleges in the various areas throughout the country. All the colleges are kept informed of what's happening by a monthly newsletter.

One of the other things in the works is a film circuit in which specialized films like an Incredible String Band concert film, or a film on woman's liberation could be passed around the circuit. A part of the plans call for a Movie Orgy which employs a concept of piecing together bits of film and sound for a six hour show that has no plot but a central theme, so that anyone could enter or leave during its running time and not miss anything.

The main thing about Campus Directions is that out of one office comes the management, booking and publishing facilities necessary for an act. The whole idea of the company is sound and is one of the most promising things to actually be working within the American folk and rock scene. Such artists as John Denver, Jerry Jeff Walker, McKendrie Spring, Keith Sykes, Townes Van Zandt and Don Crawford have been a part of the coffeehouse circuit and have gotten the proper exposure each of them needed from it. As a certain publicity director said about Mike Brovsky and his whole idea: "His head is in the right place." Maybe instead of going after the big, big money and the big, big bands, some other heads throughout the country could start turning in the right direction.

EAST COAST GIRL OF THE WEEK

Would you call a Swedish girl who married an Italian a Swedish Meatball? Not if she was Karin Grasso of Tonsil Records, where she is a production assistant, sales person, bookkeeper, song publishing aide, etc. Married to BMI songwriter Richard Grasso of Beechwood Music, Karin is 25 years old. She says, though, that she's been in the record/entertainment business for a hundred years!

As a teenager she worked in her home town Miami with three dj's as Radio Girl, giving nightly reports on the Top 10 songs and the local scene. Upon graduation (two days after to be exact) she was on a plane to New York where she turned up a job as a dancer—something she had done in Miami. She was a "twister" at the Peppermint Lounge, The Roundtable, Trudy Heller's and other clubs around town. She also worked at free lance fashion modeling during what she calls her "ultra-skinny days" and appears on a few Blue Note album covers. For 3 years she worked as Roulette president Morris Levy's secy, and for 2½ years she held a job at Liberty. The opportunity came up late last year to work with a new record company from scratch and took it—Tonsil, started in January, 1970, and now has one LP and two singles. She loves her work and, between her hobbies of cooking and athletics, finds a few hours a day for it.

SHORT TAKES

When a group sits down to create a name that it can go under, the members must always have things to say about words and phrases that will be associated with it — complimentary or derogatory. Gulliver, a new group on Elektra, must have had fun thinking about record reviews that would say ". . . a group that stands tall" or "Watch for this one to travel way up the charts." The possibilities are endless depending on your familiarity with English literature (Jonathan Swift in particular) or your talent for making puns. While you mull over a few ideas on this matter, let me fill you in on the group. I mentioned their album several weeks ago and it is still one of my favorites to come from an American (Philadelphian in particular) group in a long time. They came up and rapped about how they recorded it to get such clarity on the recording. The quartet, composed of ex-music students, an ex-art student and an ex-transient apple picker/drive-in theatre attendant, have all worked among one of the three clics of Philadelphia studio men over the past two years. Together they have cut with The Electric Indian, Assembled Multitude and others. So, studio techniques are very familiar to them and the group uses them to their fullest to enhance their songs. And they say that the strongest thing working for them is each of their songs which are simple and flowing without a single unnecessary frill added. Harmonies and choise of instrumentation are tactfully chosen and worked out. The group says they go into the studio knowing what to do and go after a tight, full and coherent sound. The quietly amplified set-up of the studio makes it tneir creative workshop and the album they have produced is a masterpiece. It'll be out soon and the group will be promoting it on-stage. (I'll not end this item with a blasted pun about these potential giants.)

Two of the most promising happenings slated for the New York area this summer — Mountaindale and the New York Pop Concerts — are beginning to turn less turn less promising each day. It seems that Brave New World, the producers of the NYPC, is forcing several top acts slated for both fests on the July 11 and 17 weekends to be withdrawn from the Mountaindale bill because of a 100-mile/21-day exclusivity clause in the contracts they signed with various agencies. Mountaindale is trying to replace the acts with others, and seems to be doing a good job of it considering the odds. This is one to keep an eye on. Meanwhile the only people who are really suffering from the rip-off are ticket holders who are anxious of the outcome. Please, people, try to get it together. Your time here is too short to create such unnecessary bummers. I'm beginning to agree with Bill Graham that big business is on the verge of killing the whole big business.

Jug band group from England, Mungo Jerry, is really on fire in that country with their act and their single, "In The Summertime," which hit No. 1 overnight. Janus Records has released that song here . . . Johnny Winter will play with his new group at The Playground on Long Island on July 4. Group includes Rick Derringer on guitar and vocals, Randy Hobbs on bass and vocals, Randy Z on drums and Johnny on the usual . . . Commonwealth-United's Cissy Houston was among the acts for the last taping of this season's NET "Soul" show . . . Dave Van Ronk, newly signed with Polydor, into the Gaslight July 1-4 . . . The Modern Jazz Quartet opens a two week stand at the Rainbow Grill June 29.

official photographers of Concert Associates, California's leading promoters. In addition to album covers, concerts and P.R. pictures, Emerson-Loew are also working with writer Kathy Orloff on some stories.

The pictures on the lower two-thirds of this page were all shot at the Who concert at Anaheim Stadium, and represent rock photography at its best.

LOUIE, LOUIE "As long as those pearly teeth hold out, Louie'll still be playing something new, and all the others will be running after him, trying to catch up." (Jazz pianist Richard M. Jones)

If anyone should ask we'd say that Louie Armstrong, Duke Ellington and Benny Goodman are the Bach, Beethoven and Brahms of jazz. And if we had to name one guy alone, we'd give Louis the title as the greatest jazz personality ever to raise a horn to his lips and blast a rooftop.

Armstrong is 70 years old — today. He has been blowing into a trumpet (and cornet) for nearly 60 out of those 70 barrelhouse years. The history books tell us that he started in New Orleans, fooling around with a beatup trumpet and trying it on for size. He was twelve when he was sentenced to the Waif's home for "firing firearms within the city limits." And it was there that he learned to read music.

By 1917 he was playing in the excursion boats that moved up the Mississippi's muddy waters. By 1922 he was a member of King Oliver's band at the Lincoln Garden in Chicago. And two years later he was the star attraction with Fletcher Henderson's band at the Roseland in N.Y. By 1927 he had moved into the Sunset Cafe with his own band. But Louis was always — and will always be — the main attraction. So eloquent, so unique that kids who had jazz within them came nightly to listen in awe-struck devotion. Kids who were screwballs at the time — Muggsy Spanier, Bing Crosby, Frank Teschmacher, Bix Beiderbecke, Jess Stacy and Benny Goodman.

What Armstrong did those nights at the Sunset he is still doing. And if he occasionally hams it up a bit, we understand. It was in the mid-thirties when Hollywood finally discovered him — handed him a scene or two in a Crosby flick ("Pennies From Heaven") and Louis became a kind of clown. And in "Going Places" he crooned Johnny Mercer's "Jeepers Creepers" (where'd you get those peepers?") to a horse. Louis probably came off best in "Nnew Orleans," a film based loosely on his life. To our recollection it was (and probably still is) the most authentic jazz incorporated into a film score.

Now he can be caught on TV occasionally, guesting on shows helmed by far lesser talents than him. And in Europe, where he is revered, he'll tour to standing room only crowds with pick up all star combos. Soon he'll be in town, we hear, to celebrate his 70th with us, concertizing and compelling.

This then (since we don't have his home address) is our open-adoration birthday greeting to the King. Stick with the Swiss Kriss, man. Happy 70th.

A post-script on Ellington (also celebrating his 70th this year) who is currently represented with a two pocket Solid State (Transamerica) LP, cut in Manchester, England last November. We heard the LP just this morning. And we're planning to take it to bed tonight. To our ears they're the best Ellington sides since he left Victor . . . and that's a long long time.

AND HOWE — Last week's announcement that Macey Lipman and Bones Howe had joined forces to form a new production firm (Mr. Bones Productions), we hear, has been in the works for months. As a matter of fact songsmith Norman Gimbel mentioned it to us when we were in N.Y. in April. "It's not definite," said Norman. "I called Macey the other day but he refused comment." Another case of Macey not telling Gimbel — no?

CHICAGO

Enjoyed a delightful visit with Steed songster Andy Kim, who was in Chicago for a couple of days last week following his smash performance at the Milwaukee Pop Festival. In addition to recording a new single "It's Your Life", Andy's been quite busy on the p.a. front with appearances on the Barbara MacNair Show, a co-hosting stint on the popular Upbeat TV'er and presiding over Andy Kim Day in Montreal. He's due back this way in August to appear at the Illinois State Fair in Springfield . . . Dick Sarlo of the Pick Congress Hotel has formed Sarlo Enterprises Inc. and will be booking a series of concerts in Chicago, geared to the adult ticket buyer. Opening bill, scheduled for Sept. 18-19 in Orchestra Hall, will spotlight Jimmy Rosselli and Corbett Monica. Paul Gallis will be handling p.r. for the new firm . . . WB's promo rep Roy Chiovari is working on the newly released Dion single "Your Own Back Yard", which has an anti-drugs theme . . . Two very important local personalities were farewell partied last week: Chicago Today columnist Charlie Dawn, who covered the night club beat in town for the past 40 years; and pianist Eddie Higgins, formerly of London House, who's departing for Florida . . . Liberty-UA's promo man Paul Diamond, cut some commercials for airing on WSDM . . . Brownsville Station have a new single on Paladium, coupling "Bebop Confidential" with "City Life". Personal manager Al Nalli (A&A Productions) says the group has a heavy schedule of personal appearances to fulfill and will be playing several of the major festivals across the country . . . Songstress Sylvia Syms and comedian George McKelvey will be opening in Mister Kelly's 6/29 for three weeks . . . The Four Freshmen are scheduled for the local Playboy Club August 17-29 . . . The July 3-4 bill at the Aragon will feature the Grateful Dead, It's Beautiful Day," Aum and Rare Bird . . . Tony Bennett headlines the Villa Scalabrini benefit in the Opera House 8/15 . . . The Empire Room will discontinue its entertainment format for the summer, following John Davidson's current two weeks engagement.

MUSIC CITY MEETS THE BEATLES — Pete Drake (left), famed Nashville steel guitarist, was invited to London recently by George Harriston (center) to do some recording with him, and George thought he'd try a few licks on the instrument himself. Ringo Starr, who's recording 12 country songs in Nashville, looks on. Harrison will make an album in Music City later this summer. George and Ringo are on their own now that the Beatles have split up.

GRT Opens Nashville Office; Allsup To Head Operation

NASHVILLE — GRT Records has opened an office in Nashville at 1512 Hawkins Street, it was announced last week by Len Levy, president of the GRT Record Group. Tommy Allsup has been named executive producer in charge of Nashville operations.

In announcing Allsup's appointment, Levy said: "I have always felt strongly that any well-rounded record label must be represented by product from Nashville, which is one of the most creative and productive contributing centers to the recording industry."

Allsup, Nashville producer and musician, worked with Levy most recently when Levy was president of Metromedia Records.

Allsup began in the music business as lead guitarist with Buddy Holly and the Crickets. In 1960 he joined Liberty Records under the direction of Snuff Garrett, where he was head of country A&R for five years. In 1965, Allsup opened his own studio and independent production office in Texas. During the next four years he discovered, produced and directed the Zagar and Evans records, including the hit single, "In The Year 2525."

Allsup joined Metromedia as head of country product in 1969. While at Metromedia he produced the LP, "The Hits of Charley Pride," which he backed with his own group Tommy Allsup and the Nashville Survey as well as the single, "Spring," by Clay Hart. Both were nominated for Grammy Awards.

Recently, Allsup was elected to the board of the Nashville Song Writers' Association.

ACTS, Inc. Bows In Music City

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Four music festivals, two country and two rock, are being held this summer at Gooselake Park near the town of Jackson, Michigan. The country festivals begin on July 18 and September 19. All four festivals are produced by Ron Terry.

The first C&W festival will feature the following acts: Merle Haggard, Sonny James, the Carter Family, the Tennessee Three, Carl Perkins, the Statler Brothers and Barbara Mandrell.

The second C&W festival will be held on September 19th at Gooselake Park, and acts already signed for that festival include the Everly Brothers and Doug Kershaw.

Gord Hill Dies At 47

TORONTO — Gord Hill, well known Canadian country disk producer and manager, passed away suddenly at Toronto's Sunnybrook Hospital June 12. Hill centered prominently in the launching of several Canadian country artists into the recording field. One of his top successes was Columbia's Bernie Early, whose single, "Chaser For The Blues," became known from coast to coast.

Hill was also well known in the industry as a printer and detail man. He was associated with Columbia Records as head of its printing department for eleven years before branching out on his own. He formed his own firm, Hill Lithographers, servicing many of the firms in the Toronto area. He was well known in Nashville where he became one of Canada's top country ambassadors, making his annual trip to the Country Convention, a yearly pilgrimage.

C&W Festivals Tee Off July 18 & September 19 At Gooselake Park, Mich.

NASHVILLE — The Artists, Composers and Talent Society, Inc. (ACTS) has opened for business in Music City in the SESAC Building.

The corporation was formed by a number of recording artists in the country field to stockpile material primarily for their own use.

Three publishing divisions come under the ACTS shelter: Arawak Music (ASCAP), Bannock Music (BMI), and Sauk (SESAC).

It has been stated that the operation will not interfere with any other publishing affiliations of the stockholders and that the corporation is now engaged in seeking new writers and material.

At a recent meeting of the stockholders, Bill Hall, well known producer and administrator, was named general manager and officers of the new corporation will be named in the near future.

1st Int'l Gospel Fest Has $25 Thou+ Budget

NASHVILLE — The first annual International Gospel Music Festival to be held in Nashville, Tennessee on the 10th and 11th of July will offer a package of entertainment totaling over fifteen thousand dollars.

Officials of the International have confirmed reports that the first annual event will exceed a financial investment of well over twenty-five thousand dollars. Promoted by the Oak Ridge Boys and J.G. Whitfield of Pensacola, Florida, the two day gospel music entertainment extravaganza will be held in the Municipal Auditorium.

Bringing the International to Nashville was a decision based on the geographical location, tourist attractions, hotel and motel accommodations and the significant role Nashville plays in the music industry.

The International brings together the top gospel music talent from across the nation and Canada. The talent package includes Galileans, Kingsmen, Couriers, Harmonizing Four, Statesmen, Governor Jimmie Davis, Oak Ridge Boys, Happy Goodman Family, Rosie Rozell and the Searchers, Dixie Echoes, LeFevres, Florida Boys, Steve Sanders, Sego Brothers and Naomi, Orrells, Wendy Bagwell and the Sunliters, J. D. Sumner and the Stamps Quartet, Downings, Inspirations, Smitty Gatlin with Bobbie Jean White, Jake Hess, Gary MacSpadden, Thrasher Brothers, Sami Hall Singers, Wendy Johnson and the Messengers.

New Deadline For Atkins Fest

NASHVILLE — Deadline for entering the first annual Chet Atkins Guitar Festival, August 7-8, has been advanced to July 15 from July 1.

Any guitarist, accoustical or electric, between the ages of 14 and 25 is eligible to compete in the finals which are scheduled for the Muncipal Auditorium in Nashville.

The finals both nights will be augmented by a stage show spotlighting professional entertainers Pete Fountain and his Dixieland Band, Kenny Rogers and the First Edition, singer-guitarist Jerry Reed, and comic Glenn Ash, with Atkins, sax-specialist Boots Randolph, and Floyd Cramer as special guest stars.

Winners in the various division will share in a $6,000 jackpot.

Persons desiring to enter should mail tapes, not to exceed five minutes, to the Chet Atkins Guitar Festival Board of Judges, 1516 16th Avenue, South, Nashville, Tennessee 37212.

Contestants chosen for the semifinals will audition Thursday, August 6 at the War Memorial Auditorium in Nasvhille.

Show Biz Show To Over 100 Mkts.

NASHVILLE — Show Biz, Inc. has produced a new country music color TV show which will be seen on over 100 TV stations coast to coast this month.

Entitled "Breezing Along With The Nashville Sound," the half-hour of musical entertainment is sponsored by Lever Brothers' Breeze detergent and features Grand Ole Opry stars.

The Country Music show was produced for Lever Brothers by Show Biz, Inc. in Nashville in conjunction with the company's advertising agency Doyle Dane, Bernbach, Inc./New York City. Facilities used for the taping were those of Television Productions International in Atlanta.

Hosting the special is RCA recording star Porter Wagoner, with guests Dolly Parton, the Wagon Masters, Spec Rhodes, Hank Williams, Jr., the Cheatin' Hearts, Loretta Lynn and Kenny Price completing the lineup.

"Hee Haw" Takes Us Seriously . . .

...cing fondly about home.

A sense of youthful high jinks pervades the Hee Haw set. A large hand-lettered sign with the emblem "Sleazy Productions" is over the studio door. But once the cameras start rolling, Hee Haw is a miracle of electronic efficiency. To wit:

All the comedy is divided into categories: "The Culhanes," "The Old Philosopher," "The Amateur Minute," "The Corn Field," and so forth. They tape dozens of jokes in each category at a session, and simply stockpile them on a reel of tape. Then they spend weeks taping singers, whose names they have gleaned from the Country-Western charts of Cashbox magazine. That done, the producers pull up stakes, leave Nashville behind, and hurry back to California, where they laboriously snip and paste and stitch until all the snippets of comedy and music stand in miraculous concatenation as a finished Hee Haw program.

Picks of the Week

DAVE DUDLEY (Mercury 73089)
This Night (Ain't Fit For Nothing But Drinking) (2:44) (Newkeys, BMI—Hall)
Dave Dudley follows up his monster, "The Pool Shark" with a Tom T. Hall song that should do very well. Look for "This Night (Ain't Fit For Nothing But Drinking)" on the charts. No flip information available.

MEL TILLIS AND THE STATESIDERS (MGM 14148)
Heaven Everday (2:33) (Jack & Bill, ASCAP—Foster, Rice)
Mell Tillis bows on MGM with a tender ballad which his fans should want to hear. He had one of his biggest records with his last single, "Heart Over Mind," so he's very hot now, and "Heaven Everyday" should be watched closely. Flip: "How You Drink The Wine" (2:42) (Sawgrass, BMI—McCown)

GUY DRAKE (Royal American 15)
Born To Be An Opry Star (3:08) (Bullfighter, BMI—Drake)
Guy Drake came into his own with "Welfare Cadilac," and he bids fair to continue his success with "Born To Be An Opry Star," a tale of a would-be C&W luminary. Flip: "Politickin' Pete" (2:40) (Bullfighter, BMI—Drake, Lacefield)

COMPTON BROTHERS (Dot 17352)
That Ain't No Stuff (2:09) (Blue Crest, BMI—Frazier)
Here's a real rousing side from the Compton Brothers that should have no difficulty chalking up plenty of spins and sales for them. "That Ain't No Stuff" sounds like a sure hit. Fine follow-up to "Charlie Brown." Flip: "I Wanna Sing A Country Song" (2:22) (Brothers Two, ASCAP—Compton)

ANTHONY ARMSTRONG JONES (Chart 5083)
In The Flowers (4:07) (Sue-Mirl, ASCAP—Hinson, Deckard)
Anthony Armstrong Jones could very well have his biggest record to date in "Sugar In The Flowers." The side is memorable, both in music and lyrics, and will tug the heartstrings of numerous country listeners. Flip: "If You Gotta Go, Go Now" (2:36) (Warner Bros., ASCAP—Dylan)

DICK CURLESS (Capitol 5057)
Hard, Hard Traveling Man (2:32) (Acuff—Rose, BMI—Bond)
Dick Curless follows his recent charter, "Big Wheel Cannonball" with another trucking song that may do even better for him. Keep very close tabs on "Hard, Hard Traveling Man." Flip: "Winter's Comin' On Again" (3:07) (Central Songs, BMI—Merritt)

ROY ACUFF, JR. & SUE THOMPSON (Hickory 1573)
Why You Been Gone So Long (2:42) (Acuff—Rose, BMI—Newbury)
May well be a chart spot in the cards for Roy Acuff, Jr. and Sue Thompson with "Why You Been Gone So Long." Side is a real good foot-stomper. Flip: "Don't Let The Stars Get In Your Eyes" (2:12) (Four Star, BMI—Willet)

RAY FRUSHAY (Paramount 0030)
Santa Ana Winds (2:45) (Carlman, BMI—Christopher, Maduri)
"Santa Ana Winds" is one of those songs that sounds like a ready-made hit, and it could well turn out to be just that. Ray Frushay may wake up and find himself famous. No flip information available.

Newcomer Picks

LES SEEVERS (Chestnue 221)
There Goes My Life (2:26) (Don White, ASCAP—Chianco)
Two Wrongs (2:25) (Don White, ASCAP—Chianco)
This is the strongest newcomer record to appear in a long while. Both sides are excellent, with "There Goes My Life," an emotion-filled ballad, getting the edge. Don't miss out on this one.

COUNTRY

There's no question that Conway Twitty's "Hello Darlin" 32661 is a number one country hit. There's also no question that "Hello Darlin" has made the big move and crossed country into pop. (And from hit single into hit LP!)

Wheeler, Throckmorton Signed To Hilltop

NASHVILLE — Karen Wheeler and Sonny Throckmorton have been signed to Hilltop Records, a division of Pickwick International, it was announced last week by Ralph Davis, head of Pickwick International's Nashville publishing operation.

The first session on these two artists has been concluded and the records will be released immediately.

"Record Ourselves"

In announcing the signing, Davis noted that "Too often, first-rate materials which we publish go unnoticed and unrecorded. It is our decision to call attention to and exploit these promising copyrights by recording them ourselves. In that way, we will be able to best serve our writers by doing just that."

Ireland's Entertainment To Be Supplied By Long Agency

NASHVILLE — Entertainment for the recently formed chain of Ireland's Restaurants will be co-ordinated by the Hubert Long Agency and Ireland's Bill Kleinart and Ben Stuart.

The Ireland's chain now includes restaurants in Lexington, Memphis, Athens, Ga., Tuscaloosa, Ala., with Nashville serving as home-base.

Ireland's "steak and biscuits", so popular in the Nashville area, are now the headlining standard item in all their establishments.

INTERNATIONAL MUSIC SECTION

Always popular on the continent, Roger Whittaker has been on the fringe of success for several years but really hit the big time in the U.K. with "Durham Town" (Columbia). Now contracted to RCA, Roger followed up his success in England with "I Don't Believe In If Any More" and achieved American recognition via "New World in the Morning."

Another sign of the coming times is the formation of W. H. Smith Cassettes Ltd. This new venture by the giant book, newspaper, stationery and disk retailing chain testifies to the growing confidence in hitherto untried media such as the video cassette, which is the primary motive for the new Smith company. The video cassette has also been tagged the television cassette, and Philips is expected to launch it on the market here by the end of 1971. The thinking behind the Smith move is that initially this product will be best handled on a hire-loan basis on account of its cost, and the chain will utilize its experience and know-how gleaned from the lengthy life of its lending library service, discontinued some years ago but easily possible to revive to handle video cassettes once sufficient demand is proved. Smith will probably stock video cassettes in bulk at its multi-million pound supply center at Swindon. The directors of the new company are Smith chairman C. H. W. Troughton, deputy chairman P. W. Bennett, Lord Brabourne, who is a Smith director, and corporate planning chief C. D. Yarrow, who will act as managing director of Smith Cassettes.

A campaign to overcome the traditional summer sales slump with a target of 500,000 sales on six LPs was unveiled at a promotion presentation by Music for Pleasure, the budget album specialists. The LPs concerned are "Summer In Spain," Dean Martin's "Hey Brother, Pour The Wine," Count Basie's "Basie's Beatle Bag," "Viva Tijuana," "More Music From The Greek Island," and "Edith Piaf." A Consumer competition is being organized, open to customers buying one of the six LPs, and the prizes are vacations in Rio de Janeiro, Torremolinos and Paris. Dealers who sell albums to the three prizewinners will receive £100, £50, and £25, respectively. Attending the presentation were MFP's entire sales force and about 40 disk retailers and other trade representatives. A travel movie depicting the three vacation destinations was screened, presented by a British United Airways hostess. BUA is collaborating with MFP in running the competition.

The first four members of Warner-Reprise's embryo sales force hit the road two weeks ago in their super de luxe estate cars. They are Tony Zonenblick, former Philips salesman who will work out of Leeds; Trevor Edwards, who has worked for Pye, Major Minor and Saga and who will cover London; Warren Taylor, who worked for Saga after coming here from the New Zealand Broadcasting Corporation and whose Warner-Reprise sales bailiwick will be Surrey, and Alan Wade, former Polydor Midland and South Wales rep, who will work out of Wolverhampton. Their main initial task is to promote additional sales on W-R product by fixing dealer and artist promotion on a local and national basis. They will be briefed regularly from the W-R headquarters in New Oxford Street, London, by means of pre-recorded cassettes for use in their automobiles. W-R sales manager Ron Smith intimated that the selling quartet would be strenghtened with new recruits as and when circumstances indicated.

The smoldering controversy about the abolition of the 5% returns allowance by EMI and its partial abolition by other companies shows signs of flaring up again following an appeal by the Music Trades Association to its members for views on the subject. 582 dealers have responded to date, and unanimously ask for the reinstatement of the 5% allowance. Christopher Foss, honorary secretary of the Gramophone Record Retailers Committee of the MTA, stated that the dealers want at least 5% allowed on all product, including cassettes, and also seek improved trading terms. Following this response and the solidarity of opinion, the MTA is expected to approach the record companies officially for talks on the matter.

Adrian Rudge has been named promotion manager for Polydor Records, and took up his new duties on July 1st. A former EMI and Page One staffman, Rudge has been working in partnership with Tony Palmer, another EMI alumnus, in a promotion and production enterprise called Finito. It is not likely to be finito for this company, however, as Palmer has busy recording commitments over the next few months, and may appoint a replacement for Rudge to handle the promotion end. Rudge takes over from Phil Greenop at Polydor, and Greenop is now responsible for artist development. Peter Knight, hitherto Polydor A & R co-ordinator, has been named label manager and all three men report to creative division general manager Alan Bates.

Hardie Ratcliffe, general secretary of the Musicians Union since 1948, intends to retire in the spring of next year, and a ballot is being held this months to decide his successor. The 32,000 MU members have three candidates from which to choose, and they are assistant general secretary Harry Francis, executive committee member John Morton, and south-west district organizer Howard Rudge. Whatever the outcome of the ballot, it seems very unlikely that the MU will modify its intransigent attitude on the amount of needle time permitted to the BBC for disk programs each week. Francis particularly is a notable hardliner for maintaining the status quo.

Evolution Records are expanding on the international front with a three-year licensing deal with Disco Grafica Talar S.A. of Barcelona whereby their product will be released throughout Spain with an initial release of six singles. Another international deal concerns Arzachel whose album is to be issued by Deutsche Vogue in Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Scandinavia and the Benelux countries.

Fred Marks, newly appointed managing director of Philips Records has announced two new executive appointments in the expansion of the company's activities. P.R. man Paddy Fleming has been appointed to the newly created position of International Promotion Manager teaming up with both U.K. and European artistes in all media activities with a view to creating top exposure for "middle of the road" artistes on an international basis. Richard Swainson has been appointed U.K. Promotion Manager responsible for the co-ordination of local artistes in the "pop underground" area. Press officer Nick Massey will work closely with both Fleming and Swainson reporting directly to Marks. The new appointments are effective from July 1st.

Musical personalities figures prominently in the Queen's Birthday Honors. Sir David Webster, retiring this month after twenty-five years as Royal Opera House general administrator, becomes a Knight of the Royal Victorian Order (KCVO). CBSs went to mezzo Janet Baker, Hugh Bean, former concertmaster of the BBC Symphony Orchestra, and singing tutor Roy Henderson, whose pupils included the late Kathleen Ferrier. The Amadeus Quartet now parade four OBEs, with violinist Sigmund Nissell, violist Peter Schidlof and cellist Martin Lovett joining the leader Norbert Brainin, who already held the award. Another OBE went to Welsh composer-conductor Mansell Thomas, and conductor Henry Krips, half brother of Josef Krips, received an MBE, as did Jack Hatchett, joint managing director of British Piano Actions, who got the honor for services to export. Veteran bandleader Henry Hall, one of the first broadcasting stars in the infant years of radio, got a CBE. For those wondering, CBE means Commander of the Order of the British Empire, OBE means Order of the British Empire, and MBE is Member of the British Empire.

Quickies: EMI to distribute Billy McBurney's Outlet label throughout Ireland . . . Elvis Presley's "On Stage '70" album recorded at Las Vegas to be released here by RCA July 10th . . . Prophesy Records president Mickey Shapiro here to fix British and European distribution for his label and seek recording and producing talent . . . Tom Ransley named manager of the recording and international services department of CBS . . . Death of Mrs. M. E. Rosetti, aged 82, widow of the co-founder of the well-known instrument firm . . . A & M released "A Song Of Joy" by Miguel Rios by special arrangement with Pye, who first issued the single from the Hispavox catalogue . . . Neville Smith, disk and tape chief of the Australian Astor company, here on business and to explain to licensors the effect of the commercial broadcasting deadlock in Australia following the implementation of the Copyright Act of 1968 . . . Graham Bond signed to three-year deal by Philips, and his first album will be released on Vertigo in the fall . . . Stevie Wonder in London for "Talk of the Town" engagement commencing June 24th . . . Songwriter Jerry Lordan (writer of many past hits for the Shadows) comes back on the scene as an artiste with his own composition "The Old Man and the Sea" issued on CBS and published by Francis Day & Hunter.

Warners Opens Australian Co.; Paul Turner Heads Operation

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA — Australia will become the third foreign country in which Burbank-based Warner Bros. Records Inc. has established its own local and totally self-contained record company, reports Phil Rose, vice president and director of overseas operations.

Warner Bros. Records of Australia, which formally begins operations Oct. 1, will be headed by 33-year-old Paul M. Turner, Australian-born record industry exec.

Rose emphasized that the Australian company, to be headquartered in Sydney, will be an entirely autonomous unit in the growing and lucrative Australian market.

Turner and staff will have complete control of release and promo policy in the country to fit local needs and conditions. Patterned after the United Kingdom operation, formed June 1, 1969, the Australian operation will, according to Rose, be a tight, aggressive promotion-oriented operation. Turner will report directly to Rose.

Warner Bros. Records has severed its arrangement with its Australian licensee by allowing its contract to elapse. Pressing and distribution functions of the new company will be leased out to various Australian firms.

Both Turner and Rose stressed that the new firm would be a "recording" company in every sense of the word. A talent building campaign is already in operation.

"Any Australian artists signed by our new label," Rose emphasized, "will have the added windfall of international exposure and exploitation via our American concern, our companies in Great Britain and Canada, and our network of licensees around the world."

Turner said that he is currently completing the formation of a nation-wide promotion staff.

Mo Ostin and Joe Smith, president and executive vice president, respectively, of the parent Warner Bros. Records, stressed that the formation of Warners' own company in Australia was a "natural step" hard on the heels of the "unprecedented success" of its Canadian firm, founded in 1967 and now headed by Kenneth N. Middleton, and its British unit, which is headed by Ian Ralfini.

However, both Ostin and Smith emphasized that the company had no plans "in the immediate future" for the formation of any other company in foreign countries. Except for these three essentially English-speaking countries, Warner Bros. product in all other world markets is released, distributed and promoted by foreign licensees.

Turner's Background

In selecting 33-year-old Turner as the head of its Australian company, Warner Bros. Records is following its trend in choosing both youthful and youthful thinking executives. Ralfini was 32 when named to the head of the U.K. company; Middleton had just turned 40 when he was tapped to head the Canadian company.

Turner has been in the record business for approximately half of his life, having joined Phillips Records at 17 in his native Perth. He had the advantage of quickly becoming familiar with Phillips' worldwide catalogues, including—at that time—America's Columbia Records.

At 19, he moved to Melbourne to become the representative for the state of Victoria, of which Melbourne is the metropolis. Two years later, at 21, he became Phillips Records' manager for Victoria.

In 1962, Turner was further promoted and moved to Phillips' head office in Sydney, where he became sales manager for the state of New South Wales, Australia's largest market. In 1967, he became General Manager for a then-new Phillips subsidiary label, Phonogram Recordings Ltd., which had been formed by Phillips in Holland and D.G.G. in West Germany.

On Content Ruling: Record Men & Publishers Map Assistance To Broadcasters

TORONTO — The Canadian Radio Television Commission (CRTC) has finally approached the important arm of the recording business and asked for assistance in making its proposed 30% (now law) more appetising for the broadcasters.

With Nimbus 9's Allan Macmillan representing the CRTC (the first time anyone from the record business has been approached by the Commission), a series of meetings was instigated with representatives from the Canadian Record Manufacturers' Association, Canadian Music Publishers' Association, Composers, Authors and Publishers Association, BMI Canada Ltd. and RPM Weekly.

It's hoped that through these meetings a practical method of identification of records meeting the four conditions set out by the CRTC can be arranged for the broadcaster. It's obvious the broadcasters are in a bind and have to look to those people for assistance. The 30% content ruling, as set down, will require the broadcasters to hire extra hands to research their current library and set up a system they hope won't mislead them. The getting together of the record men and publishers could, on the other hand, solve many of the broadcaster's problems. The meetings already held have moved these important people in the direction of making available to all licensess of broadcast outlets a comprehensive listing of recorded music from existing catalogs qualifying as domestic content according to the regulations. Target date for this listing has been set as Aug. 1, 1970 with completion by Oct. 1.

It has also been agreed upon for the adoption of a uniform system of label identification by title of all new Canadian and foreign produced recordings released in Canada and which qualify as domestic content under: the 30% domestic content of performance, production and composition of music or lyrics, and 5% domestic content for composition of music or lyrics.

It is also hoped to expand the committee to include reps from private and public broadcast outlets.

Elected co-chairmen of this association of record men and music publishers were: Bert Betts, secretary of the Canadian Record Manufacturers' Association and John Bird of the Canadian Music Publishers' Association.

Radio Luxembourg To Sponsor Second Producers Festival

LONDON — The combined services of Radio-Tele-Luxembourg are again sponsoring a Grand Prix to honor the role played by record producers in the European music business.

Top producers from Austria, Belgium, France, Germany, Great Britain, Ireland, Luxembourg, Netherlands and Switzerland, will compete for the Radio Luxembourg trophy, in the Grand Duchy's National Theatre on Wednesday, October 28.

The rules have been changed this year and producers will not be required to submit their entries in two languages. An English language entry for this country is all that is required. Entries close at 6 p.m. on Sept. 15th, and a British jury will convene that evening to select the three songs to represent this country in the Gala.

The show, featuring the 12 finalists, will be carried as a color TV special on part of the Eurovision link. The 12 productions selected for the final will be promoted extensively throughout Europe on all the services of Radio Luxembourg from October 12. The 1st, 2nd and 3rd winners will receive one play a day each on all services from 1st November for two weeks.

A new feature has been added this year to the Gala evening. After the competition, top stars from each of the five major Radio Luxembourg countries will appear. The artists from Holland are expected to be Shocking Blue, Germany is presenting Peter Alexander and Joe Dolan will appear for Britain and Ireland.

Geoffrey Everitt 208's general manager, said "We are looking to the record business for support in this event. This company is allocating a sum in excess of £25,000 for this promotion and the Gala is a prime Europena showcase for artists. This year we would like a record company whose entry is selected for the final to guarantee European release of the disk".

"We shall again be chartering a plane to take the British contestants and music press to Luxembourg—the event is growing in importance and we shall do everything to ensure that the 1970 Gala is a great success".

Deep grief among the mexican public for Earl Grant's death. This performer's style remembered the late Nat King Cole. Earl Grant was well known in Mexico where he staged several times in the last few years as well as for his TV series. Now the videotapes are going to be used in a special program in his memory, this will be the Mexican TV homage to a great entertainer. DISCOS ORFEON just released Earl Grant's latest LP.

We regret that the Wilson Simonal's TV shows are not as good as they should be, specially when compared with his night club appearances. As we reported before, his stage projection is terrific, with a very well balanced program and a perfect handling of himself. On TV he has not been able to fully communicate his talent to the audience. The reason may be that the studio is packed with the wrong audience. It's a pity that the TV grand audience can not enjoy the real Wilson Simonal.

Before an audience of 20,000 people at the Agustin Lara Open Theatre in the Alameda Central, Canned Heat and The Rocking Foo were received with extremely warm applause. We must report that after Raphael this has been the second largest audience for the place.

ORFEON-VIDEOVOX Int'l Division released this week 3 very interesting EPs. "La Musica Original de la Pelicula Los Amores de Isadora" from KAPP; "Dionne Warwick," and "Holly Holy" with Neil Diamond from SPENCER. The LP release was "Favoritas con Pete Fountain" on CORAL with numbers such as "Raindrops Keep Fallin' On My Head," "Early In The Morning," "Jean," "Leaving On A Jet Plane" and "Midnight Cowboy."

As Cash Box fores it, Marco Antonio Muniz's "Nadita de Nada" on RCA, is on its way to the top of the charts. Other product of the same label having good sales are "El Primer Amor" with Angelica Maria; "Senorita Rita" with The Archies; "American Woman" with The Guess Who; "Mira" with Estela Nunez and "The Wonder of You" with Elvis Presley. As to the A&M Records product we must mention "The Letter" with Joe Cocker; "Come Saturday Morning" with The Sandpipers and "Close to You" with The Carpenters.

For the way he handled himself on the stage, Wilson Simonal's El Dorado debut was quite a success. Repertoire consisted of the expected Brazilian beat, particularly outstanding were his "Si Voce Pensa," "Zazueira" and "Pais Tropical." Wilson Simonal's reason to be in Mexico beside his night club engagement is to cheer up the Brazilian foot-ball team taking part in the IX Football World Championship.

Organ player Juan Torres, who records for DISCOS MUSART, gave a highly successful concert at the Guadalajara Hilton (over 1,500 people). An international panel of jurors will convene in Montreux from Sept. 5 to 8; they are coming from the United States, England, France, West Germany, Switzerland, Belgium, Sweden, Italy, Czechoslovakia and Argentina.

A Preselection Committee composed of the specialized record critics all over the world is preparing the task of the jury, sending a preselection list of the best recordings (10) issued in their respective countries. The Jury is granting a Citation for special achievement, entitled Diplome d'honneur, to a personality (engineer, musician, producer, executive of a company) having significantly contributed in the course of his activities towards progress in the world of recording. 1968 citation was granted to Leopold Stokowski; 1969 to Walter Legge.

Dutch top group Brainbox released a new single, "Alpha And Omega," which is rising fast on the Dutch charts. "Alpha And Omega" will be released in America on the Capitol label. In September this year a tour is planned for Brainbox in the U.S. Dutch pop music is getting more and more popular all over the world. Capitol Records will shortly release "My World Is Empty" by The Buffoons, "Wait For Summer" by Allondee and "Please Sing A Song For Us" by The Continental Uptight Band. Bell Records will release the new single "Heartaches And Sorrow" by Unit Gloria. The group recently paid a visit to America where they had a successful performance in the Hollywood Palladium.

Bovema's aggressive attack on the progressive pop market with a special series called "Hey June" is very successful. Big LP hits are Canned Heat, Brinsley Schwarz, Steppenwolf and the promotion sampler "Hey June" with songs of Dutch top groups. Bovema recently welcomed in Holland Brinsley Schwarz for VPRO-TV and The Johnstons for VARA-TV. Phonogram released several strong chart-items last week: the football song "Chelsea" by Stamford Bridge (Penny Farthing), Octopus' "The River" (Penny Farthing), Mr. Bloe's British smash "Groovin' with Mr. Bloe" (D.J.M.), "All Right Now" by Free (Island) and the Deram single "Love Like A Man" by Ten Years After. Roger Whittaker has a giant hit again in Holland with "I Don't Believe In If Anymore" (Philips—a Lansdowne recording). The record zoomed to No. 26 on last week's charts. The Alan Price recording of "Sunshine & Rain (Decca) is No. 24 this week, while Alan is topping the bill on the "Eddy Ready Go" TV-show next week. Phonogram rush-released a first album by Eurovision winner Dana. The Irish singer had a big seller with "All Kinds Of Everything," which is also included on the Album (Rex). The first Island single by Cat Stevens, "Lady d'Arbanville" has currently top-airplay on all stations. The record (taken from the "Mona Bone KJakon" album) will be one of the big sellers of the year without doubt. It was rush released by Phonogram last week.

Following the 25th anniversary of the Dutch Swing College Band in May, Phonogram released four re-packed albums of the internationally famous band. "Dixie Jubilee" features the best recordings from 1949-'69. "Gems Of Jazz" includes many of the famous 1949-'53 recordings. Both "At The Berlin Sport Palast" and "When The Swing Comes Marching In" are more recent albums of the D.S.C. Band. Though boogie-woogie music is not particularly popular in Holland, the albums of Dutch boogie-pianist Rob Hoeke are bestsellers for many years already. Hoeke normally leads his own R&B group, but frequently records boogie albums with pick-up groups. Phonogram released Hoeke's latest product, "Racing The Boogie" last week. Both his boogie and R&B albums are on the Philips label.

Last week James Lloyd appeared on the Willem Duys-program "De Vuist" with his hit "Keep On Smiling." Ariola-Benelux will also give strong promotion to the new Apocalypse single "Reflections Of A Summer." Their first single "Little Little," which got good review in the U.S.A., is still going strong here. The Avco Embassy group Liquid Smoke will reach very high on the charts with the single "I Who Have Nothing," released together with their hit album.

Barclay singing star Mireille Mathieu did three concerts in Rotterdam, The Hague and Amsterdam last weekend. Duke Ellington and his orchestra did an Amsterdam concert last Sunday at the 5000 seater RAI Building. CNR's shot of the year is an eighteen minute single with the reportage of the European soccer-final between Glasgow Celtic and Feyenoord (Rotterdam). With sales over 20,000 this record was in the Top 10. Last week CNR's close harmony group The Rowdies' first album has been baptized. It was Dutch golden artist Gert Timmerman who offered the LP "Friends" to the five members of the group. With the decline of soul music on the Dutch market Rotterdam's Soul Sound changed its style and released on CNR Records its first hard-rock single "My Mind's Phantasy." New name of the group: Rabbit Food. Like a tornado, Buddah's "Up With The People," the American musical-rock phenomen, stormed over our country. Concerts were given in Amsterdam, Rotterdam, The Hague, Utrecht and Apeldoorn. The Dutch audience was very enthousiastic and the ones who did not have the opportunity to see the show must watch television on July 10th for the half hour show "Up With The People."

Holland was the first country American singer Melanie became a star in. Her albums "Born To Be" and "Back In Town" are Golden ones while her singles "Beautiful People" and "Lay Down" have been top ten hits over here. Barclay/CNR released a new single from Melanie's longplay "Candles In The Rain": "Look What They've Done To My Song/Ruby Tuesday" is a double-hit record. Another great Buddah group is the Edwin Hawkins Singers. They started here last year with their million seller "Oh Happy Day" and their popularity improved a lot with their appearance in Holland in February last. The live album "At The Concertgebouw Amsterdam" is a massive seller from which Barclay/CNR took the track "Praise Him" for a single record.

Norman Greenbaum and his producer Erik Jakobsen arrived in Amsterdam to appear in NCRV TV's "Eddy, Ready, Go" show. Norman's new single will be issued on the Reprise label within two weeks: "Canned Ham."

Crabby Appleton is getting strong radio-exposure with its first attempt for the Elektra label: "Go Back." The record is about to enter the Dutch charts and will be followed as soon as possible by the group's first album.

Dutch group Spacetrack has gained until now only international acclaim. At Least they are achieving national popularity here with their new Negram released single "She's So Fine." It's already on the air, while Radio Veronica has tipped it for the charts. Last week Negram unveiled Warner's Valiant album series including a great number of impressive mid-priced LP's by Fats Domino, Alan Sherman, Everly Brothers, Ike & Tina Turner, a.o. Negram is very pleased with this development and has the Warner/Reprise catalogue winning on three fronts now. The labels have a share of over 10% of the hits in Holland, has proven to be a very "Creedy" album seller and is now expanding in the "attractive" price field.

Elbert van Zoeren reported great activity at Holland Music N.V.: Barry Hopkins ("Love Ya, Want Ya, Need Ya" on Spark Records) was in Holland to appear in the very popular TV program "Eddy, Ready, Go" and for Radio-appearances. Two Italian songs, Dutch copyright by Holland Music were recorded in Holland: "Canzone Blu" (Wat Ziet Ie Blauw) by the Cocktail Trio on CBS and "Nevicava A Roma" by Willy Alberti on Philips. The theme song of the World Football Cup TV series "Guadalajara," a Holland Music copyright, was recorded with Freddy Golden on Philips.

Kruize Of Bovema Praises Capitol's New Talent Thrust

HEEMSTEDE — Roel Kruize, general label manager for Bovema-Holland and repertoire coordinator for EMI in the German countries, returned from a U.S. trip. His main object was attending the Capitol Convention in Hawaii. Kruize told Cash Box: "Capitol's convention was a great experience and a pleasant surprise, because I got the feeling they seriously are paying a lot of attention to one major fact, essential in the growth of a record company, such as finding and developing new talent. Capitol did so and I am very glad to state that a lot of good artists with excellent material will come up in the near future. They reorganized a lot of departments during the past year and coordination between A & R and marketing really knocked me out. Capitol's merchandising projects presented during the convention were of very high standard and I was very pleased with the philosophy behind it. We, doing Capitol in the European territories, also got the feeling that they are expanding their international efforts. That they are going to use their experience and talent on a wider scale will benefit all of us!"

Kruize, being asked for an example that Capitol's future indeed is developing today, stated: "Sal Iannucci, president of Capitol's industries, is playing records every day. I like a top executive playing records because doing so he knows today what his people are going to sell tomorrow!"

"Further, I had some very good talks with A & R director international Don Shain. The Dutch are also coming on Capitol now. They really are behind our groups and within a short time first records will be released of Brainbox, Buffoons, Continental Uptight Bnad and probably more".

Plumb's 'Fiddles' LP To EMI Dist.

LOS ANGELES — IMC Productions has granted EMI distribution rights to Neely Plumb's "Funky Fiddles" album for the United Kingdom and other world-wide outlets.

Plumb has just returned after completing recording the instrumental album in London. EMI is rush releasing a single from the LP, "It's All In The Game" backed by "Happy Sad Song," a Plumb original.

"Funky Fiddles" is an album of motion picture scores and rhythm and blues hits arranged in a special way by Plumb.

IMC Productions and EMI have a releasing relationship whereby American production company provides EMI with eight LP's and a number of singles each year for three years. Lenny Poncher, co-owner of the company with Bill Loeb, negotiated the deal last December.

While in London, Plumb also completed recording the instrumental music he wrote for Anthony Newley's interpretation of Jennings Cobb's free form love poem, "For You." IMC has not yet set any distribution arrangement for this album which it has financed. Newley recorded his vocal readings in Los Angeles, so Plumb knew exactly how many minutes of music were required before he went into the London recording studio.

In his role as Capitol Records exclusive soundtrack LP specialist, Plumb visited a number of European film companies anent securing film music.

Among the films he investigated were "The Young Cassanova" with a score by Fiorenzo Capri (starring Leonard Whiting of "Romeo & Juliet" distinction); "Waterloo" with a score by Nino Rota; "Brother Son, Sister Moon" with a composer yet to be assigned. These films were all being prepared in Italy.

In England, Plumb saw "On This Rock," a documentary based on St. Peters Basillica with a Michael Lewis score. Plumb has been talking to Capitol's special products department about this LP. He also discussed an LP for "Say Hello To Yesterday" which has a Riz Ortolani score.

Before leaving for Europe, Plumb's last domestic assignment for Capitol was the completion of the "Norwood" soundtrack package starring Glen Campbell. Plumb had also produced Campbell's "True Grit" LP.

EDITORIAL:

The Professional Operator

At this time, when all eyeballs are focused on the dollar, it's almost impossible to believe there are still hundreds of thousands of people in this country who take greater pleasure from what they work at than from the money they make doing it. This is especially true in artistic circles . . . composers, actors, writers, and such, although everyone knows people who are quite satisfied in whatever little nitch they may sit, be it the Post Office or behind the counter of a coffee shop.

Before the world learned that monetary currency provided a more convenient means of trading services and goods than bartering, people were measured by what they did rather than by now much they made. Folks chose careers on personal aptitude and interest and eventually became slick professionals. The better they became at making coffee kettles or shoeing horses, the more goods they could ask in return, and many got "rich."

Most of the successful music and games operators who populate this industry are professionals in the same sense. They make money from their routes because they are good operators, not because they're good money manipulators. This is an all-but-forgotten thought in this day of loans, gifts and other sky-rocketing operating expenses. It is almost impossible to conceive of an operator accepting a compliment from a location on the quality of his service and equipment without first thinking: "Hey, I guess I've got this place locked up." Shouldn't the first thought have been: "Hey, I'm doing a pretty good job."

Surely, the first priority at the operating company must be to present entertaining equipment to customers at the stops. After all, when Joe Doaks drops a quarter into the jukebox, the last thought in his mind is supporting your business. He's either happy with the good selection of music you offer or mad at the lack of it. He's either interested in playing your games or he ignores them. In both cases, the bad collections will clearly indicate what kind of job the operator's doing, but, if this is what you wait for before correcting the situation, you're not as professional as you think.

The professional operator takes pride in his work. He enjoys knowing his music boxes are cooking with great music, his games are banging away because they're so much fun to play, and his location owners are happy they deal with him because he knows his business.

We often talk of creating ways to keep machines out of the hands of the location, but there's one certain method too often ignored. Call it operating talent, coin machine sense or competent professionalism — the message is clear. First comes the product and then comes the sale.

Brunswick Introduces Coin-Op 'CB-8'; 8-Footer With Basic Design of 'CB-7'

CHICAGO — The Brunswick Corp. recently introduced its new "CB-8" coin-operated billiard table, a four by eight foot table identical in design to the "CB-7" which measures three and one-half by seven feet.

The "CB-8" table has a registered one-inch thick, one piece precision ground bed, formica rails resistant to burns, a bed cloth that can be changed without removing the slate and snap-in cushions that facilitate service.

The coin box of the "CB-8" can hold more than $250 in quarters and a non-reversible meter is optional. The table's wire track ball returns prevent clogging of the holes with debris as small particles fall through the track and larger pieces can be pushed out easily.

Brunswick regional representative Ron Bartos explained that the success of the "CB-7" made it unnecessary to develop major innovations in the "CB-8". "There's no need to change the design of the "CB-7" for our new table," he said, "because in the "CB-7" we did everything we could to make it acceptable from a standpoint of playability and durability."

Bartos also said that the "CB-8" is coming off the production line and is available for distribution through Brunswick distributors. He revealed that Brunswick expects to produce a similarly-designed three by six foot table in the fall, intended for locations with limited recreation area and for those in locales where legal restrictions do not permit larger tables.

Florida House Bill to Legalize Bingos Fails After FAMA Opposition Lobbying Effort

WINTER HAVEN — Florida House Bill 4755, proposing the legalization of in-line pinball machines, failed to gain passage during the recently concluded regular session of the Florida Legislature.

The bill, opposed by the Florida Amusement & Music Assn., was passed by a House committee but did not reach the House floor. FAMA president Wesley Lawson made two trips to Tallahassee where he and FAMA executive director Bob Rhinehart presented FAMA's position to the House Committee. After the bill's passage out of committee, it was removed from the special order calendar and consequently never reached a vote.

The FAMA says the pinball bill will probably be again introduced in 1971. FAMA expects the state legislature will attempt to raise two hundred million dollars of additional tax money in order to maintain the operation of the state government. According to FAMA, governmental committee meetings will soon be held throughout the state that are likely to shape the tax future of Florida's coin machine industry. FAMA plans to step up lobbying efforts in an attempt to influence decisions that will be made concerning additional taxes on coin-operated equipment.

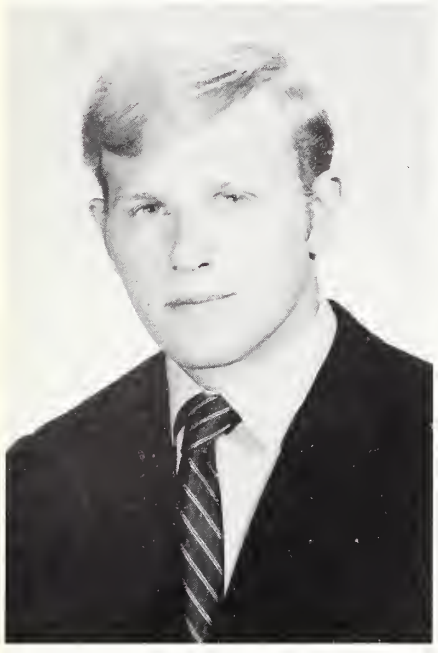
Peter Betti Finishes Undergraduate Career; Eyes Coinbiz Future



PETER BETTI

NORTH BERGEN — Peter Betti, son of Bert Betti, president of Betson Enterprises and associated companies, here recently graduated from American University in Washington, D.C.

Peter, who spent his summers at Betson, starting as a floor sweeper and currently working as a phonograph serviceman, completed his college career with several honors. He achieved the Dean's List, was president of Zeta Beta Tau fraternity, a member of several honor societies and captain of the rugby team, which he founded in his sophomore year. He capped his four years at American with his election to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," and was chosen as American University's "Outstanding Fraternity Man in 1969-70."

Peter is currently waiting to be called for six months of active reserve army training after which he will pursue graduate studies in business administration. Discussing his post-scholastic plans, he says, "The coin machine industry offers a great challenge, is exciting, and offers great opportunities for the future. I hope to carry on in the tradition of my father and grandfather, Humbert Betti, Sr., the founder of the business."

German Coin Exhibition Postponed Until 1971

BERLIN — The International Coin Machine Exhibition, "ima 70," scheduled to be held here this year in October, has been cancelled. The supreme joint committee, AMA, which represents manufacturers and distributors of coin machines, voted to cancel the Exhibition because manufacturers, importers and distributors were opposed to another exhibition after the Hanover Fair, held in May.

The three AMA partners, who voted 2-1 for cancellation, also decided that "ima 71" will, however, be held in October next year at the Berlin Kongresshalle. The "ima 71" will be combined with German Coin Machine Day as have past "ima" exhibitions. The AMA hopes that the coin machine exhibits will be omitted from the Hanover Fair next year, which is a general trade show, thus endowing "ima 71" with an exclusive coin machine flavor where all types of games and amusement machines would be displayed.

EASTERN FLASHES

AROUND TOWN — Lots of cigarette operators and dealers were packing off for the 1970 Cigarette Merchandisers Assn. convench at Laurels in the mountains at press time. Weekend (26-28) should see many music and games operators and their families there . . . Coinrow dealers with can drink machines doing brisk business with this item now that summer is upon the trade. Unfortunately, not too many straight-line juke and games operators buying them. Still think this is one area that fits nearly perfect within this industry's scope . . . Affable Billy Whitcomb of Peach State's Columbia office and his charming wife Dorothy into New York City last week for brief vacation. They drove up from South Carolina to the city in just over six hours weekend before last and got in all the sights hereabouts (Circle Line cruise, etc.) before driving off again to Niagara Falls and then into Canada. While here, they shuttled over to the American Shuffleboard factory in Union City, N.J., met with Nick Melone and Sol Lipkin and took in a party in Union with Sol that night . . . Local ops enjoying new convention journal recently published by the three local associations, under the direction of Ben Chicofsky. Book looks great and would have been given out at the Bahama convention except that customs regulations made it too difficult to bring the books in. As many factory execs, who held sales conventions out of the country one time or another know, some countries pile a heavy duty on top of any printed matter.

NEW ENGLAND NOTES — Chatted with Irv Margold up at Trimount in Dedham, Mass. on the phone, shortly after he returned from Sol Gottlieb's funeral in Chicago Wed. the 17th. Irv said many coinbiz friends of Sol and the Gottlieb family were in attendance. Of those he immediately recalled seeing were Joe Ash, Hymie Zorinsky, Johnny Bilotta, Al Rodstein, and J.D. Lazar.

THE JERSEY BOUNCE — Arcades are bustlin' up and down the shore now and much of the new amusement equipment released since last fall is stage front at the games rooms and boardwalk "casinos". Heavy hitters are expected to be the electronic target and combat machines and racing games on quarter play. Dealers in the State also expect sterling action on the Baseball pin by Gottlieb, Bally's Space Flight astronaut game and the Zoltan horoscope game by Prophetron. The latter, operating on dime play, can book a consistent $100 a week in a well-trafficked location. Here's to a good season for all . . . Brunswick's regional table sales rep Ron Bartos says Brunswick's new 8' coin table (CB-8) will probably be followed up in the fall with a 6' version, giving the company greater flexibility in selling its coin-op products to this industry . . . The United Billiards factory is now into production on a host of products. In addition to its coin table lines (which in combination of size and color cabinet colors available comes to 15), United's manufacturing and marketing a coin and non-coin 9' shuffleboard table called the 'Jet', and their recently introduced 'Jumbo' aluminum frame shipping dolly. To facilitate production line demands, the firm has leased another building nearby the headquarters plant on Progress St. in Union.

UPPER MID-WEST

Our congratulations to the Manolises, Huron, on the marriage of their son Steve on June 6. Steve recently graduated from the University of South Dakota where he majored in business administration. He now has a position with the Kodak Co., Rochester, N. Y. . . . Ron Manolis ran for the School Board in the last election, but we don't know whether or not he made it.

Mrs. Ted Salveson returned home from a month vacation in San Diego where she visited her sister . . . The Porters of Mitchell have their daughter Cindy home for the summer. Cindy attends school in Tuscon. Their son Craig and his family are also spending the summer with them . . . Dar Holsman and his son in town on a fast trip to pick up some equipment . . . Phil Smith, Minneapolis op, flew to South Bend and then to Bloomington, where he saw his nephew graduate from the University of Indiana.

Earl Ackley at a postmasters conventions for a week at Sturgeon Bay . . . Johnny Cooper, Duluth and Nik Berquist in town for the day buying equipment . . . Bob Lucking in the cities buying records and parts. So was Cab Anderson and his son Kevin . . . Herb Peterson and Duane Reiners in the cities for the day making the rounds . . .

Ryel Gelineau, back in the hospital after another heart attack. He was released five weeks ago, and feeling fine forgot his illness and tried chopping down a small tree. He's getting along fine and will be out in about two weeks . . . Bob Guillaume and his son in town for the day taking in a ball game . . . Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mager in the cities for the day . . . Lots of raves from ops on Gottlieb's "Baseball" and Williams' "Jive Time" and "Bonanza." . . . Don Hazelwood and Don Jr. in town for the day. Don Jr.'s wife and child are visiting her parents in New York.

MILWAUKEE MENTIONS

Schlitz Brewing Co. will sponsor a huge July 4 circus parade which will be televised in various states across the country. Among participants in the gala event will be movie actor Ernest Borgnine and the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey entourage . . . New member of Empire Dist.'s sales staff is Pat Netterville, who's also a newcomer to the coin machine industry. Pat spends a great deal of time on the road covering the state of Wisconsin, the upper peninsula, and points thereabouts. Welcome aboard!

In addition to keeping up with activity at the busy Pierce Music operation in Brodhead, Clint and Marie Pierce are involved in Dairy Month (currently running) and the various functions held in conjunction with the big event. A Dairy Queen will be elected and a special "Cheese Day" will be held in Green County. The Pierce farm, of course, is a real showcase at this time!

Nice chatting with Jim Stansfield of Stansfield Novelty in LaCrosse. He and Jim Jr. attended the recent Minnesota Vending Seminar at Madden's Retreat in Brainard, Minn., which reportedly attracted a record-breaking crowd! Stansfield Novelty is enjoying a surge in business resulting from activity at the various resorts in the surrounding areas!

Got the word from Gordon Pelzek of Record City on some hot operator singles hereabouts. His list includes Engelbert Humperdinck's latest release "My Marie" (Parrot), "Close To You" by The Carpenters (A&M), "Drivin' Home" by Jerry Smith (Decca), "Eleanor Rigby" by El Chicano (Kapp) and "You Wanna Give Me A Lift" by Loretta Lynn (Decca).

CHICAGO CHATTER

As of Friday, June 26, the Rock-Ola Mfg. Corp. plant closed for the annual two weeks vacation period. Factory will resume production on Monday, July 13. We understand, however, that a skeleton force will be on hand in the office.

Our condolences to Empire Dist. veepee Joe Robbins, whose father-in-law, Phillip Hoffman, passed away (21). Funeral services were held last Tuesday (23) and Joe's many friends and associates in the industry were present . . . "SAMI" continues to be a strong item out at the Midway Mfg. Co. plant in Schiller Park. Sales manager Larry Berke says "operators love the game and are especially pleased about the apparent lack of service problems involved."

No summer doldrums at Atlas Music Co. Joe Kline says all departments are busy — music, vending, games. The crew is already gearing itself for a five-day week, because the Atlas showrooms will be closed on Saturdays for the months of July and August. Get out the golf clubs, fellas! . . . The word "bonanza" is defined as "any rich source of profit", and this accurately describes Williams' current, "red hot" rifle game, according to Bill DeSelm. He says location reports reaching the factory bear out the definition. Also on the receiving end of operators' praise are "Laguna" and "Hit & Run", which are both on the current Williams' delivery schedule.

Ted Rubey and the staff of Marvel Mfg. Co. are getting set for vacation time. The firm will close on July 3 and reopen for business on Monday, July 27 . . . A new kiddie ride is on display at the World Wide Dist. showrooms. It's called "Palomino" and Howie Freer says it's an extremely well constructed piece of equipment. Fred Skor had tons of praise for Williams' "Bonanza", to which operators have been receptive.

Happy to report that Bally ad manager Herb Jones returned to his office last week after a stay in the hospital. He was knee deep in accumulated paperwork when we called, but he's feeling just fine and is pleased to be back at work . . . Export is way up at National Coin Machine Exchange. Domestically, the local trucking strike-lockout (which, by the way, is in its 11th week) has certainly put a damper on things. Mort Levinson says the distrib's enjoying plenty of action with Gottlieb's "Baseball", the Wurlitzer "Statesman", etc., but meeting customers' demands is not so easy, under present circumstances.

Production schedules at Chicago Dynamic Industries are currently centering on "Speedway" and "Esquire"! The newly released 6-player puck bowler is enjoying wide acceptance, according to Mort Secore, and is fast becoming a strong item . . . MOA recently issued the first supply of promotion stickers and is hopeful they will be used by everyone in the trade on all correspondence. This is an excellent way to promote Expo '70. Remember, the stickers are free for the asking so if you need more please contact the local MOA office.

On the singles scene, Joe Ceddia of Lormar lists the following new releases as active with local operators: "No Arms Can Ever Hold You" by Bobby Vinton (Epic), "I Just Can't Help Believin' " by B. J. Thomas (Scepter) and "Our Song (La Paloma)" by Engelbert Humperdinck (Parrot).

JULY, 1970

Dear Friends:

On January 1, 1970, the coin machine industry, along with its sister industries in the entertainment world, entered the much heralded "leisure 70's". While some members of the jukebox and games trade waited for a bonanza in additional dollars to break around their shoulders, some charged forth to meet it halfway -- by establishing modern fun centers and by exploiting additional locations in virtually untapped areas like schools, shopping malls and the hotel-motel complex. What is the net result after the first six months?

While a great many firms held back any additional investment into the budding leisure explosion, fearing an economic slowdown that might reach into the consumer's change purse, many more wisely sought after a bigger share of the market by spending to improve services and enlarge the route. The latter know this business by its other name -- a depression industry -- a dubious title, but a fact of life. Music and games are "everyman's" opera, his ball park, his race track -- the only place today where he can still enjoy a few minutes of pure entertainment for a quarter.

Recognizing the proud position of the music and games industry on the international scene, and the role of Cash Box as one of the tools utilized by that industry in its drive toward increased prosperity, I am pleased to present our 1970-71 World Wide Directory edition. Its pages of reference material carry the "who, what and where" information to the four corners of this globe -- necessary information to every firm serving the public via the coin chute.

We are proud to be a part of this trade, and on my own behalf, as well as for the entire staff at Cash Box, may I thank you once again for making it possible to serve you.

Apart we make beautiful music together

The Cameron Solid-State Stereophonic Phonograph is the world's finest Phonograph. Its revolutionary feature is the CAMERON MUSIC SYSTEM. Which means the Cameron can be tailored, in moments, to fit any location.

Place two sets of twin speakers anywhere in the area you wish to cover with the great CAMERON sound and customers will get true stereophonic sound. The Selector head can be wall mounted anywhere you want to get maximum play. Hit features, Little L.P.'s and Stereo get lots of play time.

Incorporate the play unit, housed in an attractive cabinet, as part of your location furniture or tuck it away, out of sight, in store room or cellar.

There's never been another Phonograph to match the CAMERON SOUND so before you consider any Phonograph make sure you hear the CAMERON . . . all apart and making beautiful music.

SEGA JET ROCKET

AIRSTRIKE SIMULATOR

Puts You in the Pilot Seat

- Authentic sound effects include jet motors, missile-firing and ground explosions.
- Exciting visual effects resemble those used in advanced pilot training simulators.
- Dramatic operational concept and new illusions appeal to both players and spectators.
- Realistic aircraft instrumentation, controls, weapons systems, designs and ground scenes.
- Genuine skill features result in multiple games per player and extended location popularity.

The SEGA Jet Rocket is an amazingly realistic flight and air-to-surface missile simulator. A 3-dimensional landscape unfolds beneath an aircraft flying a combat sortie as hundreds of tiny fluorescent points of light reveal the features of port and harbor areas. The player controls the jet's guidance system as it speeds between such aggressor targets as fuel dumps, missile sites, island fortresses and military airstrips. Enemy strongholds are outlined by a simulated infra-red penetration system. Successive series of missiles are fired by a push button on the control mechanism. Ground impact explosions are marked by light and sound effects, which are intensified when a target is hit. An optional and adjustable free play feature is incorporated into this advanced skill game.

THE TRIMOUNT BY ROWE AMI

The theme is the Rowe basic machine. As dependable as ever. With complete front door servicing. Dry lubricants that last 5 years. Sintered gold electrical contact points that don't corrode, pit, or tarnish. And a 5-year warranty.

Our basic theme also includes these new features: an improved bass sound chamber. New Hybrid Solid State Tube amplifiers that use the best of two amplifying systems. (They can be visually "troubleshot" on location.) And an animated display that will attract attention and stimulate play.

The variations are the grills and front panels pictured here. They can make the Rowe Trimount look like 15 different machines. And can be changed on location within 15 minutes.

If you want to see what a difference a panel makes, use the cut-outs on this page. And make your own music maker.

Then make sure you see a Rowe man about it. So we can make beautiful music together. Soon.

Nationwide; worldwide...Seeburg serves you!

Wherever you find coin-operated vending, you find Seeburg first with the best.

In coin-operated phonographs, Seeburg leads with profit-making features. The high-style contemporary look and the high-fidelity stereo sound of today's coin phonos are both Seeburg firsts.

In cigaret vending, the Seeburg Tobacco Counter has eliminated the awkward stooping and bending. Handsome new 1,056 pack machines offer as many as 40 brands at countertop level instead of knee level.

In beverage vending, the name Seeburg stands for progress and innovation. Seeburg designed and marketed the first cold-drink vender. Today Seeburg sophisticated hot and cold venders are preferred the world over.

In home stereo, Seeburg is first with the exclusive new vertical record changing system that ends record handling, turning, and record damage. In background music, Seeburg is a leader in shaping attitudes with music specially paced to the work tempo. In pianos, organs and band instruments, Seeburg subsidiaries are world-renowned.

Wherever you work or play, nationwide or worldwide, Seeburg serves you . . . first with the best.

(The United Billiard's Address)

Four years and seven months ago we brought forth in our industry a new company, conceived in the idea that a better product could be produced and dedicated to the proposition that all pool tables on the market are not equal.

Now we are engaged in a great competitive war, testing whether our products, or any other such products, can long endure.

We have met on this battlefield of competition and emerged, not only with a product that will long endure, but also emerge as the fastest growing company in our industry.

The industry will little note or long remember that it was not too long ago that we first started, but it will never forget the quality and workmanship of our product.

It is fitting and proper that we did this, but in a larger sense we cannot dedicate ourselves to the past. We must continue to research and develop our product to give birth to new ideas that shall present to the industry a product with the operator in mind. We shall dedicate ourselves to the principle that only a product that is conceived by the operator and for the operator will long endure.

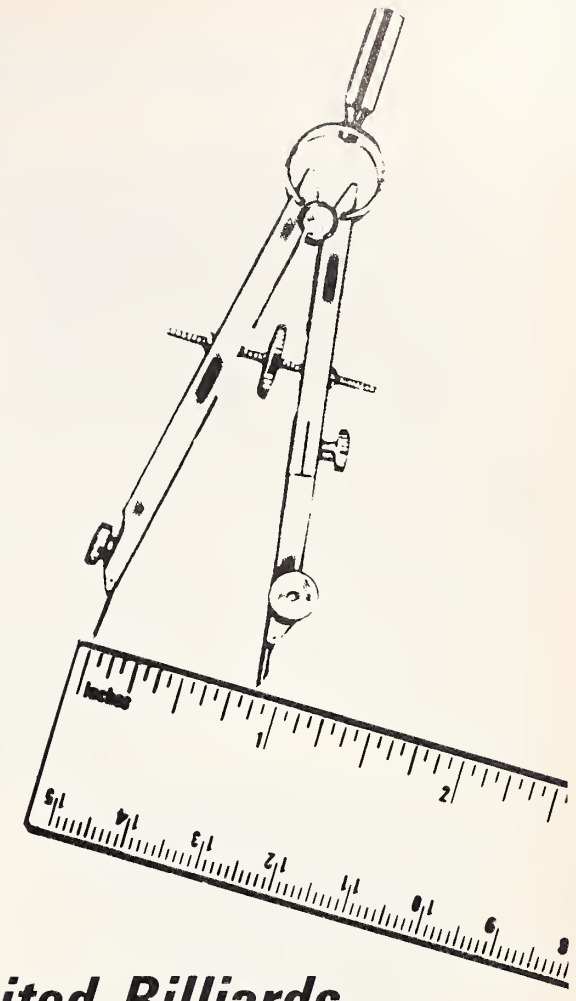
what's in an extra 1/8th inch?



Plenty to operators who install 3½ X 7′ coin tables and later face expensive replacement of a warping or sagging slate. But don't blame the weather . . . blame the ¾" thickness of the slate.

Then United Billiards began shipping all its 7′ Silver Fox and Red Fox tables with a ⅞" slate (that extra ⅛"), and one more problem was solved for the coin table operator.

Another pace-setting feature from United Billiards

If everybody played pool like he does, we wouldn't make this table.

But let's face it, not everybody has the delicate touch of a Jimmy Caras.
(He's 5 times Pocket Billiards Champion of the world.)
And so we bring you the Brunswick CB-7.
A specially-built table that can stand up under the constant pounding and rough play a table gets in most coin-op establishments, yet still give you the true tournament playability that Jimmy Caras demands.
To begin with, the legs on this table are sturdy as oaks.
(Tip it over on two legs, you still won't buckle them.)
Return tracks are fast, quiet and absolutely jam-proof.
It has a removable ball box. Extra large coin-box. Easy-off Formica® rails. And a cloth you can change in minutes without removing the slate.
And when its commercial playing days are over, you can even convert it and sell it as a home pool table with our special conversion kit.
All in all, it's the finest, most service-free coin-op made.
Just what you'd expect from Brunswick.
Makers of fine professional billiard tables since 1845.

Golfers spend $2¾ billions annually.
You don't have to wind golf balls for a share of the market:
All you need is hustle!

There are over 10,000 golf courses in the U.S., plus 15,000 driving ranges and pitch -and-putts. Add it up.
That's 25,000 potential locations for the Golf IQ.

The Golf IQ Package puts a 1600 question film in your IQ Computer and adds a special Golf IQ lid.
Questions are professionally formulated, illustrations carefully prepared and the lid is Bent-grass Green.

$2,750,000,000 is a lot of green.
We'll help you hustle.

Because CBS has its own subsidiaries, you don't get the best parts of the music world in the worst kind of mix-up. As sometimes happens with scattered licensees.

Instead you get a network of subsidiaries that can solve problems all over the world for you. While you stay at home. They work harder for you because your business is their job. And their job is our business.

So when they put you into the local music industry, you go where you want to go. Whether they record for you. Or master. Press. Merchandise. Promote. Advertise. Distribute. Or publish. You're in control.

Because we're very much in control.

And for your business, that'll make the world a better place to be in.

ENGLAND: The Past 12 Months

The year ended April 30th 1970 has seen several major changes in the British music industry. Like all changes, they have taken their toll of victims, but reflect the altering conditions and revised philosophies as a new decade dawned that will transpire to be the most important and significant watershed in the history of international popular music. The calendar year of 1969 proved to be the best yet in terms of British record manufacture and sales. The statistics hit their highest peak yet, with the LP leading the way — solid facts of success that might surprise those aware of the regular gripes and despondency expressed in several quarters at regular intervals about the viability and buoyancy of the music industry's future. Even the 45 r.p.m. disk showed distinct signs of rallying towards the end of the year, confounding those who had predicted its imminent total demise. The year under review began with further evidence of the polarisation of the retail market. EMI Records set forth its new sales theory of the Music Center concept, retail outlets comprising an elite of about 500 of the top dealers accounting for a high proportion of total sales throughout the country. These dealers stock an agreed minimum of EMI catalog material at all times, and are classified in two categories according to the volume of their trade. EMI prepares the catalog packs and offers regular dividends in the shape of special promotions and favorable trading terms, and gets action across the whole range of its product in return. Songwriter-musical director Les Reed laid plans for his infant Chapter One label distributed by Decca with the signing of the Bournemough Symphony Orchestra, a pact that has not yet seen its first release. Reed's busy schedule was increased with commitment to a couple of TV spectaculars featuring him and his music and a crop of disk releases on his songs. Charlie Koppelman, Don Rubin and John Gross announced plans for the later launching of their own music company here and Shapiro-Bernstein Music captured the score and cast album recording assignment for the Cyril Ornadel-David Croft musical "Ann Veronica." Britain shared in the rather ludicrous result of the 1969 Eurovision Song Contest with no less than four songs tying for first place. Lulu sang the U.K. entry "Boom Bang-a-Bang." Pye Records won U.K. representation rights to the new Metromedia label subsidiary of the New York Metromedia Corporation and also acquired the remaining 49% equity interest of the Alex Strickland chain of retail shops. Mervyn Conn readied the first International Festival of Country & Western Music at the Wembley Empire Pool on April 5th with a star contingent from the States and CBS did a manufacture and distribution deal for the Reflection label offshoot of Artists Musical Productions.

APRIL litigation ensued between Nemperor Holdings and the Triumph Investment Trust on one side and EMI on the other about whom should receive disk royalties earned by the Beatles. EMI was upheld in its declaration that it would pay no royalties to anyone until the whole dispute was resolved and the judge dismissed the case. RCA opened a Red Seal classical operation headquarters for Europe at its London base in Curzon Street, and Rosemany Schnutz was named as its administrator. Charles Curran succeeded Sir Hugh Greene as director general of the BBC and his appointment marked the beginning of a bitter and acrimonious wrangle inside the BBC and outside about its future plans and policy. The Beatles started their campaign to prevent Northern Songs, their publishing outlet, passing into the control of Associated Television. The Paramount label celebrated its first British release of the "Oh What a Lovely War" soundtrack album with an old time lunch at Flanagan's and the Atlantic-Atco month in Britain got underway with an American tour as the winning prize. The April budget slammed the amusement machine trade with increased duty and a new exise duty, curtailed evasive measures by big-earning stars to minimise their tax assessments, and hit the whole music industry with an increase in the Selective Employment Tax. Morgan Records and Morgan Studios amicably parted company and Tony Bennett arrived to an SRO tour with Count Basie.

MAY saw The Beatles continuing their battle for Northern Songs with a counter bid of over £2 million against ATV and Essex Music European chief David Platz emerged as a major adviser to the Beatles on their publishing affairs. RCA named Ian Grant as U.K. A&R chief and Tommy Loftus as Head of Promotion. Performing Right Society general manager R.F. Whale lambasted the Singapore Government on its denial of royalties on music broadcast over its radio station. The Fidelity group announced plans for a $3 million recording and movie complex in north London to be called Advance. The House of Commons rejected a bill to enable the Greater London Council to operate a commercial radio system and Dick James' DJM label signed actor Edward Woodward, star of the TV counter-espionage series called "Carlan." ATV neared victory in the struggle for Northern Songs, despite Warner Brothers and other temporarily getting in on the act with counter bids and approaches. Bill Martin, Phil Coulter, Les Reed, Mitch Murray, Peter Callander, Barry Mason and the Scaffold were amongst those honored in the Ivor Novello Awards; two musicals "Belle Starr" and "Ann Veronica" folded; Nems took over the Brian Morrison Agency and Screen Gems-Columbia did a worldwide deal with Richard Harris' Limbridge Music.

In JUNE rumblings of discontent gathered force within the BBC particularly on the subject of staff orchestras reported destined for the redundancy axe but later reinstated after Musicians' Union intervention. The month came to a close with EMI Chairman Sir Joseph Lockwood announcing his intention to relinquish his duties as chief executive in November on the occasion of his sixty-fifth birthday while retaining his chairmanship. The new progressive label, Harvest, was launched in Britain in June and quickly established itself as an important reflection of the current musical scene. RCA launched its new disk promotion department under Tommy Loftus with a champagne reception and the Rolling Stones disclosed plans for some concerts in Rome as well as the fact that Brian Jones had left and been replaced by Mick Taylor. Warner Bros-Seven Arts took possession of its London home in New Oxford Street headed by Ian Ralfini and the Maltings concert hall at Snape, annual venue for the Aldeburgh Festival was gutted by fire.

JULY opened with the news of Pye Reocrds' major entry into the American market via a new company jointly owned with the GRT Corporation. BBC bother continued with heated dissent from some quarters on its plans for forty local radio stations, a formidable counter to commercial radio projects envisaged with a change of government at Westminster. In a surprise move, the British Phonographic Industry organisation representing the country's major disk manufacturers decided to abandon its case for the retention of resale price maintenance, opening the door to price cutting. MCA Records reverted to its licensing deal with Decca after a period of independence, but retained its own London office under Brian Brolly. EMI Records sales director John Fruin was named merchandising director and disk jockey Chris Denning became Decca director of radio and television promotion in succession to Selwyn Turnbull, who took up the new post of artist and management liaison manager. Hassle broke out between UA Films and Sir William Walton because the company commissioned Ron Goodwin to write major part of "Battle of Britain" score, for which Sir William was originally assigned. The Beatles exited from Nems Enterprises, the company of their late manager Brian Epstein, in a settlement with Triumph Investment Trust. The BBC published its future radio plans, confirming fears that several orchestras were for the chop, and Pye Records chief Louis Benjamin named budget line and special projects head Monty Presky director of the company. Page One label chief Larry Page sold his interest in the enterprise to his partner Dick James and announced the formation of Penny Farthing Records.

AUGUST began with Pye capturing exclusive licensing rights for the U.K. and Ireland for Festival Records, the newly established British subsidiary of the Australian firm of the same name which is part of newspaper magnate Ruper Murdoch's business empire. EMI acquired Rediffusion's stake in the Keith Prowse-Peter Maurice music publishing group and Steve Gottlieb was named Philips-Polydor supremo in Britain. RCA made Ian Gillespie its product and operations general manager and Walter Sparksman its general marketing manager while MGM's British disk operation reverted to a licensing deal with EMI once again. Campbell Connelly Music revealed plans to launch its own Concord label and Philips and Polydor readied massive fall campaign on cassettes.

The agreement between EMI and Tamla/Motown for Britain was renewed for a further long period at the beginning of September and staff changes at Philips resulted in Olav Wyper becoming marketing manager after service with CBS and producers Jack Baverstock and Terry Brown leaving. CBS announced its entry into the musical instrument and accessories market and increased involvement in the tape field at its regional sales conferences. Decca also forecast its entry into the tape market via cassettes at a later date and bowed a new budget line called Eclipse and details of its deal with the Moody Blues' new Threshold label. A huge open-air festival on the Isle of Wight with Bob Dylan headlining passed off with only minor incidents. Philip Solomon's Major Minor label set a three year deal with the French Barclay company and EMI announced its Regal Starline budget series. Former Radio Caroline pirate chief Ronan O'Rahilly gave details of his projected TV pirate station to be located in an aircraft flying over the North Sea, and the Management Agency and Music enterprise of Tom Jones, Engelbert Humperdinck and their manager reached dizzy new heights of success in the stock market. Pye chief Louis Benjamin referred to the unrealistic attitude of artists and managers on the question of advances during the Pye sales conference and said British industry was becoming more like Las Vegas every day in terms of risk. Pye took the Delyse label headed by Isabella Wallich and specialising in children's records and ethnic music under its administrative wing.

OCTOBER marked the increased interest at Philips in the indie production market by the signing of a deal with Monty Babson of Morgan Studios, producers of the Blue Mink hit "Melting Pot." AIR London head and Beatle producer George Martin set plans for the company's own recording studios to be located at London's Oxford Circus. Norrie Paramor ended a 20 year association with EMI, and set up independently with a Polydor affiliation. Elektra named Clive Sel-

The nineteen seventies are tipped as the decade of the tape explosion in Britain and Europe generally. Cartridges and cassettes are expected to bite deeply for an ever-growing share of the music market, and just around the corner is the audio-visual device, enabling video performances to be seen and heard through television receivers.

This latter development will be a slow starter in domestic terms on account of its heavy cost. But the British music business anticipates an initial hiring system until the audio-visual branch of entertainment comes within reach of the pockets of the general public for use in their own homes.

Copyright View

Dick James of Northern Songs has been pondering the resultant circumstances from a copyright point of view. The advent of audio-visual systems poses a situation without precedent, and James wants the matter of royalties and copyright protection to be defined and settled at the outset.

"Don't get me wrong," he said. "I'm not disturbed or opposed to these developments. I think they are fantastic and inevitable, and I welcome them, although they'll probably give the cinema and television something to worry about.

"I know several expert bodies already have the copyright and royalty aspects under consideration, and they're as aware as I am about all the angles. But now is the time to get the whole matter ironed out and regularised in readiness."

James referred to the long-standing statutory royalty rate of 6¼% for a double-sided record or tape established in 1928 and unvaried ever since.

"We're still living with that rate," he commented. "Overheads have increased, so has the cost of living, and the value of money has decreased. Consequently a hit now is actually worth less than it would have been in 1928."

Like everyone else involved, he obviously would like to see this royalty rate raised, and raised in time to meet the audio-visual development in the market. James has ideas on how royalties could be collected.

German Answer

"I believe that in Germany the price of video sound tape incorporates royalties for publishers with material used on the tape. Alternately I think people should buy a performing license with their audio-visual machines which is renewable each year like the one we have now for radio and TV receivers unless it is proved that the machine is no longer owned or in use."

This remedy would overcome the impossibility of the Performing Right Society licensing every individual household. Audio-visual equipment employed regularly for non-domestic private performances could be licensed by the PRS in the same way applied to music societies giving record recitals now.

James's hope for clarification and formulation of rates and safeguards for this new entertainment medium is strengthened by recent experience. The Ivor Novello Awards show was filmed for closed circuit TV in the States, and it was not until after the event that it was realised that this was the first international closed circuit project of its kind, and no copyright royalty basis had been set to cover it.

wood and Mike Hales as European and British representative respectively and Jan Olofsson resigned from the London helm of Olga Records to establish the Green Light Songs office. Philips launched its progressive Vertigo label, following in the track of EMI's Harvest line and the Moody Blues bowed their Threshold project via Decca. Pye and GRT heralded plans for a joint tape venture in the U.K. and the Beatles sold off a heft slab of Northern Songs shares following their defeat at the hands of ATV for control of the pubbery. J.A. Freedman won the first Radio Luxembourg international song contest for Britain with "When You Walked Out of My Life" and impresario Don Arden released details of his projected Aquarius enterprise involving disk production, label and artist management and publishing. Pye Records chief Louis Benjamin was named head of the Moss Empires Theatre chain in succession to the retiring Leslie Macdonell, and retained his Pye duties.

NOVEMBER marked EMI's entry into the 8-track stereo cartridge field with a star-studded first release: Leslie Gould announced his departure from the London helm at Philips Records and John Robinson was named European marketing manager for MCA Records. ABC Records appointed John Snell as its European representative and Stuart Reid headed up a new pop division of Chappell Music with a brief to revitalise the publishing giant's activities in the pop field on an international scale. RCA fixed to handle Audio Fidelity product in the U.K. and Ireland and the Management Artists and Music group launched MAM Merchandising to cover goods being marketed with the name or endorsement of MAM stars Tom Jones and Englebert Humperdinck. Songwriter-producer Tony Macaulay signed five year pact with Bell Records and Stan West was named product manager for the European, African and Middle East divisions of Ampex Stereo Tapes. Bandleader Ted Heath died aged 67 after several years of declining health.

DECEMBER kicked off with the BBC giving details of its initial twelve new local radio stations, a number which would rise eventually to forty over the next four years, and IBC recording studios proclaimed its new label to be called UPC and headed by Eddie Tre-Vett. Radio North Sea International began its pirate transmissions off the Dutch coast and the Beatles reached final agreement on the sale of their Northern Songs stock to ATV while publisher Sean O'Mahony closed down the six-year old Beatles Monthly magazine. A multi-million deal involving exchange of shares between Decca and Tom Jones and Englebert Humperdinck of MAM ensured their continued presence on Decca for another six years. Carlin Music and others took High Court action to stop pre-release importation of disks from the States with consequent alleged evasion of copyright royalty payments by the importers.

JANUARY 1970 began with the customary pre-Midem flurry of preparation and activity. Fred Marks of Festival Records in Australia was named as successor to Leslie Gould at the Philips helm in London and the Robert Stigwood Organisation ceased its plans for a reverse takeover of Arbiter and Weston. Festival made its British bow with a single by Israeli movie star Dahliah Lavi and disk jockey Pete Murray collected the Order of the British Empire in the New Years Honours List. Warner Reprise outlined plans to present concerts by artists on its roster at major British venues as a promotional vehicle, and Reprise founder Frank Sinatra's May charity gigs in London were announced. The newly formed Country Music Association of Great Britain blueprinted plans for a larger slice of country music on the air and Leslie Gould was named chairman and managing director of Famous Chappell. Bob Kingston who heads up Southern Music in London visited Hollywood to record, in association with Denny Diante, an album with Eartha Kitt recently signed to the Peer Southern Organisation for release on the Spark label. A full crop of deals were set at the Midem meet in Cannes where EMI held a conference of its international publishing affiliates and branches to introduce the newly acquired Keith Prowse-Peter Maurice group to the family. Bob Kingston given further responsibilities within the Southern Music Organisation including closer liaison with branch offices resulting in extensive continental travel.

FEBRUARY brought a sudden executive move when John Fruin left his merchandising director's chair at EMI to head Polydor in succession to Roland Rennie who took the helm of Polydor International. Lord Willis made an unsuccessful attempt to up the songwriters' royalty rate via a defeated bill in the House of Lords, and the budget Music for Pleasure label announced its entry in the language instruction market. CBS demonstrated its confidence in the future of underground music at its London Sales conference attended by international licencees. A & M Records headed here by Larry Yaskiel welcomed Sergio Mendes to Britain prior to their appearances in the Grand Gala du Disques in Amsterdam. Mervyn Conn gave advance information about the second country music fest at Wembley in the Spring and Tito Burns left London Weekend Television to join the MAM organisation. Ron Randall was named European director for Hickory Records and Cliff Busby became EMI sales and distribution general manager following John Fruin's departure. Plans to form a big band of young British musicians under the patronage of Count Alberto Cinzano were set forth and Ampex marketing administrator Fred Mandler said the company was contemplating establishing a duplication plant in the London area.

were not providing enough business and Novello and Co. the educational publishing specialist became the target of a takeover bid. Liberty/UA preluded plans for a major entry into the European tape market later in the year. CBS continued its progressive campaigning with the announcement of its "Fill Your Head With Rock" drive scheduled for March launching. Rumours about Immediate's financial health continued to grow and Carlin Music head Freddy Bienstock gave details of the later activation of the group's CMC recording enterprise to be based in London. Radio North Sea International began test transmissions to Britain.

MARCH brought about the promotion of Chappell director Frank Coachworth to general manager of the London office, relieving M.E. Ricketts of much of the administrative duties and the first International Conference of Chappell Managers was held in London. Noel Rogers was named director of European music co-ordination for United Artists Pictures, retaining the helm of United Artists Music meanwhile, and AIR London chief George Martin concluded deal with Herman Edel Associates for joint music production company. Other record companies proved slow in reacting to EMI's price hike and abolition of the returns allowance conditioned by hostile reaction of retail trade. Margaret Davis, head of EMI's educational department was named training officer for the Music Trades Association training centre to be set up later this year. Jack Boyce named as special projects manager for Music for Pleasure after two years as classical promotion chief at Philips. Music for Pleasure also revealed plans to increase its share of the children's market and David Jacobs named consultant with regard to talent and recording by RCA. Philip Solomon of Major Minor Records announced the formation of a new Country label to be devoted to country & Western music and Larry Page of Penny Farthing Records signed Lincoln Black, Judd and The Larry Page Orchestra to Fred Foster's Monument label for three years.

In APRIL Dick James named David Rosner to handle his catalog in the U. S. A. and launched Elton John on a disk career. Immediate Records, the company started by Andrew Oldham, went into voluntary liquidation. Larry Page's Penny Farthing label signed Dutch group George Baker Selection to three year deal and Terry Noon named Dave Williams professional manager of Page Full of Hits publishing company. Eurovision songwriters Bill Martin and Phil Coulter produced and published, via their Mews publishing outlet, this year's Eurovision winner for Ireland "All Kinds of Everything" sung by Dana and written by Denny Lindsay and Jackie Smith and also released a single of the England World Cup Squad singing "Back Home" destined to be an enormous seller.

GERMANY: The Past 12 Months

The business on the German market is still healthy. The total sales rose about 9% over the previous year and close to about 138 million dollars worth of product was sold. Furthermore, about 1,74 million MusiCassetts were sold and, together with the turnover of the non-registered firms, the turnover increased to 560 million DM, that will say 151 million dollars.

The 12" LP is with the grand total of 94,8 million records (incl. export) leading with 51,1 million sold (+ 14.3%) and the sale of 40.8 million singles shows an increase of 10%.

The sale of low-priced LP's was much the same as those of the normal-priced ones but in the past year the low-priced LP's sales rose significantly. The turnover of normal priced LP's stagnated with 14.3 million.

The classical music sales reached 25.6% increase for the past year. In other European countries that field reached 20%. The sales of EP's and 10" LP's showed still a downward trend. By the export of 19.1 million records the 12" LP is leading.

On the single scene, 59 records made the top 10 in the last 12 months, compared to 89 records the year before.

Only about 32% of the songs listed were German original songs. As in the years before, record sales in large cities accounted for most of the English language volume with the kids all over the country favoring the foreign product.

On the LP scene it looks a little bit different. 36 LP's made the top 10 in the last 12 months on the LP charts. About 19 LP's that means 47%, were recorded in Germany. The events of the last 12 months were as follows:

ENGLAND: PAST 12 MONTHS

(Con't. from Page 25)

Sparta Music's Hal Shaper and Jeff Kruger, boss of Ember Records, signed a deal merging their publishing interests via a new company to be known as Sparta Florida Music Group. Martin Davis named Managing Director of Liberty/UA, and Creedence Clearwater took Britain by storm giving Burlington Music yet another hit by the group with "Travelin' Band". Paul McCartney eventually left The Beatles after months of rumors.

Future Directions

The future is clarifying itself in some directions. Cassettes and cartridges are going to grow bigger as more companies make massive commitments to this field. Disk retailers are going to diminish in number as the trade becomes aligned in favour of the big chains or the well organised specialist. Newly independent American labels here will learn some more hard lessons with quite possibly more major casulaties before they can breathe easy in the British market. It's all in the game, like the song says.

He can be sure of business in Germany

He's got Ariola

Working with Ariola means success.
Because . . .
Ariola promotion uses new ideas.
Because . . .
Ariola distribution is spelled S.A.L.E.S.
So . . .
Make sure your product gets the right treatment.
Our treatment.
Then . . .
Watch your artists dominate our charts.
Like Ariola artists do.

Peter Alexander, Mireille Mathieu, Udo Jürgens,
Rex Gildo, Heintje, Michael Holm, Ricky Shayne,
The Hollies, The Equals, The Troggs, Apocalypse,
Tee-Set, Vanity Fare,
George Baker Selection, Desmond Dekker

ITALY: The Past 12 Months

The 27th anniversary edition of Cash Box noted the most encouraging and optimistic perspective for the future of Italian industry, and not only for music. Italy was considered at that time, together with Germany and Japan, a very strong economical power with a very strong currency. National gross product was expected to increase in 1969 nearly 7%, and from many international authorities came word that Italy would revalue her Lira at the same time as the German Mark (The Economist, August 1969). Now, June 1970, we know that the apparent increase of National Gross Product for 1969 was less than 5% and that the Italian Lira has lost over 4% of its value. In the meantime the cost of living from May '69 to Jan. '70 (last official data available) jumped 3.7% against an increase of 2.6% from Sept. 1967 to May 1969. The causes of such an inversion are generally considered the social turmoils that have shook Italy since eleven months. From 1969 summer until Christmas, about three hundred million hours per workers had been lost, according to available data, with a net loss, for workers' pockets, of roughly 330 million dollars. The total cost of "Hot Autumn" are considered pretty near to one billion dollars. When one considers that the population amounts to 50 million one discovers that each Italian citizen suffered a loss of 20 dollars during 1969. Unfortunately, strikes are still heavy and general, and from many parts a crisis is expected. The forecasts for our economical weather are dark.

With such a background, we should think that the last twelve months were a true disaster for our music industry, but, although a reduction of sales was reported, the record industry was capable of reaction. Italy had a remarkable drop of single sales, which were good only after Canzonissima and San Remo, with few exceptions like Phonogram's autumn with Johnny Hallyday and Georges Moustaki; but we noted a steady increase in albums figure and the explosion of pre-recorded tapes.

It is a true pity that in Italy it is not possible to have official data about the record market. This fact is probably due to the distrust of the use of such data from many industries, and to lack of professional mind in others. Anyway, according to unofficial information, we may consider that reduction of single sales for normal market was near to 25%, but was over 50% for low price market and covers market. On the contrary, album sales probably increased 20% (for some companies the increase has reached nearly 50%)' and we may think that in Italy the proportion between singles and albums could be 8:1, which is the lowest in the western hemisphere. On prerecorded tapes, we probably have a very good position, in Europe at least, for Italy has two different markets, both in fast expansion. The Philips system is leading, but RCA cartridges had last year a very good increase in sales. The proportion between pre-recorded tapes and albums is, in case of albums and tapes similar in prices, 1:4. But in many cases we discover that an album cannot be sold at a price of 3 dollars, while the same cassette has a market at over 5 dollars!

Classical music has largely helped the development of the album and tape market, and Beethoven's bi-centenary is proving a good promotional medium, but to attain real satisfactory sales we must have a couple of such events each year.

In publishing, the main fact of last twelve months was the end of an era in the administration of mechanical rights. Sedrim, Italian agent of Biem, disappeared and Siae, which was involved only in performing rights, has taken its place. By the way, Siae was already involved in collecting many rights (besides performing) and taxes on books, public entertainment, shows, etc., and it is also a State Agency. This particular position gives to Siae a greater power to inquire and a larger authority to intervene, and that is very important to prevent underhanded sales. We know that record market had a serious drop, but many publishers expect to receive higher figures for mechanical rights. Likely they will not, but this may give an idea of the damage caused by covers and unfair and underhanded sales.

Boheme, 50 years and Ufaton, 40 years . . .

NOVEMBER 1969

German record award 1969 was donated by the magazine "Fono Forum". It is annually found out in autumn in cooperation with "Hi-Fi Stereo" and "Musica" by an independent jury. Records, given in for this competition, had to be released in West Germany during the last 18 months. About 400 records and productions were given in. 35 records, from Mozart to the Beatles, were distinguished. 7 prizes fell to Electrola's share, 6 for Deutsche Grammophon, 4 for Philips and Teldec, 2 for Ariola, CBS. Wergo and harmonia mundi, and even one for Cantate and Baerenreiter. Two prizes fell to the English singer Janet Baker's share, for two Italian cantates by Haendel as well as Mahler's "Lieder eines fahrenden Gesellen" and "Kindertotenlieder" (both Electrola) . . . New chief of CBS records is Rudolf Wolpert. He is the follower of Bernhard Mikulski, who founded the CBS Schallplatten GmbH in Germany in 1963 and made it to one of the most important record firms in Germany . . . The biggest European magazine, the German TV magazine "HOER ZU" (weekly circulation about 4 millions), started a experiment-LP-series named "Black Label." The repertoire based on absolutely modernity in the classical and pop sector and on rarities. "HOER ZU" publishes since years in co-operation with leading German record firms an own LP label.

DECEMBER 1969

Erich Offierowski left his job as leader of pop production with Electrola in Cologne and will work with them as an independent producer . . . Freddy Quinn, one of the most famous hit singers in Germany, got his 12th golden disk from Polydor for his LP "Weihnachten auf hoher See" . . . Teldec offers a new label Resono, which presents German film and tv stars . . . Producer Larry Page founded a new label "Penny Farthing," which is distributed by Phonogram . . . The managing directors of Liberty and Ariola signed a sales contract for the Sunset-Repertoire. Ariola took over the distribution of Sunset in Germany retail trade without all warehouses, supermarkets and mail order houses. Further, Liberty offers the Sunset repertoire to the German record wholesale, the department-stores, supermarkets and mail order houses over their own distributions organization . . .

JANUARY 1970

In Cannes the MIDEM Pop-Music took place and was a great success for the German trade. More than 22 German firms participated and about 120 publishers, record men, journalists, radio- and tv-people attended. But in contrast to other countries only three German authors came to MIDEM: Bert Kaempfer, Michael by Giuseppe Velona, Manager of RiFi's Int'l Dept.

Italian Festivals: A NEW APPROACH

The proliferation of contests and festivals telecast has been one of the most bewildering phenomena in the Italian world of music in the 60's. From the festival of San Remo, which has been, for many years, the prince of festivals on a European scale, we have landed on a myriad of festivals, some of which have lasted the flicker of an eyelash, while others are now established. What have been the negative ends of this proliferation?

First of all, the fact that, according to a general belief, such festivals have to have losers and winners. This inevitably exposes most of the participant artists to the risk of blowing their chances, if they turn out to be losers. As a consequence, the anxiety of offering a product that can be accepted by random juries causes record companies to present songs penned according to a formula of convenience, but that are miles away from the musical reality of the moment.

Secondly, such large TV exposure limits when it doesn't even cancel, the space would be available for TV shows of different kinds that could be produced in a far better way than a festival.

But the most dangerous side of this situation is the utmost difficulty to promote foreign artists. Forced to face such a situation, Italian record companies have no alternative: either they present a foreign artist at a festival, risking his career (in Italy) if, by chance, the artist is not among the winners (and, incidentally, not all the festivals admit foreign artists), or they have to hope for good luck. And nobody forgets that, today, to take part in a festival is very expensive, as the organizers — taking advantage of the TV presence — not only refrain from paying any fee, but exact exorbitant admission and participation charges.

Naturally, also our company has gone through such experiences, has taken its own risks, by bringing to Italy foreign artists (together with their own bands and equipment) and by bearing substantial expenses. We have been lucky and, just from festivals, have drawn (for our Italian and foreign artists) excellent results, being twice the winners of the San Remo Festival, always placing our entries into the finals, winning a "Cantagiro," winning a Venice Festival.

Apparently, we shouldn't have any reason to complain about festivals. However, it was just RiFi, on the initiative of its managing director Giovanni Battista Ansoldi, that has presented to the Italian Association of the Phonographic Industry (AFI) a motion for the retrenchment of contests and festivals, for a more direct cooperation between AFI and the Italian Radio-TV, with the purpose of reorganizing on a new basis the promotional media that TV makes available, with the purpose of offering a fresh and vital product, free from the fear of votes, juries, finals, etc., without risks, without asking Italian record companies to be brave pioneers.

Renouncing a selfish defense of our position as well as of our direct interest, we believe we have developed an action of common benefit for all the Italian Industry, for the artists (domestic or aliens), for catalogues we represent in our country.

OUTPUT OF RECORDS:

The total output of records for the period, January through December 1969 has reached 130,000,000 copies and 60,400,000,000 in value, showing the increase of 23% from previous year. However, output of 45 r.p.m. records remained about the same as the previous year . . . output of 12 inch LP has shown a sudden increase to keep well above the percentage increase of the unit output and sales. It can be said that our record industry has entered on it's new phase.

Monthly output of discs in 1969 has shown the same tendency as in previous years. That is, steady increase in the first part of the year and a tremendous increase during October to December. The share percentage of increase in our market of various discs, 45 r.p.m., 10 inch LP, and 12 inch LP's has shown a drastic changes in 1969. 45 r.p.m. has shown increase of only 3% and value and 9% in value of 21,000,000' 10 inch LP has shown a sudden increase of 300% in 1968 volume and 200% increase in value due to releases of 10 inch LPs by the various book publishers. However, it has shown a decrease of 31% in volume and 45% in value for the year 1969 as compare with the year 1968. The year 1969 has brought phenomenal increase in the output and sales of 12 inch LPs, showing the increase of 44% in volume and 41% in value as compared with the previous year. This remarkable increases in the sales of 12 inch LPs has brought on new demension to our market.

Another important phenomenal changes in the picture of our market is the rapid increase in the output and sales of local products (Japenese originated records). It has shown a steady and noticeable increase in sales since 1966 and have overcome the output and sales of the discs from imported matrics, since then this trend in local products have increased to an tremendous proportion. Today, the ratio of production and sales of local (Japanese) products and imported matrics is about 10 to 2 and shows a steady widening of the ratio gaps. However, in the field of classical music, imported matrics is still far ahead of Japanese classical release. It is interesting to note that foreign of 19%. Number of 12 inch LPs released in 1969 have increased from 1374 in 1968 to 1638 in 1969 as compared with decrease of 40% on Japanese classical from 203 to 302 albums.

OUTPUT OF RECORDED TAPES; CARTRIDGES, CASSETTES:

Recorded tape field have come into it's own in the past year after it was introduced into our market in 1966. It has kept abreast with the development and output of automobile industry, rise of standard of living, completion of many through ways and highways. The output of recorded tapes in 1969 has shown rapid increase and amounts to 20% of the entire sales of recorded music output.

Cartridge Tapes occupys about 90% of the total output and sales. With increased inroad into recorded tape field by the major electric companies, the future of the recorded tapes is very bright and are attracting strong attention.

REVISION OF COPYRIGHT LAW:

A bill of new copyright law which the Government introduced in the Diet this year has passed Houses of Representatives and Councilors in April 1969, and new copyright law will be effective from January 1971. Old copyright law was promulgated in 1890 when Japan became a member of the Berne Convention. Thereafter, partial amendment of the law had been made several times, the old state of the provision is not applicable to the present situation for the practical use of the works to be protected in Japan. Accordingly, the old copyright law was required to be amended in order to meet the requirement of the present times to provide more protection for copyrights. In 1962, the Government submitted the revision of the old copyright law to the Copyright Revision Committee for consideration for through study of the law for revision, and for the possible revision of the Intermediate Service Law concerning Copyrights which is closely related with the practical use of the Copyright Law.

Based on the reports from the Committee in May and October of 1966, the Government have been trying to take up the registration of the Law, concerning "Copyrights", and another "Intermediate Service concerning Copyrights", and both bills were expected to become effective from 1968 upon the approval of the Diet. However, because of the fact that the revision should be a sweeping all-out one and additional regulation of Neighbouring Rights should be newly regulated, it took considerable time in the drafting stage of the Law. Under the above mentioned circumstances, the Government gave up the submission of the bill to the Diet in 1966.

In 1969, the Government introduced the bill for new copyrights law into the Diet. But, it had been shelved at the session which had to take up the problems of Okinawa, Vietnam and other important affair prior to the deliberation of the bill, and carried over to the session of the Diet in 1970. Mainpoints of revisions are;

Although the original bill called for payment of royalties for every commercial use of recorded music by all establishment, it was modified due to the strong pressure from the users as an incidental condition that the licensor must take a cautious attitude for the collection of the fees by mutual understanding between licensor and users. It is said that copyrights royalties will be exempted from the use of recorded music in ordinary coffee shops, bars, stores and other business establishments, but special shops and night clubs designed for the entertainment for customers to listen to music are not exempted.

Considering the length of copyright protection in the world, postmortem duration of copyrights for protection was extended to 50 years from 38 years in response to the long-standing demand from the authors, writers, composers, and copyright owners as well as to the Government requirement to bring the copyright system up to international level.

As Neighboring Rights, the rights of performing artists, record manufacturers and broadcasting stations are strengthened, and these rights are preserved separately.

POPULAR MUSIC:

In 1969, popular music has made inroads extensively into the public through the medium of Radio and Tv. Meiji Confectionery Co. took popularity vote to select the best 30 songs for "Young Japanese Popular Song Artists Festival" which was held at EXPO in May of 1970. They introduced the artists and their hits on a half hour Radio program every weekdays since October of 1969. They also invited the Osmond Brothers to make personal appearance at the Budohkan in December. On the other hand, Nippon Gakki Co. held "Popular Music Festival" at the national park called Nemuno Sato in Shima Peninsula in July 1969.

The popularity vote for "Young Japanese Popular Song Artists Festival" was taken during the 6 months period by the 3 radio stations hook up with TBS, NIPPON and BUNKA with the vote from several million Japanese Popular Song fans. This event was the largest scaled vote getting campaign for Japanese Popular Songs. "Osmond Brothers Concert" drew 15,000 fans at Budohkan, and it has come to light that confectionery company not related to music business such as booking agents, and production companies, has held such music festival and concert. "Popular Music Festival" at Nemuno Sato was held under similar conditions as San Remo Festival, and many leading popular artists, composers, and authors have participated.

A wide variety of Japanese Popular Songs has been found among the best hits of 1969, from "Blue Light Yokohama" sung by Ayumi Ishida, "Hana To Choh" by Shinichi Mori, "Kinjirareta Koi" by Ryoko Moriyama, to "Ikebukuro no Yoru" by Mina Aoe. One of peculiarities of 1969 hit songs was rapid climb on the hit chart. There were many hit records sold over half million copies within one month after their release. The best sellers recordings by the new artists were such as Hide & Rosanna's "Ai no Kiseki," Mariko An's "Kanashimi wa Kakeashide Yattekuru," Kaoru Chiga's "Mayonaka no Guitar," Saori Yuki's "Yoake no Scat." Other recordings reaching the magic circle were "Yoru to Asa no Aidani" sung by Peter, "kurone-ko no Tango" sung by seven years old boy named Osamu Minagawa. Un-expected hits by movie actresses Chinatsu Nakayama and Ruriko Asaoka has brought public attention, and it gave an impetus showing the change of popular song in Japan.

Local groups, playing so called "Group Sounds" has lost popularity among teenagers because of the troubles and changes in the groups, after a five year of the golden period. New Rock, Hard Rock, and R.&B. are gaining popularity due to the strong campaign by the recording companies.

Foreign artist and groups who held performances in Japan during 1969 are: New Christy Minstels in January, Astrud Gilberto in Fexruary, Human Beinz and Sam & Dave in March, Platters, Claudio Villa, Stanley Black & His Orchestra and Pat Boone & Osmond Brothers in April, Xilly Vaugn Orchestra and Nancy Wilson in May, Oscar Peterson Trio, Peggy March, Harbie Mann, Eddie Fisher and Cascades in June, Brothers Four in August, Dizzy Gillespie Quintet, Newport All Stars, Brenton Wood and Frank Ifield in September, Sarah Vaughan, Enrico Macias, Cliff Richard, The Shadows and Carmen Villani in October, Al Bano, Adamo, Alfred Hause and Paul Mauriat Grand Orchestra in November, Gary Lewis & The Playboys, Osmond Brothers, Clara Ward Singers and Brenda Lee in December.

Most of the concerts were an box-office success as compared with the activities of previous year.

Remarkable inroads of big musical programs into TV programs was made in 1969. In the previous year, there were only three programs such as "Song Festival of Home Country" by NHK TV, "Grand Prize Songs" by TBS TV and "Hit Songs of This Week" by Fuji TV. Quarter, half, and one hour musical weekly programs by 6

TV stations in Tokyo were 20 in total 1967 — 1968 season. But, after the change of programing in October of 1968, the figure of weekly musical programs by above 6 stations has jumped to 42 including 10 or more one hour programs. With the increase of TV and radio programs, many hit songs and singers have appeared on these programs. But, due to over exposure, the life of hit songs and sales of recordings have dropped. It is not a rarity to see the same singer singing the same song at the same time on different channel. Main reason of such great advance of music shows on TV and radio program is due to the fact that musical programs can be produced at much lower budget as compared with dramatic programs.

ARGENTINA: The Past 12 Months

As every year we handle the job of describing in a few pages the whole life of the record, publishing and producing industry of Argentina, it becomes increasingly evident that the policy of global information started by Cash Box more than ten years ago foresaw an era of mutual interdependence between markets that were previously completely isolated, and now, entering the seventies, are following the world trends with a delay of only a few days and, in some cases, hours. Only the advent of the jet plane, reducing travelling distance by two thirds if measured in hours, equals the impact of this availability of "instant information" about what's happening in the fifteen or twenty most important places of the five continents, and making it necessary to make decisions involving policies, money and talent so often as to maintain one's company at the pace of the whole International industry.

The 1969/70 period has been outstanding because of many reasons: first of all, it marked the appearance of the independent producer as an institution, after experiments that could be considered as essays or attempts during the previous two or three years: at a certain moment, indie producers dominated about fifty percent of the charts, and a good part of the rest of the local product was, in a way or other, also produced by indies not depending directly on a payroll.

Another reason for excitement was the revelant share of the sales obtained by locat beat music, channeled through beat groups and also by soloists giving it a more or less local flavor, but undoubtedly related to the music and recording techniques coming from Europe, Britain and the States. Unfortunately, the movement was unable to maintain itself at the same level of development of the originals, and its crisis brought a lowering in the total sales of the industry, evident in the first months of 1970, and which hasn't still been recovered, although there are some promising signs for the near future. This decay opened the door for the entry of a strong bunch of American product, headed by Johnny Rivers, Creedence Clearwater Revival and others, and a new kind of hybrid recordings, already tried before, but never in such a scale: Italian songs, by its original artists, in Spanish. This move, led and successfully mastered by RCA, is one of the most significant events in the history of record business in this country, and confirms our statement of the first paragraph: When the San Remo songs appear released in Buenos Aires twenty four hours after the event, and in Spanish, it means that the business is swinging!

The advent of Global TV through the satellite system has also started to influence the record trade, as it could be expected, and it took by surprise some of the manufacturers. Only in May, several months after the start of the system, promotional uses of the device started to appear, with the airing of the Sandro concert at Madison Square Garden, in New York, and a concert by Los Fronterizos in Washington. Of course, there was also the San Remo airing, with the RCA operation already mentioned, but the case was somewhat different. The EVR technique will also change substantially all the known patterns on promotion, sales and talent, and we must hope that the industry will be prepared at that moment (1972?) to face it.

Tapes and cartridges, and mainly cassettes, which received a strong backing from Phonogram and afterwards by other manufacturers, who joined the movement, marked substantial sales for the first time; many developments in this field may be expected for the future, since the industry is rapidly building producing facilities, and on these days Music Hall is adding its new factory to the existing ones. The little availability of good playing equipment is still a strong difficulty, solved partially by the use of cassette recorders as reproducers, which isn't the best way to listen to a cassette. In spite of these troubles, the cassette sales volume is expected to grow by ten fold, in the next three years, by some of the leading manufacturers.

Another factor of growing importance has been the increasing cost of promotion, due to the lack of a real cooperation between the manufacturers and radio stations and disk jockeys — the Top Forty station practically does not exist yet — the scarcity of musical programs on TV that would back recent releases and the little development of other means of promotion, like music festivals, contests and fan magazines and papers. In some cases, the festivals are handled on a non-competitive basis, resulting in artists singing standard tunes to get the biggest possible applause, instead of trying to plug new product. In others, the jury is oriented not on a pop or commercial basis, but on certain musical and artistic qualities, which result on prizes awarded to tunes lacking the necessary "feeling" as to appeal to the crowds. This and other problems are discussed in detail further, in the following paragraphs.

THE MARKET. The total volume of the industry showed a sharp increase during the second part of 1969, with a strong participation of local product, both in the pop and beat field, and a lowering in the proportion of imported songs, to a point where nearly 80% of the songs appearing in the Top Twenty charts were locally produced. After the peak Christmas sales, however, a downfall made everybody look serious, and February and March showed only fairly better results than January, which suffered from the lack of strong Summer hits. April, May and June looked somehow better, but nevertheless, most of the companies had difficulties to reach the budgeted volumes, and cost-cutting ideas were being applied everywhere. The slowdown didn't affect investments, which continued strong, but created nervousness regarding new artists and trends, since it didn't appear clear as to what to do.

There could be many reasons for the slump: the main one could lay on the increased collection of taxes and the anti-inflationary measures taken by the government, which affected the terms of payment and, since the credit had to be maintained at the same level due to the increased investments in equipment and recordings facilities, sales were hurt. However, we feel that the main point is that the local recording movement, in 1969, had been based on locally-produced beat music, of certain quality. This resulted in the absence of new groups, that could develop a new sound in accordance with the new recording coming from abroad: only one exception appeared, the Trio Galleta, and it was suceessful covering artists like Creedence Clearwater Revival or Bill Deal and the Rhondells, but was unable to get a sound of its own.

Another fact that should be kept in mind is that the market is lacking new soloists, since those in the charts (Sandro, Palito Ortega) have been there for several years; no fresh influence has been noticed from new male soloists during these twelve months, and only one female soloist (Tormenta) has reached the Top Ten. This offered renewed possibilities to the foreign soloists singing in Spanish and sometimes even recording local products, but led to little activity in the Buenos Aires studios. This is a paradox in itself: although many recordings by chanters and songstresses are recorded or released every month, most of them don't have enough interest for the disk jockeys as to receive backing. This takes to diskeries to try more and more new waxings, with little better results, instead of concentrating themselves in thinking what could be the gimmick to reach the desired results. In the meantime, the foreign records flourish . . . and have reached nearly 70% of the Top Twenty posts, starting from the modest 20% they had less than one year ago. The record executive in despair will often look at the foreign charts, choose the best-looking items, and release them, as a way to survival. Of course, this won't bring prosperity to an industry based already on a strong percentage of local product, and opening new recording studios and pressing plants every year.

Prices haven't increased as much as in the previous years, due to the already mentioned Government plans to fight inflation. Regular LP's sell for about $4 to $4.30, promotional albums —in most cases carrying a selection of the current hits on singles marketed by the diskery at the time—sell for about $2.80, and budget priced record go from a low of $1.40 to an average of $2; many regular LP's after some time in the high priced category, are labeled under one of the budget collections, even with the same package, and priced at $2. In other cases—folk music from other countries, Classical music—they are directly oriented to this branch of the catalog. Some labels maintain also an intermediate level, also at $2.80, but with a different policy from the one used with the "promotional" albums. Since single prices are at the $1.10 to $1.20 level, it is easy to see that budget albums compete directly with them, and that there is little room left for EP's or Compact 33's, a format that seems to work only for certain artists and kiddie music. It is important to note that the quality of records themselves is mostly the same in the budget, promo and regular albums, and that many dealers practice a budgeting" policy of their own, buying big quantities of records retired from catalogs and selling them for as little as $.60.

The main problem for cassettes and cartridges is their price: they range from nearly $7 in the best of cases to $9 for those cassettes that are wholly imported. This originates a problem with the customers that buy blank cassettes for as little as $2 and $3, and afterwards copy from records. Of course, nothing can be done, but it will be in the interest of the industry to lower prices as to reach a comparable level with records. No counterfeiting has been noticed up to the moment.

Records clubs and discounts aren't very popular now, due to the increase on production costs (and retail); this happens after several years during which it seemed that clubs would gather a good share of the market. As a matter of fact, the practice has been discouraged by the same companies, and gladly accepted by the retailers. One stops or "wholesalers", as they are called here have been gaining force, simply by the fact that they can operate on special discounts offered by the diskeries—partly justified by the volume of purchase, partly by the willingness of sales managers to build a volume and fulfil the budget—and that they offer to small shops the advantage of only one account instead of ten, and faster service in many cases. There are five "wholesalers," and they account for 50% or more of the whole business in some places. The total of sales points may be estimated in 1400, but only 700 of them is important. Supermarkets, having entered the business in the past three years, are also handled in many cases by these wholesalers. As we have mentioned in this column before, the Chamber of Record Producers keeps in secret the actual sales figures, in a decision that has been frequently and severely critizised by the press and even by members of the own Chamber; however, a $3 million monthly figure could be guessed as correct, not counting special products or projects handled by The Readers Digest and others. The sales volume is, as already noted, limited by the distribution system, which has been suffocating the industry for many years; racks haven't been very successful yet and the production has to be channeled through the usual ways, except in the case of Microfon, discussed later.

PUBLISHERS. Times are hard, and they seem to be looking the same for the future, unless a change in the collecting society, SADAIC, happens soon. The main trouble is that there is a delay of many months between the actual happening of the hit and the receipt of the performance money; in some cases, it has amounted to about two years. It can be imagined that it is difficult to invest a strong initial payment in a song, when you expect to recover the money, if you ever do, after three years. Thus, it is easier to concentrate on those tunes that depend on mechanical rights (records) which are paid sooner. In some cases, small companies are even avoiding SADAIC copyrighted tunes, favoring ghost composers or BIEM. A few months ago, a long lasting crisis was apparently solved by the election of Ariel Ramirez as president of the society; in the next months, it will be seen if Ramirez is able to obtain results and improve the collection system, which has been severely discussed in the past. As a point of irony, the composers having their money retained by SADAIC are able to obtain loans, from the society, at a very low interest.

Another matter of change is that, since the composers' royalty amounts to 4% per side, in most cases the artist will earn more money for the hit record (if he composes both tunes) as an author than for his performance. This has created a whole generation of singers-composers, and, consequently, a trend among the diskeries to form their own pubbery and try to control the catalogs most used in the recordings; as a second step, they seek the catalogs used by other diskeries. As a results, the traditional have to limit their operation and expand only very cautiously, merge with a record company or start to produce records by themselves. All the three things have happened here, and it is commented in each case in detail.

If the artist considers to be sufficiently strong as to create a catalog by himself, with the aid of other composers or alone, we have the third possibility. Of course, the existance of these pubberies may be limited to the career of the artist, but the group of songs may be always sold to some other organization, and the cost of maintaining a publishing outfit is rather low; no pubbery of this sort has closed till now.

As before, the percentage allowed to the pubbery on the composer's rights is only 25, against the usual international standard of 50 or, at least 33%. This is reflected on little investment on the tune from the publisher, and puts this branch of the industry in the position of an appendix of the record companies. The low performance rights from TV and radio stations, and the existance of few music spots (apart from the Carnival dance parties, a seasonal phenomenon) where performance royalties could be collected in big scale, have marked the decline, as a whole, of the publishing industry as an independent institution, like it was ten or twenty years ago.

PROMOTION. The situation has changed little during the past 12 months. We may recall that there are 16 radio stations in Buenos Aires, about 50 more in the rest of the country (the biggest cities, Cordoba, Rosario and Mendoza, have although in a commercial way and allowing them to run independently during nearly 100% of the time. There is also an official network, Radio Nacional, which works mostly with folk, tango and Classical music, and does not count very much for pop music promotion. The number of TV channels is increasing steadily, but not in Buenos Aires, where there are five. Cordoba, Mendoza, Mar del Plata and Rosario have two channels each, and the total amounts to about fourty. The programming is originated mostly in Buenos Aires, and aired through video tape. Special events allow for a direct connection between Buenos Aires, Mar del Plata, Rosario and Santa Fe, and in the future will link several other points, but this is not used very often because of the cost. The filming of short features, with a song by one or two artists, is a custom not too extended yet, due to the cost and limited possibilities for airing.

Music Festivals have been also increasing in amount and force, although from the promo viewpoint they are in most cases severely limited by their non-competitive nature (most of the top artists refuse to appear unless they are granted an award) or the criteria of selection, which is not sales-oriented. The two events which resulted in strong sales took place in November, and were the Festival Buenos Aires and a song contest organized by the City of Buenos Aires. As it usually happens, it wasn't the winning song, at both places, the one which afterwards reached top sales, but two of the losing finalists. The array of folk music shows that are placed in the provinces during the summer season didn't result, as it was expected, in new names of commercial value. Last April, Channel 13 of Buenos Aires started, with the cooperation of four of the major labels, a song contest, which hasn't yet finished.

ARTISTS. As we mentioned before, no leading artists have appeared during this period, although some of the old names have lost their attraction, resulting a lack of top artists that has had to be filled with foreign names. As it has always happened, there are no barriers for singers and groups of other countries and their performances, and the Carnival dance parties are the best season for them, due to the high fees that are paid for each 25 minute performance.

In the soloist field, Sandro has been the number one, with a strong attraction not only in Argentina but also in the rest of the Latin American markets, and in the Spanish-speaking parts of the United States, where he appeared at the Madison Square Garden. Palito Ortega didn't shine as high as during the previous years, but nevertheless stays at the top level and his TV appearances have obtained a 23 plus points rating, on Channel 13. Leonardo Favio rated under his performance of the previous period, but still appeared consistently among the top sellers. Carlos Javier Beltran, a newcomer, got good sales, as did chanter Piero, who returned to the scene after several years of absence with two strong sellers. Among the girls, only Tormenta a newcomer, deserved strong attention. There are at least two good duets, Fedra y Maxi- which will represent all Deutsche Grammophon labels and Liberty/UA artists . . . "MPS-classic-serie" and "Session," two new labels which were taken over by MPS . . . The generally known American music publishing concern Chappell is no longer represented by the August Seith music publishing houses in Munich. The new German publication manager Dr. Michael Mueller-Blattan opened a Chappell office in Hamburg . . . As first German firm Phonogram Ton, Hamburg, published double MusiCassetts with more than 80 minutes music which are 10 DM (approx. 3 dollars) cheaper than the normal two ones . . . AEG Telefunken-Decca, Berlin, demonstrated a new video-store system . . . Peter Kirsten founded beside his firms Global-Musik, Fanfare and Altus the Fund of Music company which is for distribution of background music for all purposes. The record office includes more than 25,000 titles also from American and English firms.

In Munich the 19th International Music Competition of the Germar broadcasting stations will take place from the 1st till 18th of September 1970. The competition, among artists from all over the world, will feature vocal music, piano, harpsichord, flute and string quartet participants. For more detailed information, write: Internationaler Muikwettbewerb, 8 Muenchen 2, Bayerischer Rundfunk Last period for registration is on July 1, 1970 . . . In Germany the Musicassetts business gets more and more important. As a computer has calculated, in 1973/74 the sales will assimilate to the sales of LP's. Till 1972 the cassette sales shall run to more than 17 millions. Therefore in the future a rapid upward movement on the tape deck and cassette sector can surely be expected. It is prophesized that before the end of this decade 40-50% of the total turnover will be made on the sector of Musicassetts . . . Seven North European countries has planned to hold off in the beginning of August a pop-in on the Isle of Helgoland in the North Sea. Participants are Germany, Holland, Belgium, Great Britain, Denmark, Norway and Sweden. The programs then would be broadcast daily over several stations. First class beat groups from all participating countries will take part. The pop-in will end on the 15th of August with a three hour show, with all countries taking part . . . On the 4th of July, the supertour of Udo Juergens will be finished. This tour runs over ten month and includes 222 concerts. It is the biggest concert tour, which ever has been made in the whole world . . . Rudi Slezak, managing director of the music publishing companies controlled by the Robert Stigwood Organisation Ltd. since 1967, has decided not to renew his agreement with the Stigwood Organisation. The first foreign companies to be represented by Rudolf Slezak Musikverlag were Dratleaf Limited and Abigail Music (London) . . . The Rolling Stones concerts are scheduled for the 18th of September in Cologne, 20th in Berlin, 22nd in Hamburg, 24th in Munich and in the beginning of October in Frankfurt and Essen . . . Another festival of 100,000 in Hamburg and Berlin is planned by the German organizers Hans-Werner Funke and Lippmann Rau after the example of the big festivals in Woodstock and of the Isle of Wight in autumn. If wil become a supermeeting of leading English and American pop groups. Scheduled dates are the 30th of August in Berlin and the 4th of September in Hamburg . . . The German trade looks good in the future. They are sure that in the face of MusiCassetts and the coming video cassetts the record turnover — especially on the LP sector — will increase. During a stay in Germany Cash Box president George Albert briefly discussed the German market situation as follows:

"The German market, like every other market, has developed and increased in the past 15 years since we originally in Cash Box had started the international complex of the world. As a trade publication we have been the pioneers in development of creative material for the whole world. Germany has been the first market which has developed to such a great degree and expand so that it became one of the major markets of the entire world. Their materials have been expanded to all the other major markets. They have changed; they have imported, exported and they have created and been a tremendous contribution to the music and the entertainment world through their continual growth in this market."

miliano (with several entries) and beat duet Juan y Juan, breaking into the charts lately with a single and seeming to have a good potential for 1970.

Beat groups held the greatest slice of the market, and many of them reached the Top Twenty and appear among the top sellers of the year. Some of the names are Los Naufragos, La Joven Guardia, Los Gatos, Almendra, Manal, Los Walkers, Trocha Angosta, Pintura Fresca, Septima Brigada, Piel Tierna, Carlos Bisso y Conexion Numero Cinco, and others, ranging from a straight approach with a language much alike the slang used in Buenos Aires to experiments in psychedelia.

As a whole, however, it is interesting to mention that the individual force of the artists decreased during these twelve months, to the point where most of the top selling albums in May and June 1970 were formed with a selection of the hit tune by each of these artists, rather than by twelve songs by one artist or group.

From the foreign visitors, the biggest hit was undoubtedly Spanish chanter Joan Manuel Serrat, who produced an explosion with his tunes and was forced to return a couple of months after his first appearance and schedule several others for the near future. Two LP's and several singles headed the way to the charts, and there is big interest towards the new production by this artist. Spanish chanter Dyango obtained also a very strong success, via personal appearances and through a selected way of recording tunes suitable for this market. Another top name from Spain, Raphael, also sold very well after some time of unavailability of his records because of his lawsuit against Hispavox, which finally won it. Italian artists like Nicola De Bari, Jimmy Fontana, Gabriella Ferri, Nada and Sergio Endrigo have been also very popular, and the same may be said about Gianni Morandi, Lucio Dalla and Rita Pavone. From the Latin area, the leading artist has been Venezolan chantress Mirtha Perez, and one more Spanish artist: flamenco star Peret.

As for American and British artists, the biggest sellers have been Johnny Rivers, Creedence Clearwater Revival, Bill Deal and The Rhondells, Led Zeppelin and of course The Beatles and The Rolling Stones. Soul artists like Aretha Franklin, Wilson Pickett and Otis Redding also ranked high, with steady but consistent popularity; Herb Alpert and his Tijuana Brass had a good comeback after his Singer Special was aired on TV.

How much did a hit mean? During these twelve months, top smashes could reach the 150,000 mark, both in the singles and LP field. Good regular hits averaged between 80,000 and 110,000, and a "strong" record should not sell less than 50,000. For LP's, figures could be a 20%. Resulting artist fees for TV and public performances can amount to $1,000 for top artists and hits, $500 to $800 after or before the summit. In general, top artists are avoiding TV exposure, and a good example is set by Palito Ortega: he usually appears on television about twelve times a year, stars on two or three spectaculars, and does only one appearance in person in the year, generally during Carnival. For the interior of the country he arranges a tour that lasts two months, once a year. Other groups like Los Iracundos prefer to spend most of the time in the interior, and usually do not appear on TV at all. The same applies to those with a strong disk image, who try to avoid the cameras.

THE TRADE

CBS RECORDS — The company enjoyed record sales through the smashes by solo chanter Sandro, with titles like "Asi", "Penumbras" and "Se Te Nota", and two LP's, beat music group Los Naufragos: "Zapatos Rotos", "Yo on Mi Casa, Ella en el Bar," Leonardo Favio and folk artists Jorge Cafrune and Roberto Rimoldi Fraga. In April the company stopped its production plant to allow the building of new facilities. The launching of the new (for Argentina) label Epic, under the management of Douglas Taylor, marked the development of new markets for the diskery, along with the increase of releases under the Harmony low-priced logo. Harold Morris named John Lear as general manager, Roberto Aguado as commercial manager and Hugo Piombi as top A&R man in November, as part of a revamping of the diskery. The policy of the label was to intensify local releases, counting on producers Techeiro, Figueroa Reyes and Francis Smith, responsible for many hits.

DISC JOCKEY — The Rodriguez Luque-directed diskery based its operation mainly on the exploitation of the French Barclay, Spanish Vergara and British Major-Minor labels, and the marketing of beat music groups and soloists as Pintura Fresca and Carlos Javier Beltran. There is also a regional music branch, designed for the markets of the interior, sometimes with a cover of International hits with a local flavor, and also an eye on the melodic music market through artists like Chilean top seller Rosamel Araya and local star Pepito Perez. One of the biggest hits of the season was Peret, who came to Buenos Aires for appearances at the Mau Mau discotheque in April.

EMI SUPPLIERS — The newest big diskery in Argentina, it was originated by a decision of Odeon — the EMI Ltd representative in this country — to open a branch that would operate independently with the labels that Odeon was unable to service at its best in this country. Starting from nothing less than three years ago, the Juan Carlos Menna-directed diskery has reached a 10% share of the market, expanding itself into other markets like poetry, jazz and distribution of other labels. The latest acquisition was the representation of Belter, which folded as an indie after several years of struggling; Dunhill, previously represented by RCA, was also acquired during this period.

FERMATA PRODUCTIONS — The main effort of the diskery was the moving to a four-story building, out from its old offices on San Martin Street, and the huge investment required to relocate all the publishing and record-distributing facilities. The year was devote to an increase of local recordings, involving the contracting of local pop and Classical music talent like Las Trillizas de Oro, the Melos Ensemble of Buenos Aires, poet-singer Anzoategui, chanter Ricardo Ceratto and others. The international connections were improved through several trips to the States and Europe paid by Lebendiger from Brazil, which put Fermata on a competitive basis for all the changes in the International scene that have been taking place during the recent past.

MICROFON — The diskery changed somewhat his policy of previous years, orienting itself towards the budget market and its unexploited possibilities, ranging from tie-ins with magazines to direct mail selling. The company moved to new headquarters, on Sarmiento 1983, and revamped its organization, starting new series and relabeling part of its product, with excellent results and a strenghthening of its position in the market, without depending too much on a single chart hit. The contracting of radio emcee Julio Marbiz folk music producer brought in artists like Los Quilla Huasi and Los Huanca Hua, and helped to better use the talent of names like Chacho Santa Cruz. On the tango side the diskery's main artist is Virginia Luque, whose LP devoted to Enrique Santos Discepolo sold very well.

ODEON — The diskery has one of the biggest hits of the year in Spanish chanter Joan Manuel Serrat, and also profited from the strong sales obtained by nearly all the Beatles and Rolling Stones recordings released and mainly the albums "Abbey Road" and "Pentagon," which appeared among the top attractions of the year. In the local field there were good results with Trio Galleta, folk chanter Coco Diaz, tropical music group Los Wamanco and, of course, the large catalog of standard tango music, which includes Carlos Gardel and other big stars, and the folk music albums recorded by Atahualpa Yupanqui and others. The appointing of Denis Dunn as Top A&R man brought new strength to the chart action of the label, and an increase in the market share held by it.

PHONOGRAM — The hit of the season, from the point of view of the charts, and mainly in the first months of 1970, when a string of smashes allowed the three main labels distributed by Phonogram (Philips, Polydor and Atlantic) to invade the Top Twenty, pushed by a dinamic indie producer organization and a fresh approach to the handling of young artists like Elio Rocam that had been already with the label for several years but never at their full potential. In the folk music field, the naming of Cesar Isella as man in charge of developing new talent brought also good results. The company has also pioneered cassettes and improved susbstantially its distributing and recordings facilities, and will start building new studios next year, in its own building, which is prepared for this. The acquisition of Korn Publishers brought the necessary backing and allowed to combine efforts in both fields and improve results. One of the leaders in the export of local music, through the Philips and DGG organizations in Europe, where several recent recordings by Ariel Ramirez and other artists have been released.

PRODISA — A diskery oriented mainly to the big sound and orchestra recordings, has been also profiting from the increase in cassette and cartridge sales, and a steady development in the stereo music market, where Prodisa is strongly represented through the Command, Project Three and Monument catalogs. Jorge Cesar Esperon its manager, has been operating on the basis of luxury-printed jackets and unmatchable pressing, and has been able to obtain both good sales on certain singles (like Tommy Roe) and albums of permanent value.

RCA — The most aggresive attitude in the whole industry, battling always

FRANCE- The Past 12 Months

JUNE: J. C. Michel came in No. 1 in LP charts. J. C. Michel is probably the biggest French LP seller. All during the year, his success will increase . . . A strike keeps on paralysing the ORTF: musicians boycott the French radio station over a matter of salary . . . At the same time, there are more and more talks about a ban from the radio stations over American and British records. Though never official this ban will soon become obvious on at least two of the three leading radio-stations . . . Georges Moustaki still No. 1 on the singles scene closely followed by "Oh Happy Day" which is to become a smash hit . . . Also selling in large quantity, "Oh Lady Mary" which will eventually top the million mark in sales ("Oh Lady Mary" was released on an E.P.) . . . Jean-Jacques Tilche (at the time head-producer at Philips) comes back from a short trip to America where he met many record-business personalities . . . Another big hit Michel Polnareff and "Tous Les Bateaux, Tous Les Oiseaux" . . . Claude Tabet launches the new-look "Festival Of The Two Roses" in Antibes. Appearing at this festival: Peter Holm, Anne Vanderlove, Serge Lama, Nicole Croisille, Gilles Dreu . . . Pathe launches a new label Xenon, directed by Gerard Manset and Etienne Roda-Gil: first release a hit: "Chimene" by Rene Joly . . . The Beach Boys in Paris . . . CBS starts out its big summer contest under the label Pop-Music revolution. This contest will be run with the help of record retailers.

JULY: Philips preparing an intensive summer campaign. All the big names with Philips will participate . . . Polydor staging a Musicorama at the Olympia in Paris with Richie Havens as top name . . . Still best sellers: "Oh Lady Mary" by D. A. Winter, "Le Meteque" by G. Moustaki, "I Want To Live" by the Aphrodite's Child and "Oh Happy Day" by the Edwin Hawkins Singers . . . First names for the Antibes Jazz Festival revealed: Nina Simone, John Lee Hooker, Miles Davis, Oscar Peterson, Ella Fitzgerald . . . CBS getting Michel Fugain and Marcel Amont . . . On the professionnal side: things are moving a lot: Roger Ribeyre and Jean Georgeieff are leaving Vogue to set at their own promotion company. They will soon be replaced by Jean Peigne. Janine Gery about to leave Barclay to come back to Polydor where she will head with Jean Distinghuin the promotion department. At Polydor Andre Poulain (international manager) leaves to join CBS. He is replaced by Pierre Sberro who has just come back from London. Still at Polydor, Monique Fay is leaving to join Decca in September as head of the promotion. With her she takes Michele Grelbin. Evelyne Baudry also leaving Polydor as well as (soon after) Nicole Hornez . . . La chambre syndicale des Editeurs de musique legere has voted: President of its bureau: Rolf Marbot (Semi) vice-president: Georges Roquieres (Chappell) . . . Baboo, the publishing company headed by Alain Boublil celebrating its first anniversary.

AUGUST: As usual, everything closes down in France for the summer. Yet soon everybody will have to admit that records now sell over a large period of time: witnesses: all the big summer hits started to sell long before the summer: Johnny Hallyday "Que Je T'Aime" Michel Polnareff "Tous Les Bateaux, Tous Les Oiseaux" - Georges Moustaki "Le Meteque" - Aphrodite's Child "I Want To Live" - Edwin Hawkins Singers "Oh Happy Day" . . . The case of the summer hit seems dead.

SEPTEMBER: Philips holding its annual convention at the Hilton Hotel in Paris: From 1953 till 1969, the annual turnover has been multiplied by 14. Biggest aim: multiply its annual turnover between 1953 and 1973 by 20. Looks like they are going to make it . . . Claude Pascal who started recently his own music publishing company, started out with two hits: "Love Maestro for the first place in the charts and developing TV, radio and newspaper promotion through a fast moving advertising dept. headed by Carlos Garbarino. Adolfo Pino, in charge of the general management, increased action in the publishing field, through the Relay affiliated outlet, headed by Beatriz Lupo, and opened the way into artists management in May, under the direction of Charlie Levy Leroy. Top country artists like Los Iracundos, folk stars like Jose Larralde and Los Charchaleros, and active moving in the tango field through Aquiles Giacometti. The diskery re-opened the trend towards selection albums and launched the block release technique, marketing ten LP's at the same time under a strong advertising campaign. The handling of the MCA, Groove, Tamla-Motown and Jubille catalogs gave also several strong sellers, and among them The Cuff Links, Sam Shay and others.

SICAMERICANA — Operating in the budget and medium price fields, with the biggest collection of Classical music and folk standards selling for about $2.20, on a large scale. Present in the charts through the Hispavox star Raphael, locally recorded Venezolan star Mirtha Perez, several beat groups and artists from the States under the Reprise label and from Britain under Pye. Opened recently a cassette and cartridge producing factory, new studios and importing new and up-to-date equipment for these facilities. Expansion plans include new stories for its building, and the acquisition of more representation rights. Also working hard on the export of locally-produced music to other Latin American and Spanish-speaking countries.

INDEPENDENT RECORD PRODUCERS — The biggest and most important of them is Ricardo Kleiman, one of the top disk jockeys of the country, who a few years ago decided to get into the business and has now been producing deals with several labels, a publishing outfit and an artist managing agency. Kleiman's hits are based on the cover of American and European hits and on the deep observation of the likes and dislikes of the Argentine teenagers; the records usually apply the current slang words most used by the youth and the tunes, in most of the cases especially composed (if local) have even obtained string success in other countries and have been translated to English and French.

Litto Nebbia is also an example of the young chanter and composer who believes in a certain sort of music; after starting several years ago with the Los Gatos Group, credited with several golden records, he started a career as a soloist, then joined once more the Los Gatos Group, which had travelled to the States, and now produces their records and also other groups like Los Mentales, besides writing and singing his own production.

Palito Ortega, who started as a singer and author, has been able to develop a whole entertainment complex, with his own pubbery, a record producing outfit and an artist managing agency, with plenty of international action. He also writes and produces his own TV shows, and has been one of the main factors in the success of artists like Los Tios Queridos and Freddy Tadeo. Has also built a career as cinema actor, and plans to enter the European market in the near future, taking part at several song festivals and having his songs translated to English, French and German.

FRANCE: The Past 12 Mos.

Please" by Sheila and "Azuro" by Regine . . . Serge Gainsbourg causing a lot of noise with his erotic record: "Je T'Aime Moi Non Plus" banned in many countries and yet selling like hot cakes Philips who had the original recording of the song dropped it and now Gainsbourg's hit is on Disc'Az . . . Musidisc buying le Club Francais du Disque with a catalogue of over 400 different LP's . . . Official: Pathe Marconi now releasing in France the United Artists and Liberty labels directed by Eddie Admis. Eddie Adamis can now concentrate his work on one outlet instead of two since until now Philips was releasing the United Artists label . . . Records enjoying very important sales for the first six months, of the year: "Que Je T'Aime" by Johnny Hallyday and "Alors Je Chante" by Rika Zarai topping the summer sales . . .

OCTOBER: CBS reports a raise in sales of 76% from May 1968 to April 1969 . . . Jack Robinson securing the Creedence Clearwater Revival catalogue for France under his publishing company: Criterion . . . Gerard Meys has signed Isabelle Aubret to his record label . . . Philippe Thomas (Musidisc) strongly takes position against the hit parade compiled by the CIDD . . . LP's are definitely selling more and more, following thus a worldwide trend . . . Following the devaluation of the Franc, exports seem to be more important these last few weeks. Pathe for instance registered a 20% rise in export sales. Polydor puzzled about the path to follow regarding its very important import from Germany. Records cost more and more and yet the French Government strictly forbids any raise in the prices . . .

NOVEMBER: Jean-Jacques Tilche now head of Edition Tutti. Pierrard left Tutti with Max Amphoux to start their own Allo Music . . . "Adieu Jolie Candy" by J. F. Michael the surprise hit of the year. A real sleeper. It start-

BRAZIL: The Past 12 Months

JUNE

The main event of this month has been the Latin America RCA Convention, an important reinforcer of the interchange of recordings and artists among all Latin-American countries. In this well organized gathering, some of the best recording artists from the following countries performed: Brazil, Colombia, Chile, Bolivia, Peru, Argentina, Mexico, Equador, Uruguay, El Salvador, Puerto Rico, Italy, Spain and the U.S.A. The show had its highlights in the participation of Os Incriveis, Fabio and Antonio Marcos. Donald, from Argentina was the big surprise, with his musicality and informal manner. The foreign delegates were very appreciative of Os Originais do Samba, typically Brazilian ensemble. Present at the event were Mr. Vias Jr., (Regional Manager for Latin America-Recording Division), Mr. Jones (President of R.C.A. of Brazil) and Mr. Jackson (Vice-President of R.C.A. for Latin America).

JULY

After having headed for twenty years several departments of the biggest diskeries in this country, Alfredo Corletto leaves his position as manager of Public Relations and Promotion for R.C.A. Victor and become its artistic director.

The Associacao Brasileira dos Produtores de Fonogramas (Brazilian Association of Disk Producers) has a new staff of elected members in its Directing Council: Joao Rabmi (from Cassio Muniz S.A.) is the President; Hans P. Beugger (from Industrias Electrica e Musicais Fabrica Odeon S.A.) David W. Jones (RCA S.A.) and Antonio Pinheiro da Silva (Discos CBS S.A. are the directors; Sebastiao R. Bastos is the new executive director.

Chantecler diskery has imported some very important classical international music from the USSR (Mezhduranodnaya Kniga), USA (Decca) and Italy (Ricordi).

AUGUST

Marcos and Paulo Sergio Valle, the famous brothers, have launched a new LP: "Mustang Cor de Sangue ou um Corcel cor del Mel," which features several potential hits such as: "Mustang Cor de Sangue", "&0s dentes Branco do Mundo" and "Evangelho Segundo San Quentin". Marcos Valle has performed in the U.S.A., where he lived for 2 years.

The Chantecler classical music imports are selling at such a rate that this diskery is planning on bringing a whole new series from foreign countries and on promoting Brazilian artists. The success of this initiative was quite surprising since the Brazialian public for this kind of music is quite small.

SEPTEMBER

The most important event in September was the IVth International Fest of the Popular Song, which took place in Rio, from September 25 to October 6. The headquarters were at Hotel Gloria and the shows were held at Maracanazinho, a stadium turned into an enormous theater. This fest is especially known for its uninhibited and involved audience, which applauds deliriously any music it appreciates and boos mercilessly anything that doesn't suit its whims. In the national phase, the popular vote chose: 1 — Cantiga por Luciana by Edmundo Souto and Paulinho Tapajos; 2 — Razao de Paz Para Nao Cantar by Edmundo Lage and Alesio de Barros; 3 — Juliana by Antonio Adolfo and Tiberio Gaspar. The jury voted: 1 — Cantiga Por Luciana; 2 — Juliana; 3 — Visao Geral by Cesar Costa Filho, Ruy Mauriti and Ronaldo Monteiro de Souza. As to the International phase, the popular vote chose: 1 — Cantiga Por Luciana (Brazil); 2 — Love Is All (Great Britain) by Les Reed and Barry Mason; 3 — Evie (USA) by Jimmy Webb. The jury voted: 1 — Cantiga Por Luciana; 2 — Evie; 3 — Love Is All.

OCTOBER

Right after the IVth International Popular Song Fest in Rio, a hard cover LP with many songs of the National Phase was launched by CBD (Philips) — a live recording. Following this, the same disker, also with the Philips label, put into the market an LP with 13 of the 40 competing songs of the International Phase.

Fermata diskery also launched an LP with several Fest songs of the National and Interational phases.

RCA put forth Martinho da Villa's "Madrugada. Carnaval e Chuva," which competed in the IV International Fest, in a single compact which is expected to hit it just as his LP did.

NOVEMBER

The just released sound track of the film "Capitaes da Areia," based on the novel by Jorge Amado, features the well-known Eliana Pittman singing Dorival Caymmi's composition.

"Love Is All" sung by Malcolm Roberts in the Rio Song Fest (3rd place) is the hit parade leader in Sao Paulo, after an extremely fast rise. This is a Fermata launching, published by RCA. RCA released an LP with Os Incriveis. Philips showed its new catalogy which included the first LP by their new artist, ChicoBuarque de Holanda who will be sending composition from Italy.

The heads of Continental Records Alberto Jackson, Byington Neto (President), Miguel Gomez Campodarve (Superintendent) and Wilson Rodrigues Poso (Commercial Manager), visited the USA and Latin America and wound up with the representation for Continental of two American labels and the launching of 15 Brazilian productions in foreign countries.

DECEMBER

RCA hosted a cocktail in honor of Martinho Da Villa ("Quem E do Mar Nao Enjoa") and Nilton Cesar ("Ferias na India"), and both were awarded with a golden record, Fermata released an LP of Vanity Fare. The launching was quite successful and opened up to the English group the Brazilian market, that usually record

Elis Regina also awarded with the prize "Governor of the State". Philips launched the LP "Jorge Ben vai bem" a hitter by the famous artist who was so successfully applauded in MIDEM.

Two Brazilian singers very successful at MIDEM - Jorge Ben and Wilson Simonal.

AUSTRALIA - The Past 12 Mos.

The Record Ban:

At this time each year it is generally encouraging to report the continued steady growth of the recording industry Down Under; this year however the entire Aussie scene is hidden under a dark cloud, called for want of a better word; The Record Ban. No one thought it would actually come to pass; not one that is, except those executives at the very head of the dispute. But what has come to pass is the record industry's "blackest year". The disasterous state of affairs as it now stands, means that none of the one hundred and fourteen commercial radio stations in this country playing records originating out of English or Europena countries. Worse still, only a handful of local Australian records are being aired.

Each and every one of the stations aligned with the Commercial Federation of Broadcasting Stations (FACB) are involved, and are programming only American-originated discs. The nation-wide network of government-owned stations operated by the Australian Broadcasting Commission are not affected by the ban because they already pay an annual fee to the record companies for performance rights. (Also exempt from the present dispute are television stations and juke box operators.)

The broadcasters (FACB) are holding their ground, refusing to pay; and indications are that they will not relent.

Since the dispute came into effect a month ago, the Federation has supplied master lists of records (mainly American) to the stations, which are regarded as "safe" to play on air. We use the term "safe", because it is only American records which do not constitute an infringement of a new Copyright Act passed last year by Federal Parliament giving the record companies the right to seek a fee of up to a maximum of 1% of the total revenue earned by broadcasting stations. Cash Box understands that the manufacturers (ARMA) are asking for only ½%, which would amount to somewhere in the vicinity of $370,000 (Australian) per year.

Aussie stations look as though they will be sporting the "All American Sound" for some time to come. The broadcasters stress that the record companies forced them into dropping the records in question because of an unjust levy. (The radio industry already pays an amount close to $740,000 to the Australian Performing Rights Association (APRA), but this is for direct payment of composer's royalties.)

Broadcasters believe that they provide invaluable publicity for the record industry, claiming that proof of this is the fact that sales of English and local Australian discs are now in rapid decline. Key commercial broadcasters in capital cities across the nation have suspended printing and publication of their hit charts which have been an important part of the scene here for some years, to say nothing of the good-will they have provided for individual stations.

The far-reaching effects of this dispute cannot be stressed too strongly, and the side-issues affecting record manufacturers are as important as they are numerous.

High on the list must surely be the big drop in over the counter sales . . . few people buy records they've never heard before. Most English/European records issued here by the major distributors enjoyed a large share of popularity in air-play and sales until last month; now they look like taking the biggest knock of all. English artists who realise the potential of the market here are up in arms because most of them, being as they are on long-term overseas contracts, are powerless to switch to an independent company.

Few people in this country dispute the fact that radio exposure is imperative for a record's success on the popularity-sales charts, and the "familiarity" patter where the top hits are played every hour or so is the current policy on most Australian air outlets.

Australian artists affected by the dispute are even more aware of its consequences than their European counter-parts. Top stars like Johnny Farhnam, Normie Rowe and Ronnie Burns realise only too well the disastrous effects the ban is having on their careers.

Most of them work regularly on television shows, but all agree that it's the consent radio exposure that keeps them in demand. (Ex-Seekers girl Judith Durham for example, sings with A&M Records in the States so she is un-affected by the ban.) With their careers hanging in the balance, several top names have felt strongly enough about the present state of affairs to contact the Federal Attornye-General, requesting him to intervene on their behalf.

Many top disk names have told Cash Box that they have not been officially informed by the record companies to which they're contracted.

Understandably they're hopping mad and plans are under way to hold a nation-wide meeting of recording artists to voice an offician protest and to decide a further course of action.

So now the diskeries have to face the fact that most of their big star names are planning to part company with them as soon as their contracts expire. Some artists, not on watertight agreements have already left to join the handful of independent labels that have sprung up.

It is these independents who are really coming into their own; they're not involved in the dispute simply because they are not demanding royalties. One such independent has no less than eight singles represented on the best seller lists. The loss of revenue from locally-produced records is not the only worry facing the big disc companies. They are even more concerned about the independents ever-increasing practise of using their newly-signed talent to record big hits from America and Europe. The indies get hold of a fast flying hit from America and record their own version with-in a few days, thereby short-circuiting the major distributors who hold the rights to the original master. This so-called practise of "cover versions" was all the rage here fifteen years ago when the top forty format first came into being, but the cover versions now being produced in Australia are not just cheap imitations; they are very often top-class works in their own right.

Contributing to the success of the cover version is the copyright regulation that forbids any broadcaster to play an imported record until a period of seven weeks has elapsed since the disc was first issued in its country of origin.

Australia
The Past 12 Months

As reported some weeks back, this regulation has never really been enforced, but it now seems likely that the major disc concerns will use it to the full in an effort to block the broadcasters. The regulation originally came into being because stations were, and still are to this time, receiving imports so quickly and getting them to air far in advance of record companies receiving their copies.

The imports often receive heavy radio saturation, whereupon a large slice of actual disc sales is lost by the time the record company gets the disc to the local market.

Locally-produced cover versions do not come under this restriction and can be broadcast within the seven week embargo period. So it can be seen that "cover" versions of overseas originals have every chance possible chance of gaining acceptance with radio station programmers and the buying public many weeks before an imported hit has the chance of being heard. The major companies have still bigger problems on their hands. With no end to the dispute in sight, some influential factions are going ahead with plans to move into the record producing business themselves. One such company will bring together the Herald and Weekly Times Ltd; the Macquarie Broadcasting Network, and a Sydney-based television station ATN Channel Seven. Several other key broadcasting concerns also have plans well in advance in this regard. These new companies will operate to the obvious detriment of established record companies. But it must also be understood that if it were not for the established companies insistance in enforcing the new Copyright regulation in the first place; there would be no need for rival companies to come into being at all.

Competition is of course a good thing, but many people involved in the industry find it regrettable that new, relitively inexperienced factions should have been allowed to spring up out of the present dispute.

These new interests while concerning themselves initially with local production on the home-front, will no doubt have plans to enter into franchise arrangements with overseas outlets for the manufacture and marketing of overseas records throught Australia. This latter point is naturally of increasing concern to the established record companies.

We made mention earlier of the fact that television stations are not affected by the dispute. Many record executives feel that in the light of the present radio shut-down on their local and English material, television could be an important outlet for exposure of product. Several reports claim disc programmes are in the wind, and this form of exposure could well result in the discovery of a completely new disc promotion medium.

What with our population growing so rapidly and the ever-increasing demands of a keen record-buying public, it may not be such a dark cloud hanging over the Australian scene as was first thought. No matter what the eventual outcome of this business, the winds of change are definately beginning to blow, and one can perhaps forecast a bigger and brighter future stemming out of what is undoubtedly a tragic and to many, unnecessary dispute.
